WILL FIGHT TO ELECTION EVE

Chairman Babcock Will Wage Battle to End of the Struggle.

CONGRESS IS SAFE

Says House Will Surely Be Republican, but Cautions Against Over-Confidence.

ATTENTION TO WEST VIRGINIA

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.

Chairman Babcock of the Republican National Congressional committee spoke confidently today of the outlook for Republican success in November, yet, like National Chairman Cortelyou, he advised against the danger of over-confidence.

Mr. Babcock has been bothered for some weeks by a newspaper report to the effect he had given up hope of a Republican majority in the next house. He has denied the report half a dozen times, but he said today the Democrats were circulating it even now in various parts of the country.

"I have never said, and never thought we were in danger of losing the house," he declared. "All I ever said was our fight this year would be somewhat more difficult, owing to factional contests in the Republican organization in certain localities.

"The situation has been improving ever since I came to New York, and it is today very satisfactory. The great danger is in over-confidence. Republicans generally are disposed to say the campaign is done already, while Democrats are saying it is no use trying to do anything.

The Unexpected Might Happen.

"If we simply say the thing is done and there's no need of doing anything more, something unexpected might happen to us. I learned, the first time I ran for the legislature in Wisconsin, that it never does to feel confident until the votes are all in and counted.

"Everyone said I was all right and no work had to be done to elect me. So we all pitched in to help two fellows on the ticket who were regarded as weak candidates. Well, when the vote was counted, we found each of them had been elected by majorities of about 200 and I had been beaten by nine votes.

"That taught me a lesson. The next house is going to be Republican by an undiminished majority, but we are going to work right up to election day just the same."

Modest Mr. Edwards.

Mr. Babcock has given considerable time to the factional fight in John Wesley Gaines' district in West Virginia. W. S. Edwards, who had been the anti-Gaines candidate for the nomination, agreed, Mr. Babcock said, to abide by the decision of the sub-committee appointed to hear both sides. That committee decided that Mr. Gaines was the regular Republican candidate, and that Mr. Edwards had no claim whatever to the regular nomination.

"Now," said Mr. Babcock, "the chairman of Edwards' committee writes me that while Edwards will abide by the decision of the committee and not lay claim to the regular nomination, he does not feel bound to refrain from being an independent candidate, and will have to run as an independent, because great pressure has been brought to bear on him to make him do so. What do you think of that?"

THREE MEN ARRESTED CHARGED WITH MURDER

Accused of Killing a B. & O. Agent—Taken by Pittsburgh Detective.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LANCASTER, O., Oct. 3.—Detective C. C. Friend of Pittsburgh, at noon today arrested Charles Basore, Pete Schreider and John Lloyd, of Thorneville, accused of the murder of W. M. Hoy, the Baltimore & Ohio station agent at that place, who was waylaid, murdered and robbed on the night of January 10.

When Hoy was murdered he was on his way from the station to the stable, where he kept his horse and buggy. He carried two purses, one containing money belonging to the railway company, and the other his own money. The purse containing Hoy's personal funds was taken, but the railway company's funds were not. The three prisoners were arraigned before Squire Edmonds of Thorneville this evening and will be given a hearing in New Lexington Friday morning.

PRESIDENT CHAMBERS OUSTED FROM BOARD

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The stockholders of the American Window Glass Machine Company today elected these directors: Joshua Rhodes, J. R. Paul, T. Hart Given, M. K. McMullin, S. L. Bodine, Thomas F. Hart, William Loeffler, E. I. Phillips, N. T. Depau and A. H. Larkin. President James A. Chambers was ousted.

CUBAN SENATE FAVORS SPANISH IMIGRATION

HAVANA, Oct. 3.—The senate today adopted a bill appropriating $500,000 for the purpose of assisting the immigration of laborers from the Spanish Balearic and Canary islands, by subsidizing steamship lines and otherwise. The details of the plan are left largely to President Palma's discretion.

Has Victory All Figured Out Again.

PENNSY ORDERS TOTAL $1,000,000

LOCAL COMPANY GETS SHARE

Orders for equipment aggregating in cost close to $1,000,000 have been in part awarded, and are in part under consideration by the Pennsylvania railroad. The Pressed Steel Car Company of Pittsburgh, has received one of the largest of these orders, calling for 300 double-hopper steel coal cars. The cost of these is approximately $1,000 each, it is said. A similar order has been given to the Cambria Steel Company of Johnstown, the work of building 600 cars of this type having beeen divided between the two companies. The order will call for about 6,000 tons of steel plates, a large proportion of which will be made by the Carnegie Steel Company.

The Pennsylvania is considering also a bid for 200 coke cars. It has already issued orders to the Altoona shops to build 25 freight engines. These locomotives will be of the largest type and are to be used on the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh.

In addition to the freight equipment orders, the Pennsylvania will build 80 handsome passenger coaches equipped with all modern features. The orders for these have been divided among the various shops maintained by the company. Some will be built in Altoona, some at Philadelphia, some at Wilmington, Del., and some at the Meadow shops in New Jersey. The cars are to be used on the various divisions of the lines east of Pittsburgh it is said.

In announcing the orders yesterday an official of the company said that the road is in urgent need of freight cars. The pressure is already being felt in the Pittsburgh district where the coal output and shipments have been restricted during the past month by a car shortage.

EMPLOYERS HELP THEIR MEN TO FORM UNION

Roofing and Sheet Metal Contractors Meet to Discuss Constitution for the New Body.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—The unusual spectacle of employers urging their employes to organize a labor union was presented today when the Roofing and Sheet Metal Contractors' association met to discuss a constitution for the proposed union. This action was taken by the employers because they do not believe in the open shop, and because it leaves the question of wages open, creating an uncertain quantity in estimating work.

The employers will insist that all questions between the two organizations must be arbitrated, and that there shall be no strikes nor lockouts. When the new union is organized a charter will be secured for it in Harrisburg.

CAN BEGIN OPERATIONS.

One More Foreclosure Sale Will Wind up the Affairs of the Old Shipbuilding Company.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—James Smith, Jr., receiver of the United States Shipbuilding Company, will sell under foreclosure sale on October 25 the plants and property of the Harlan & Hollingsworth Company at Wilmington, Del.

With this sale the receiver will complete the foreclosure proceedings of the old company, and after that date the reorganized company can begin operations. The upset price to be paid for the property as fixed by the court is $683,000. The reorganization committee will buy the property.

MOVES AGAINST STRIKERS.

Ford China Company Asks an Injunction, Claiming Injury to Business by Former Employes.

KITTANNING, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The Ford China Company this morning applied to Judge Patton for an injunction against the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and local No. 52 and the members of the order, to prevent them from interfering with the business of the company and for damages by reason of a strike last week. The bill charged the brotherhood has compelled the company to cancel orders. Judge Patton granted a preliminary injunction, returnable Saturday.

LEAVES FAMILY AND COUNTRY

Strange Behavior of Col. Glenn, Member of the Governor's Staff.

HIS SOCIAL STANDING HIGH

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 3.

Philadelphia society, particularly that part of it which has entre to the exclusive "old family" circles, as well as officers of the crack military organizations of the city, will be shocked to learn that Col. Thomas Allen Glenn of Gov. Pennypacker's staff left Philadelphia and the United States September 24 for an indefinite stay in Europe, and his wife declares she was notified by him before his departure that he had left her and their six children forever. Although she learned of this intention as far back as August, it was known only to a few of her close friends, and so far as could be learned today, to none of his acquaintances.

The reasons for Col. Glenn's alleged desertion of his family, separation from his friends and voluntary exile from his country could not be learned, though neighbors of the family in Wynnewood, the pretty suburb where Col. Glenn and his family lived, volunteered many hints of a sensational nature.

Col. Glenn's prominence as a member of Gov. Pennypacker's staff, his blood relationship to the state's chief executive and their close friendship, his club affiliations—though it is stated he has recently resigned from all of these except the Marion Cricket club—his celebrity as an author of genealogical works, his political prominence, and the high social position of both himself and wife, makes this strange conduct alleged against him doubly sensational.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

SMITH TELLS MORMONS TO KEEP THEIR LANDS

President of Church Admits That He Warned Them Against Favoring Enemies.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 3.—In reply to a published statement that in a sermon recently preached by President Joseph Smith of the Mormon church, he had advised his people not to sell land to "gentiles" or to aid them in any way, Mr. Smith said today:

"While on my recent visit in the south I learned that in consequence of hard times many of the people in southern Utah were moving away. At a conference held at St. George I advised them to remain, and encouraged them with the hope that railroad facilities would soon reach them, and open markets for their products. I never said anything about 'gentiles' or dealing with them. I did advise them not to sell out their homes and lands to their enemies."

PAYNE RALLIES AGAIN.

The Dying Postmaster Astonishes All by His Remarkable Vitality.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—At 2:35 it was announced that Postmaster General Payne had rallied suddenly and exclaimed "Hello," to those about him. Milk then was given him to drink. Dr. Magruder asked the patient how he was feeling and he replied "First rate."

At 2:50 Dr. Magruder said that Mr. Payne's respiration was better and more regular than it has been in the past 24 hours and that if the improvement kept up, he probably would last through the night and that a consultation could be had in the morning.

The members of Mr. Payne's family are about his bedside in his apartments at the Hotel Arlington and they have abandoned all hope of recovery.

May Be Skeleton of Pittsburgher.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—It is almost certain that the skeleton found on Tunnel hill is that of John B. Dougherty, a former third division Baltimore & Ohio railroader who came here from Pittsburgh, where it is thought he leaves relatives. Persons who knew him say he was eccentric.

NO BARGAINING WITH THE IRISH

Balfour So Declares as to Unionists' Attitude—Does Not Favor Protection.

FOR A COLONIAL CONFERENCE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

EDINBURGH, SCOTLAND, Oct. 3.—Premier Balfour opened the autumn campaign here tonight as the guest of the Conservative club. He first seconded a motion of condolence with Lady Harcourt and the members of her family. Mr. Balfour said: "Sir William Vernon Harcourt was for 30 years in the forefront of the political battle. He was a hard fighter, but his thrusts never poisoned. Death has removed one of the most exceptional figures that ever adorned parliamentary life."

In replying to the toast, "Our Guest," Mr. Balfour said as this was his first speech of the autumn campaign, he desired to be explicit on one or two essential points. In the first place, he said, the leader of the Irish party had given wide currency in America to the view that in the next parliament the Irish members would hold the balance of power. So far as the Unionists were concerned, no bargaining would occur. The Unionists were not for sale. Regarding the foreign policy, Mr. Balfour said he had nothing to alter.

In what is known as the Sheffield policy, Mr. Balfour said he was no protectionist; he was one of those who thought protection was not the best policy under existing circumstances. It was not a policy he recommended directly or indirectly, either to his colleagues or to the country, and he did not think he could remain the leader of his party, if protection were adopted.

Whether Mr. Chamberlain's colonial opinion was right or wrong, Mr. Balfour entirely agreed with Mr. Chamberlain that a point had been reached where the only way out was to have a free conference with the self-governing colonies. Mr. Balfour strongly recommended that course to the Unionist party, and said he believed such a conference might do much good.

YARMOUTHS TO SAIL FOR FRANCE TODAY

Earl and Countess Will Join a Jolly Party on the Kaiser Wilhelm.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The earl and countess of Yarmouth will be members of a jolly party that is to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm tomorrow for Cherbourg, France.

One member of the party will be Mrs. Hostetter, a wealthy widow, and an old friend of the countess. Mrs. Hostetter has taken a house in Paris for the winter. She will take with her a maid, a valet and tutor. Several other women well known in society here will also be in the party. Mrs. Hostetter was a Pittsburgh girl and she and Miss Thaw were devoted friends.

It is reported that the earl of Yarmouth and the countess may remain in Paris for a short time as the guests of Mrs. Hostetter before they return to England.

PARKER BACK TO TOWN.

The Judge Again Takes Charge of His Campaign and Expects to Carry Colorado.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Back from Esopus, Judge Alton B. Parker, in his apartments in the Hotel Seville, resumed today his supervision of the Democratic national campaign. He continued to devote especial attention to the situation in Colorado, where the Democrats are making desperate efforts to carry the state.

One of the nominee's first visitors was C. P. O'Donnell, Democratic state chairman from Colorado, who called on Judge Parker, accompanied by Norman E. Mack.

Bartholdi Critically Ill.

PARIS, Oct. 3.—Frederick Auguste Bartholdi, the sculptor of the statue of Liberty in New York bay, is critically ill of tuberculosis. Hopes of his recovery have practically been abandoned.

GAVE HIS LIFE TO THE X-RAY

EDISON'S ASSISTANT

SUFFERED BODILY TORTURE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.

Clarence M. Dally, an electrical engineer, is dead at his home, East Orange, N. J., a martyr to science. His illness was due to experimental work in connection with the Roentgen ray. He suffered for years and underwent seven operations, which finally culminated in the amputation of both his arms. He died today.

During his experimental work with the X-ray Mr. Dally was Thomas A. Edison's chief assistant. He worked at the laboratory in West Orange night and day. In his work with the fluroscope Mr. Dally was burned on his hands. He suffered no pain, but his hands looked as though they had been scalded. Six months after the first indications of scalding appeared the hands began to swell and Mr. Dally suffered great pain for two years, when he went to Chicago and obtained a position with an incandescent lamp company.

Cancer finally developed on the left wrist and he came east for treatment. In February, 1902, more than 150 pieces of skin, taken from his legs, were grafted onto his hands. The operation was unsuccessful and the disease steadily spread. In August the arm was amputated four inches below the shoulder. For a time an improvement was apparent, but the little finger on the right hand became affected, and in November this member was taken off.

Mr. Dally still maintained his courage and still believed he would recover, when three other fingers were removed in June, 1903. The development of a spot on the wrist made it necessary to perform another operation in September and another attempt was made to graft skin. The next indication of the continuance of the disease was a severe hemorrhage of the arm, as a result of which it was amputated in March.

Mr. Dally was born in Woodbridge, N. J., 39 years ago, and served five years in the United States navy as chief gunner on the Enterprise. He is survived by a widow and two sons.

Thomas A. Edison said tonight:

"The death of Clarence M. Dally is not only a keen personal loss to me, but is a distinct loss to science. Mr. Dally has been with me for 16 years and always was a faithful, intelligent assistant, who did much to make important experiments successful. He is one of the numerous victims which science claims. It was largely owing to ill effects of the experiments with the X-rays on Mr. Dally that I concluded to give up this line of experimentation."

HER MISSION TO TEACH ELOCUTION TO CLERGY

Grey-Haired Methodist Preachers Receive Revelation from Ambitious Young Woman.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Gray-haired Methodist Episcopal ministers learned in theology and experienced in pastoral work were politely requested to learn the ary of pulpit oratory today by a handsome young woman, who proposes to make sleepy-heads in churches a thing of the past. It was at the ministers' weekly meeting in Wesley hall that she made her debut and informed them she is forming a class in elocution for the instruction of the clergy.

To show the ministers how they should speak in the pulpit, the young woman recited Longfellow's "The Psalm of Life" as an example of gravity, and "The Village Gossip" for levity. An expression of amusement was general when the young woman read "The Psalm of Life," but this gave way to bursts of laughter when she portrayed "The Village Gossip."

There were some exceptions. Bishop Foss listened impassively to both selections.

"SUCCESS TO JAPAN."

Poles and Jews of Warsaw Indulge in Demonstration Against War—Several Rioters Killed.

WARSAW, Oct. 3.—(Special Cable.)—The Poles and Jews of this city today demonstrated against the war in spite of all the efforts of the police. A crowd of 5,000 marched through the streets carrying flags and banners with inscriptions "Da Medastoniet Japanja"—all success to Japan. The police, reinforced by two regiments of Cossacks, finally put an end to the riot after several persons on both sides had been killed and wounded. The Russian papers have been instructed not to mention the affair.

Corbin Denies Marriage Story.

OMAHA, NEB., Oct. 3.—Gen. H. G. Corbin, who was here today on his way to the Philippines, to succeed Gen. Wade, denied having said that army officers should not marry unless they had a salary of $2,400. He declared he had been misquoted.

Leiters Reach England.

DOVER, ENGLAND, Oct. 3.—The Red Star line steamer Vaderland, on board of which were Mrs. Devi Z. Leiter and Miss Nannie Leiter, mother and sister respectively of Lady Curzon, arrived here today. Large crowds waited on the pier to watch the arrival of the Leiters.

BISHOP OF HEREFORD SPEAKS

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Secretary of state John Hay, representing the United States of America, spoke the word of welcome this afternoon to the delegates to the international peace congress in Tremont temple. President George R. Jones of the Massachusetts senate, extended the greeting of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, and Mayor Patrick A. Collins that of Boston.

Secretary Hay traced briefly the war history of this country, and pointed out that the country's greatest men had been advocates of peace. He agreed with Toistoi that religion is the remedy for war. He promised the administration's support, so far as practicable, of the principle of the arbitration of such questions as may not be setled throughout diplomatic negotiations. He said in part:

Is An Auspicious Time.

No time could be more fitting for this gathering of a parliament of peace than today, when at the other end of the world the thunder of a destructive and sanguinary war is deafening the nations, while here we are preparing to settle the question of a vast transfer of power by an appeal to reason and orderly procedure, under the sanction of a law implicitly accepted by 80,000,000 of people. And the policy of the nation-at-large, which owes so much of its civic spirit to the founders of New England, has been in the main a policy of peace.

There has been no solution of continuity in the sentiments of our presidents on this subject up to this day. McKinley deplored with every pulse of his honest and kindly heart the advent of the war which he had hoped might not come in his day, and gladly hailed the earliest moment for making peace; and President Roosevelt has the same tireless energy in the work of concord that he displayed when he sought peace and ensued it on the field of battle. No presidents in our history have been so faithful and so efficient as the last two in the cause of arbitration and of every peaceful settlement of differences. I mention them together because their work has been harmonious and consistent.

Saved The Hague Court.

We hailed with joy the generous initiative of the Russian emperor, and sent to the conference at The Hague the best men we had in our civic and military life. When The Hague court lay apparently wrecked at the beginning of its voyage, threatened with death before it had fairly begun to live, it was the American government which gave it the breath of life by inviting the republic of Mexico to share our appeal to its jurisdiction; and the second case brought before it was at the instance of Mr. Roosevelt, who declined in its favor the high honor of arbitrating an affair of world-wide importance.

I beg you to believe it is not by way of boasting that I recall these incidents to your minds; it is rather as a profession of faith in a cause which the present administration has deeply at heart, that I ask you to remember, in the deliberations upon which you are entering, the course to which the American government is pledged and which it has steadily pursued for the last seven years. It is true that in those years we have had 100 days of war—but they put an end forever to bloodshed which had lasted a generation.

Have Bestowed Peace.

We landed a few platoons of marines on the Isthmus last year; but that act closed without a shot a sanguinary succession of trivial wars. We marched a little army to Pekin; but it was to save not only the besieged legations, but a great imperiled civilization. By mingled gentleness and energy, to which most of the world beyond our borders has done justice, we have given to the Philippines, if not peace, at least a nearer approach to it than they have had within the memory of men.

If our example is worth anything to the world, we have given it in the vital matter of disarmament. We have brought away from the far east 55,000 soldiers whose work was done, and have sent them back to the fields of peaceful activity. We have reduced our army to its minimum of 60,000 men; in fact, we may say we have no army, but in place of one a nucleus for drill and discipline. We have three-fourths of one soldier for every thousand of the population—a proportion which if adopted by other powers would at once eliminate wars and rumors of wars from the daily thoughts of the chancelleries of the world.

President's Good Work.

I have not come to advise you; I have no such ambitious pretensions. I do not even aspire to take part in your deliberations. But I am authorized to assure you the American government extends to you a cordial and sympathetic welcome, and shares to the utmost the spirit and purpose in which you have met. The president, so long as he remains in power, has no thought of departing from the traditions bequeathed us by the great soldiers and statesmen of our early history, which have been strictly followed during the last seven years.

We shall continue to advocate and to carry into effect, as far as practicable, the principle of the arbitration of such questions as may not be settled through diplomatic negotiations. We have already done much in this direction; we shall hope to do much more. The president is now considering the negotiation of treaties of arbitration with such of the European powers as desire them, and hopes to lay them before the senate next winter. And finally, the president has, only a few days ago, promised, in response to the request of the interparliamentary union, to invite the nations to a second conference at The Hague to continue the beneficent work of the conference of 1899.

HON. JOHN HAY.
Secretary of State.

To Mitigate War's Horrors.

Unhappily we cannot foresee in the immediate future the cessation of wars upon the earth. We ought therefore to labor constantly for the mitigation of the horrors of war, especially to do what we can to lessen the sufferings of those who have no part in the struggle. This has been one of the most warmly cherished wishes of the last two administrations.

It has not been thought advisable by the president during the past summer to call the attention of the powers to a project which would necessarily be regarded by two of them, and possibly by others, with reference to its bearing upon the deplorable conflict now raging in the far east. But as we earnestly pray that the return of peace may not be long delayed between the two nations, to both of which we are bound by so many historic ties, we may confidently look forward at no distant day to inviting the attention of the nations to this matter, and we hope we may have the powerful influence of this great organization in gaining their adherence.

Speaking for the governor President Jones said it was a strange and fitting coincidence that at the very moment the final eulogy was being pronounced over the mortal remains of Senator Hoar, the congress should be opening, because as a servant of Massachusetts and of the nation as well, his voice was ever for peace and honor. He also expressed the wish "that the influence of the action of this congress may be universal and world wide."

Mayor Collins said if he were to paraphrase a Bible text to suit the occasion it would be this:

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall see God; damned be the warmakers, for they shall see the devil."

Rt. Rev. Dr. John Percival, bishop of Hereford, said that the European nations looked to the United States to lead in the movement for peace; that the presence of Secretary Hay in itself gave a new character to the gathering, and he felt grateful that the secretary's address should have been given in behalf of the president of the United States as well as in his own behalf.

"Mr. Hay is well known in Europe and greatly respected and honored," the bishop continued. "His address will be far more valued in Europe because it contains the words of Mr. Hay. It will be read all over the world and will have its influence in cabinets and chancelories, where no words of ours would be listened to at all."

Bishop Hereford thought the world's thanks were due to the emperor of Russia for his rescript, by which he had brought the questions of peace and disarmament within the range of politics, or practical discussion at any rate.

"Our hope for peace," the speaker said, is fixed upon the international policy of the United States in years to come."

Mr. Lund of the Norwegian parliament presented the greetings of his country. The meeting was closed by all present joining in a hymn written especially for the occasion.

Kaiser Had Intended to Issue a Call for Another Convention at The Hague.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Sir Thomas Barclay, who has been prominently identified with the movement for establishing amity between nations, said today the German government had under consideration the calling of another conference to extend the scope of The Hague convention prior to President Roosevelt's recent announcement of his desire to take action in that direction. Sir Thomas said:

There is this little difficulty about the adoption of the proposal of President Roosevelt. You will remember Count Von Bulow said in the reichstag, a couple of years ago, it was the intention of Germany to call a conference; and recent correspondence we have had with the Germann authorities shows the matter is being considered. There is, therefore, a possibility of either the American and German governments calling a conference jointly, or that one will give way to the other. If all the nations will accept the proposal, it will be one of the greatest things American has done.

Sir Thomas Barclay sends the following message to the Boston peace conference:

I am very sorry I am unable to attend the Boston conference. I attach immense importance to that conference, because such a number of distinguished, practical men have taken an interest in it. The next greatest step taken in the history of international relations, will I expect, be a treaty of arbitration between Great Britain and America.

Sir Thomas Barclay expects to visit the United States at the end of this year.

SIXTH WARD DEMANDS PARK IN BLUFF STREET

Sum of $10,000 Was Appropriated for Purpose, but Bigelow Did Not Favor Project.

Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow have promised to meet a number of the residents of the Sixth ward this week to discuss the long-delayed project to make a park in Bluff street, the entire length of the Sixth ward, for which councils at the beginning of this year appropriated $10,000. It is the plan to lay out a little park between the street pavement and the outer edge of the street along which is a fence the entire length of the street.

This space varies in width from five to 20 feet and it is the intention to plant trees, make a walk and have benches so that the people of the Sixth ward can go there on summer evenings and enjoy the fresh air and the view of the valley up the Monongahela. Director Bigelow was opposed to the appropriation for the park and during the year took no steps to make the park. The residents of the ward, however, have been urging Mayor Hays to do something, and the mayor has taken the matter up with Bigelow.

PLANS COSTLY CHANGES.

National Tube Company Desires to Occupy More Land in McKeesport.

The National Tube Company is contemplating improvements in McKeesport which will cost close to $1,000,000. The Riverton bridge will be raised from 18 to 20 feet and council will be asked to vacate Riverton street from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to the river. The Boston Iron and Steel Company, a subsidiary plant, will be removed to a site near the Monongahela blast furnaces.

The property of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company near the company's site will be purchased and this deal will probably amount to $200,000.

WHEN MRS. BEAM WAS A MAIDEN ALL THE YOUNG LADIES SMOKED

Mrs. Jane Riddle Beam.

The oldest and one of the most interesting women of Ligonier township, Westmoreland county, is Mrs. Jane Riddle Beam, of Boucher, who is 90 years of age. She was born in and has always resided in the Ligonier valley, and her memory retains many interesting events of the early part of the last century. Her grandfather, Samuel Riddle, came to the Ligonier valley while the Indians were plentiful in the region, and her grandfather, Clifford, was captive by the Indians. Mrs. Beam has been the mother of 12 children, only two of whom are living, the oldest and the youngest. Mrs. Beam is remarkably well preserved in mind and body. She smoked for 70 years and says, "When I was young, all the girls smoked."

EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE CAUSED BAD FIRE ON HILL

Tenant in Doomed Building Lost Cash and His Household Effects.

The explosion of a can of gasoline in the cleaning establishment of Henry Collins, 1313 Wylie avenue, shortly after 6 o'clock last night, resulted in the burning of several buildings, causing damage estimated at $8,000. W. C. Jones, a tenant who moved into the building but a few hours before the disaster, lost all his household goods and $160 in cash.

The firemen made every effort to confine the fire to the Collins building, but the structures on either side ignited and were almost destroyed. These were occupied by W. H. Thompson, a fish dealer, and G. Cooperman, a haberdasher. W. H. Dickson, who resided above Thompson's store, lost all his household goods. The buildings were owned by the Patterson estate and their loss is covered by insurance.

A gas stove in the home of Meyer Rosenbaum, in the rear of 41 Logan street, caused a fire at 11:40 o'clock last night. The damage is $100.

TWELVE LEFT ALIVE OUT OF BATTALION

Heroic Defenders of Port Arthur Almost Annihilate the Japanese Forces.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Daily Telegraph's Nagaski correspondent cabling under date of September 25, says:

"Terrible artillery conflicts are adding to the horrors of the situation at Port Arthur. On September 22 and 23 the Russians made sorties against positions held by the Kanagawa regiment, and desperate fighting ensued. The Japanese force was practically annihilated, only one non-commissioned officer and 11 men remaining alive out of the 4,000 who went into the engagement."

"The Japanese tunnel into Port Arthur was completed September 24, and was immediately used. The result is unknown."

IRON BAR STRUCK KOSUSKY.

Laborer Killed in the Tube Works at McKeesport—Other Fatalities Reported to the Coroner's Office.

George Kosusky, a laborer at the National Tube works in McKeesport, died yesterday at the McKeesport hospital. He was injured early in the day by a bar of iron that was swung against him while being handled by machinery. The bar struck him in the stomach and ruptured the intestines.

John Bloom, a laborer, 39 years old and married, living at Glendale, Scott township, was struck by the Bishop accommodation train near Carnegie and instantly killed.

"Tenie" Bauer, the young woman who died at the Allegheny General hospital of peritonitis, refusing steadfastly to tell how she had been injured, was identified by her brother-in-law, John Weismantel of Spring Garden borough. He said the girl had come to his house sick from the place where she was employed as a domestic and that he had her taken to the hospital.

Michael Languish, a miner, was killed by a fall of slate at Monongah mine at Brownsdale. He lived at Monongahela.

Carl Maas, a railroad contractor of Cecil on the Panhandle railroad, was killed there by a bucket of concrete which fell on him.

John Austin, aged 50 years and married, of Greenwood street, Pittsburgh, while at work on the new Episcopal church building at California avenue and Arthur street, Allegheny, dropped dead of heart disease yesterday afternoon.

ANOTHER NAVAL FIGHT.

Two Russian Ships Are Reported Damaged—One Is Sighted Near Shanghai.

CHEFOO, Oct. 3.—That there has been another naval engagement off Port Arthur is reported here. The result has been practically the same as that which attended Admiral Withoft's sortie. Two of the Russian ships, badly damaged, have succeeded in breaking through Togo's lines, and are making for neutral ports.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 3.—A Russian warship, supposed to be the armored cruiser Bayan of the Port Arthur squadron, is reported to have anchored off Gutzlaff island in Haug-Chau bay. Two tugs have proceeded thither to bring her to Shanghai.

WOMEN WHIP HIGHWAYMEN.

School Teachers Drive Off Robbers, Badly Injuring One of Them.

HAZELTON, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Misses Bridget Reilly, Hannah Kelley, Katharine Brady and Annie Boyle, school teachers in Kline township, had an exciting experience with two highwaymen today. They had just received their salary and were walking leisurely along the highway, when two men suddenly confronted them.

The four women did not scream, but with clubs and stones they drove off the robbers, one of whom was badly injured in the conflict.

No Date Set for Conference.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The date of the scale conference between the strikers and the American Steel Hoop Company has not been decided. Politicians conferred today with Secretary Joseph Bishop of the state board of arbitration, but nothing definite was determined upon.

MURDERER LAYS LOW SOLDIER IN PHILIPPINES

John MacKaye, Local Newspaperman, Gets News of Brother's Tragic Death.

John Angus Mackaye, the local newspaper man, yesterday received word of the murder of his brother, Alexander D. Mackaye. The murder took place at Camp Vicars, Mindanao, Philippine Islands, and knowledge of it was conveyed to the brother in this city in a brief note from the headquarters of the Philippine division at Manila. The letter read as follows:

"The commanding general directs me to say that it is his duty to announce to you the death of Alexander Mackaye, who was killed about one mile from camp by a shot from a 45-caliber revolver, supposed to have been in the hands of Robert McCann. McCann is now under arrest, and will undoubtedly be held for court on the charge of murder."

The letter conveys the additional information that the murder was committed on August 8, and that Mackaye was instantly killed. There was no statement of details.

"Alex" Mackaye had quite a large acquaintance in Pittsburgh, particularly among newspaper men. He frequently visited his brother here, and his headquarters were at the Press club. He regarded this as his home. Alex was a soldier. All of his life, with the exception of brief intervals in this city, was passed in the military service of either this country or England. Once, soon after his discharge from the army at the expiration of his service, he was on the fire department in this city, his company being located in Forty-fourth street. At another time he was in the employ of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

Mackaye was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1873. He first served in the Second battalion of the Scots Guard in London. Later he was with the Royal regiment of Canadian infantry and with the Canadian dragoons at Winnipeg. He was with the Eighth and Fifth cavalry in Porto Rico during the Spanish-American war, and with the Fourth cavalry in the Philippines, being on detached services for over two years with Lowe's scouts and the Maccabbes native scouts.

WADSWORTH APPEARS.

Allegheny Alderman Charged With Extortion Gives Bail for a Hearing Next Tuesday.

Alderman Walter Wadsworth of Allegheny, for whom warrants charging malfeasance in office and extortion were issued last Thursday at the office of Alderman S. J. Tocle, appeared yesterday morning at Toole's office and furnished $1,000 bail for his appearance at a hearing on October 11 at 4 p. m. Wadsworth refused to say where he had been since last Thursday, but admitted that he had been informed of the charges last Friday afternoon. The charges, he says, are false and will be proved so.

District Attorney R. E. Stewart had a conference with Attorneys John Marron and John C. Haymaker yesterday morning regarding the suits that will be entered against the officials of Allegheny who are charged with "grafting." It was said after the conference that no warrants would be issued during the day and that nothing would probably be done until this afternoon. Mr. Haymaker questioned several women from Allegheny at his office and will use their testimony in the coming cases.

MAY FACE FOURTH MURDER CHARGE

VICTIM IN DYING CONDITION

George Christian, colored, a life prisoner in the Riverside or Western penitentiary, is locked in a dungeon in the central part of that institution, awaiting the result of the injuries he inflicted on another colored prisoner, known as Charles Jones. The assault took place last Saturday night, shortly after the inmates had returned from the dining hall to their cells. Jones is a four-year man, sentenced from Armstrong county for larceny. He is in the prison hospital, with slight chances of recovery. His intestines were deeply penetrated by a keen knife in the hands of Christian.

The penitentiary authorities, as usual on such occasions, have drawn a veil of secrecy about the affair and refuse to make public any details. Warden William McC. Johnston was questioned yesterday, but refused to give any names or other information. Capt. James R. Reed, president of the prison board, was no more communicative, although he spent the entire day at Riverside and was with Warden Johnston when the latter took Jones' dying deposition. Jones told the prison officials that he had no relatives or friends who would likely take enough interest in him to claim his remains in case he died. He said he had no property nor any requests to make prior to his death. Dr. Bennett, the penitentiary physician, said last night that Jones had a slim chance for life.

Christian Swore to Have Revenge.

The trouble that led to the stabbing started about the middle of last week. Christian, who is serving a life sentence for murder, charged Jones with reporting him to the warden for some breach of the prison rules. Jones denied this, but Christian swore he would have revenge.

Shortly before 6 o'clock Saturday evening Jones was standing in the range near his cell talking to a neighboring prisoner. Christian, whose cell is seven further up the tier from Jones', started toward the latter. Jones knew that Christian had been making threats against him and to avoid him entered his cell and drew the door shut. When Christian reached Jones' cell he drew a shoemaker's knife and made a slash at Jones' hand resting on the bars of the door. Jones dropped his hand and as he did so Christian threw open the door and entered the cell. Jones picked up a chair and raised it above his head to defend himself. Before he could wield this implement of defense Christian rushed in and grasping the chair pushed it hard against Jones' head, thereby holding Jones firmly against the rear wall of the cell. Then Christian used his knife murderously, cutting Jones in the abdomen, chest and right side.

Jones Nearly Bled to Death.

Keepers were attracted by Jones' cries and pulled Christian away from his victim. Christian was locked in his cell and a telephone message was sent to the office. Dr. Bennet, the penitentiary physician, was not in the institution at the time and several telephone calls were sent before Dr. W. J. Langfitt responded and attended the wounded man. Before the arrival of Dr. Langfitt Jones almost bled to death. The fearful gashes in his abdomen are regarded as fatal. Christian was taken to the dungeon and will be kept there pending the result of Jones' wounds.

The assault caused great excitement in the institution. It broke the usual monotony of the place and an unusually strict guard has been kept on the prisoners since. The report that one of the inmates tried to escape during the excitement is untrue according to the prison officials, although they admit that an attempt to escape was made by one of the prisoners last week. This they say occurred several days before the cutting and the manner of the endeavor was so crude that no importance was attached to it. The prisoner did make a dummy of his bed clothes, but as he had to cut through several inches of steel and five inches of plaster before he could reach the roof his chances of escape were minute. He is spending a few days in a dungeon as penance for his misdeed.

Christian Has a Bloody Record.

George Christian has always been regarded as a dangerous man. He was convicted for killing Peter Hoben, in the Soho district, on September 22, 1900. With three companions Christian tried to hold up a man named John O'Neil. Hoben happened along and started to defend O'Neil. For this he was shot by Christian and died the following day in the Mercy hospital. Christian escaped, but was captured in New York on December 15 of the same year. He was found guilty of murder in the first degree on January 5, 1901, and was sentenced to hang in February. His attorneys appealed to the pardon board and on October 16 succeeded in having his sentence commuted to life imprisonment. He was taken to Riverside November 13, 1901. Since that time he often acted badly and has frequently been under strict surveillance.

Several years ago Christian was accused of murder while living in West Virginia. While he was being sought he committed a second murder, and for this crime was arrested and sentenced to life imprisonment. Christian previously made his home in Moundsville. Through some political friends Gov. White became interested in him.

The counsel and friends of the first man Christian is said to have killed, assisted in having him granted a pardon for the second murder, their purpose being to have him convicted on the first charge. It is said they had evidence that was regarded incontrovertible and his second conviction was confidently expected. There was no doubt that he would be hanged. The jury, however, upset these settled opinions by bringing in a verdict that cleared Christian of his first alleged crime.

After that Christian came to Pittsburgh and was engaged in the contracting business when he shot Hoben. If Jones dies he will be the fourth man that Christian is said to have killed. At the time of the Soho murder Peter Hoben, the victim of Christian's weapon, was engaged to be married to Charlotte Conroy. Some months after Hoben's death the woman went insane and died at Dixmont.

HARD FIGHTING IN PROSPECT

Oyama Is Near the First Line of the Russian Defenses.

CZAR'S HANDS FULL AT HOME

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

SIN MIN TIN, Oct. 3.—Hard fighting is expected at the Hun river, below Mukden, within the next few days. Slowly but relentlessly Oyama is pushing his way toward the first line of the Russian defenses on the south bank of the Hun, where the Japanese are within striking distance of the river.

It will now be definitely determined whether Kuropatkin intends to make a serious stand at Mukden. In any event, he will interpose strong opposition to the Japanese crossing of the river, and harder fighting than any that has been seen since the evacuation of Line-Yang is certain.

A large proportion of the Russian cavalry is operating against this wing of the Japanese army, but have not been able to uncover the main body of Kuroki's troops. The belief is growing here that it is the intention of the Japanese commander to cut in behind the Russian position at Tie Pass, and that he is making a wide detour much further to the east than it has been generally believed that he is, covering his movements with a veil of lightly armed troops who have been able to hold the Cossacks in check well to the west of the line of march.

Thoroughly reliable reports leave no doubt that Oyama has been fully prepared to take the offensive for several days.

TOKYO, Oct. 3.—Marshal Oyama expects to be in possession of Mukden well before the end of the month. Two more divisions are now en route to reinforce him and these troops will, it is said, be the last to be sent to the front for the present. When they arrive Oyama, it is believed will have ample force with which to carry out his plans until next spring. By that time the general staff will have at its disposal another army of not less than 250,000 or 300,000 men.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 3.—Internal conditions are giving the government fully as much concern as affairs in Manchuria. The significant demonstration at Odessa, followed as it has been by one of the same character, if not quite so sensational, in Poland, indicates an anti-war feeling which, it is feared, is steadily growing more serious.

Indications are not wanting that this same feeling of antagonism to the government and opposition to the war exists throughout the entire empire. The increased taxation is beginning to be felt, and the rigor with which the mobilization of the reserves is being carried out, unquestionably has had much to do with the recrudescence of this feeling.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Allegheny Preparatory school reopens September 21, 1904. The Headmaster will be at the school office after September 8, between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m., to meet and classify pupils, to talk with intending patrons and to show those who may wish to see them the building and equipment. The school provides instruction for boys and girls from the first year of school life till they are ready for any American college or university. The work is done by 15 expert teachers.

A well equipped gymnasium and a large playground, under the exclusive control of the school, offer ample opportunity for sports and games. These are individual "corrective work," under trained directors, give the physical development of both boys and girls its due emphasis. Oral expression, singing, reading aloud, public speaking and debates have their proper place in the curriculum.

Owing to its non-commercial character, the entire income of the school can be applied in making the school better. The building has just been redecorated throughout.

SAYS BOND CASE WILL BE RUSHED

Mayor Also Asserts That Linear Tax Law Will Be Knocked Out.

HE TAKES A SHOT AT LARKIN

"We expect to have the bond case settled this month," said Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow yesterday. "The case is set for a hearing in the local courts on October 12, and if it is necessary to take it to the supreme court a special order can be secured to have the case heard by that court at its sitting in Pittsburgh this month," said the mayor. "I have heard it is the intention of the other side to get Marcus A. Woodward to enter suit if Larkin is defeated, but I do not think this will amount to anything," he continued.

"The controller's statement that he has an offer from an engineer to build the filtration plant for $5,000,000 is very funny to me," added the mayor. "How could any engineer make an intelligent estimate of the cost of a plant for Pittsburgh when he does not know anything about the plans for that plant and does not know what contracts he would have to make? It strikes me as very absurd.

Linear Tax Won't Stand.

"If the supreme court knocks out the linear tax law, as I believe it will, I do not believe councils will attempt to enact another law levying a tax on public service corporations. The court has said these corporations cannot be taxed, and I believe the only tax that can be assessed is the car tax, which the street car companies have been paying for years," said the mayor.

The mayor gave Controller Larkin a shot for changing the system of paying city employes. The controller yesterday gave orders to pay laborers first and the higher salaried employes and officials last. "About two months ago," said the mayor, "the controller made up a schedule by which he set aside certain days each month to pay each bureau, and now he changes the system again. I do not know why he makes another change, but it makes no difference to me when he pays me."

The controller gave notice to the mayor's office force to make out the warrants for the laborers first, and in the case of the first pay-roll this order was obeyed, but afterwards the mayor's force revolted and returned to the old system of making out the warrants. They declare they will make out the warrants as they formerly did, but Larkin asserts he will hold them back and give the laborers, watchmen, janitors and other poorer paid employes the preference, regardless of the order in which the warrants are sent to him from the mayor's office.

Rush for Salaries.

The controller gave notice to the mayor as soon as he reached the city hall yesterday morning that warrants for September would be paid, and there was a rush to get them out. A large force of employes flocked into the controller's office during the day to ask for their warrants, but in many cases the bits of paper were not ready for them.

The controller said he might also have enough money to pay a part of the October salaries, but that a shortage was inevitable on November, as he had predicted. He also announced that he would not permit any money to be borrowed from the banks of the city at 5 per cent interest. He declared that the officials who borrowed the money would have to pay the interest.

JEWELRY EXHIBIT AT FAIR IS ONE OF MUCH INTEREST

J. C. Grogan, of Pittsburgh, Chairman of the Committee of Awards, Returns From His Work.

"The exhibit of jewelry at St. Louis is a handsome one, with certain articles of exceptional value and interest," said J. C. Grogan, the Pittsburgh jeweler, who was honored by the appointment to the position of chairman of awards in the jewelry division at the exposition. Mr. Grogan returned to Pittsburgh yesterday morning after several weeks' absence in completing his work.

"Our committee has charge of the exhibits of jewels, silver, watches, clocks and stationery. It is true that the exhibits do not reach the height of magnificence shown at the Paris exposition, but the collection at St. Louis is still a notable one. When the final decisions are made there will be four prizes, the gold medal, the silver medal and the bronze medal. These will be determined by a third jury. Associated with me were Robert C. Ball of Providence, R. I.; Emil Weil of Paris, and August Herz of Germany. When the full committee had done its work we went over it carefully to see that every decision had been made with absolute equity. The awards will be made later by the superior committee."

CALLS IT A CONSPIRACY.

Organist Johnson Says Breach of Promise Case Is Scheme to Ruin Heirs.

Charles S. Johnson, organist of St. Peter's Episcopal church, and formerly president of the Monongahela Foundry and Forge Company, yesterday admitted that he was the man mentioned in the damage suit brought by Miss Virginia H. Bowles of Roanoke, Va., but declared the damages asked were but $25,000 instead of the previous announcement of $100,000. He denounced the action as a scheme and says eastern and Pittsburgh men have conspired to damage his reputation, using Miss Bowles as a tool to accomplish this purpose. He stated that he would not defend the New York action but invites the plaintiff to bring suit in this state.

"It is only an attempt at blackmail," declared Mr. Johnson, "and my wife understands the situation fully. The statements are false all through. The story is cleverly concocted, but it cannot be substantiated."

BREAKS LARKIN'S RULE.

Mayor Hays Draws His Salary for September and Starts for the Lexington Races.

Notwithstanding Controller Larkin's new order that laborers are to be paid first and the big officeholders last, Mayor Hays yesterday succeeded in getting his warrant for his September salary, amounting to $833.33, and having it cashed. Then the mayor took the evening train for Lexington, Ky., to attend the horse races, where he will remain until Friday.

City Gauger John F. Ennis, a crony of the mayor's, preceded him to Lexington on Sunday night. The mayor said yesterday that the condition of his finances prevented him from going with Ennis, and he said that if the controller had continued to suspend payment of salaries he would probably have missed the races.

CHECKING UP THE ELEVATORS.

Ordinance Officers Are Making Note of the Lifts Not Properly Run.

Ordinance Officer Murray Livingston assigned five men yesterday to make an investigation of every passenger elevator in the city and learn if the law has been complied with relating to inspections.

A tour of the city was begun on September 1, when all the hotels, business houses and office buildings were visited by the ordinance officers, who left notices to have elevators that had not been inspected in the past six months inspected.

Note will now be made of those places where a certificate of recent date is not displayed and suits will be entered promptly.

Autumn Millinery Opening

Today and the Rest of the Week.

Everybody is invited to our Autumn Millinery Opening today and all this week—regardless of whether cards were received. We tried to reach as many of our friends as possible by formal invitation. No doubt many were missed, but don't let that be a hindrance. We want everybody to see this lavish display of artistic headwear.

We call especial attention to our showing of moderate priced hats—$4 to $6. They are charmingly made and have all the appearance of $8 to $10 hats. The more elaborate creations run up as high as $38 and $50.

A few special offerings in other departments

Fine Tailored Suit $19.50

One of the smartest suits of the season. Made of cheviot, jacket silk lined throughout, inlaid collar and cuffs of velvet. Double breasted jacket 24 inches long. Skirt made with side pleats—$19.50.

Other suits in the new colorings and new materials—correctly tailored at $25, $30, $35, $45 and upward.

Beautiful line of Tourist Coats, Rain Coats, Jackets, Evening Coats, Separate Skirts, Capes, etc.

New styles for misses and children.

Weather—Fair and Warmer. Yesterday's Temperature—Max. 60; Min. 44. Tuesday, October 4, 1904.

Today Men's $1.50 Walking Gloves $1.10 Pr.

That's a notice to men to get gloved today and save enough on a pair of stylish walking gloves to fill their vest pocket with several good cigars. A lot of fine gloves we bought for quite a concession, and just arrived last week, as though having a premonition of the glove weather that was to be on hand today.

Workmanship, finish, style and general get-up leave nothing to be desired by the most critical dresser. Good, soft, pliable, heavy cape, prix seam sewn, one snap button. Sizes 6 3-4 to 9.

Art in Furniture.

On exhibition in our Furniture Department there are some splendid specimens of Arts and Crafts inlaid pieces. Mostly library suites. The inlay is composed of natural woods of a beautiful contrast to the woods used for the body of the article, and is altogether unique. Of this new style of inlaid furniture we are showing Bookcases, Card Tables, Ladies' Writing Desks, Table Desks, Smokers' Cabinets, Side and Arm Chairs, and many other pieces.

While this furniture is rich it cannot be called expensive, for it is priced quite modestly for furniture that has so much hand-work upon it.

We also have a new lot of hand-carved novelty pieces we should like men to see—or women who have the notion to present a gentleman something stunning for his den. The pieces alluded to are strictly for den utility.

The collection comprises Card Boxes containing sets, Cigar Boxes, Tobacco Jars, Automatic Cigar Holders, Book Racks, Match Safes, Stein Racks, Pipe Racks, etc.

Each piece is hand-carved—some of the carving running to the grotesque—some of it being marked by artistic effects. The prices for these den pieces begin at 50c and run to $12.00.

Rockers for the Winter Evenings.

An entertaining book, a comfortable rocker—and the long evening whisks away before you know it. Come now, isn't the right kind of a rocker all right? We want you to see our lines that we have brought in for the autumn season—see this list of inexpensive rockers, and if there is none in it that strikes your fancy, there are plenty more rockers behind it, even to those great leather Turkish Rockers that bespeak reposeful enjoyment.

At $3.50, Rockers of golden oak.
At $5.00, Rockers of golden quartered oak.
At $6.50, Rockers of golden oak, very fine.
At $10.00, Rockers of inlaid mahogany.
At $12.00, Rockers of mahogany, Colonial style.
At $12.00, Rockers of early English oak and imitation mahogany, leather seat and back.
At $13.50, Rockers of mahogany, saddle seat.
At $14.00, Rockers of inlaid mahogany.
At $15.00, Rockers of mahogany, with velour seat.
At $15.00, Rockers of mahogany, plain or carved back, saddle seat.
At $17.00, Rockers of oak, early English or golden finish, leather seat and back.
At $18.00, Rockers of mahogany, Colonial style, rush seat.
At $19.00, Rockers of mahogany, cane seat and back.
At $10.00, Rockers of mahogany span, leather seat and back.
At $20.00, Rockers of golden oak, saddle seat, carved panel back.
At $21.50, Rockers of mahogany, high or low back, leather covered.

And other Rockers up to $75.00.

A Dainty Layette for Baby, Complete for $14.50

Dainty and simple and exquisitely neat—those are the qualities that should characterize a baby's wardrobe.

Money alone can't buy them—though those little French dresses and slips, with wonderful needlework displayed on them so lavishly, yet so artistically, do run up into money at an appalling rate.

Would you believe it, we have layettes for baby that will cost a cool thousand dollars to put baby in possession of ownership.

But it is the inexpensive layettes mothers are asked to consider. Some mothers contend that a complete layette cannot be purchased for less than $25.00. The following, at $14.50, for the purpose of disabusing that notion:

3 Slips, hemstitched ruffle, at 25 cents	.75
2 Dresses, one at 75 cents, the other at $1.25	2.00
2 Flannel Petticoats, one at 85 cents, the other at $1.25	2.10
2 Nainsook Petticoats, one at 50 cents, the other at 75c	1.25
2 Undershirts at 40 cents each	.80
3 pair Bootees, 2 at 25 cents, one at 50c	1.00
3 Flannel Bands, at 17 cents each	.51
1 piece Birdseye	1.12
1 Cloak	4.50
1 Cap, silk or mull	.50

Less Prices for Tapestries and Other Drapery Stuffs.

We not only have the largest collection of drapery materials in Western Pennsylvania, but we say very plainly that people who desire such materials can save from 50c to $1.00 on the yard by coming to our fourth floor Drapery Department. We prove our less prices every day. Women come to this department with samples they have gathered, and are often dumfounded at the difference between our price and the price of the stuffs they have with them. And yet, as it is, we consider we are making a fair profit. Some reading for guidance:

Tapestries in assorted stripes, reversible, therefore admirable for curtains, couch throw-overs, screens, fillings and sofa pillows, 38c a yard.
Large variety of Gordon Rep, usable for all sorts of hangings—plain red, terra cotta, green, olive, blue and pink—50 inches wide—50c a yard.
Tapestries in Armure figures—four patterns—blue and rose—do not require lining—50 inches wide—50c a yard.
Mercerized Rep, admirable for any sort of draping where a plain ground is desired, in all leading shades—50 inches wide—75c a yard.
Mercerized Tapestry with moire figures, shown in solid colors, at 90c a yard.
Mercerized Tapestry in plain colors—an extensive color range—50 inches wide—$1.00 a yard.
Figured Tapestry—reds, blues, greens, tans, rose, nile—50 inches wide—$1.00 a yard.
Tapestries in Gobelin effects—full width—assorted colors $1.50 a yard. Finer grades at $1.75 and $2.00.
Tapestries in Bagdad stripes—50 inches wide, reversible—60c and 65c a yard.
Silk Brocatelle—rose, blue, nile, brown, red, green—50 inches wide—$2.75 a yard.
New Scotch Madras for curtains, very artistic, transparent colors and effective designs. Very decorative—no linings or trimmings required. Liberal variety at 75c, 85c, $1.00 and up to $2.75 a yard.

Portieres Ready to Hang.

While on this subject of draperies your attention must be called to ready-to-hang Portieres. They are here a-plenty—

Portieres of figured tapestry, heavy fringed ends, assorted colors, $1.50 and $2.50 a pair.
Portieres of oriental striped tapestry, at $3.50 a pair.
Portieres of Armure Tapestry, with heavy cord edge, best colorings, $3.50 a pair.
Portieres of figured tapestry, heavy fringe at top and bottom—rose and olive, green and ecru, red and green, and two-toned red, at $4.50 a pair.
Portieres of oriental striped tapestry, at $4.75 a pair.
Tapestry Portieres, with contrasting borders—red, green, blue—$5.00 a pair.
Portieres of mercerized armure tapestry, heavy cord edge finish, assortment of popular colors, different patterns, $5.50, $6.00, $6.50 a pair.
Portieres of mercerized armure tapestry, figured and bordered, at $7.50 a pair.
Other styles of Portieres, finer grades, $15.00, $25.00, $28.00, $30.00 a pair.

See our windows containing fourteen different styles of Real French Lace Curtains, selling for $7.50 a pair. All hand-made, personally selected in France for Pittsburg admirers of inexpensive real lace curtains.

Tuesday, October 4, 1904.

Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister at Washington, it is said, has been selected by the Chinese government to visit the principal world powers in the interest of preserving Chinese integrity at the end of the war in Manchuria. Mr. Wu is a man of ability and discretion and no better emissary could have been chosen. As for the object of his mission, it will be welcomed at Washington. We believe it will be given support at London. Beyond that it all depends upon circumstances. Japan has pledged the restoration of territory to China with only the condition that it shall be open to the trade of the world. We believe Japan will redeem that pledge if it is victor and if it is not, the powers should not permit Russia to take out its vengeance upon China, or recoup itself at China's expense.

Washington county is deprived of its foremost statesman by the death of Hon. George Van Eman Lawrence at Monongahela. Mr. Lawrence was first elected to the house at Harrisburg in 1844 and to the senate in 1849. After a period he returned to the senate in 1860 and was its speaker in 1863, going to congress in 1864. In 1875 Mr. Lawrence appeared again as a member of the house at Harrisburg and in 1882 was again chosen as representative in congress. Finally he was returned to the state house for the third time in 1892, serving two terms. This unique record was only possible to a man of the lovable character of Mr. Lawrence. During his long political career the breath of suspicion was never breathed against him, and he died in the fullness of years honored by all who ever knew him.

One of the chief offenders in the St. Louis "boodle" cases has confessed to systematic bribery, which, he says, has prevailed in the municipal government of that city for at least 25 years, so that no bill could pass without the expenditure of money. His further testimony that a newspaper war with libelous attacks which was started against Mr. Folk will no doubt help the former district attorney, who is the Democratic candidate for governor. But Mr. Folk has won nearly all the prestige he could by his prosecutions of the "boodle gang," and it is a question whether St. Louis can be much further shocked by such continued admissions of crime. Revelations concerning corruption in our cities have ceased to be sensational, and if they can arouse organized and persistent warfare instead of periodical outbursts of indignation there will be hope of correcting the abuses.

After a battleship has been put in commission and is ready to defend herself against an enemy, it is comparatively easy to prevent such despicable attempts as have been made to do the Connecticut injury while she was being constructed in the Brooklyn navy yard. Admiral Rodgers has discovered that some miscreant endeavored to injure an armor plate; later an obstacle was put in the ways so that the ship might have been diverted in the delicate process of launching, and finally it was found that a hole had been bored through her keel so that she leaked badly. Thousands of workmen have surrounded the vessel by day, so it is probable that the vandalism was done at night, and now that the monster is afloat it is proposed to prevent any further injuries by the protection afforded by armed guards and electric lights. While there is some mystery about the offender and his motives, there is no reason to suspect an organized plot to destroy our warships or even prevent their completion.

In his speech opening the political campaign in England, Premier Balfour made a statement as regards his tariff ideas which will increase the existing confusion of parties. He has heretofore declared himself as agreeing with Mr. Chamberlain as regards the necessity of a change of policy, although not adopting Mr. Chamberlain's ideas as to what that change should be. Now he declares that he does not wish to be considered a protectionist, and that if the protective policy should be adopted he could not remain the party leader, but he did not make clear what he does want. He was more explicit as regards the Irish question, saying that there would be no bargaining between the Unionist party and the Irish Nationalist party, which hopes to hold the balance of power in the next parliament. The confusion into which the Unionist party has been thrown by the issues raised by Mr. Chamberlain gives the Irish party an unusually good opportunity of holding the balance of power. The Unionist party was formed to resist Gladstone's movement in favor of home rule for Ireland. Mr. Balfour's leadership is too irresolute to hold it together in the presence of the new fiscal issues, and a break-up is impending in the course of which Chamberlain is likely to come to the front as the leader of a new party devoted to the idea of imperial reciprocity.

When the Rockefeller institute was started in New York City two years ago it was announced that special attention was to be given to the study of children's diseases, and it was hoped that under its direction proof could be obtained of the value of serum for the cure of summer complaint so fatal to infants, especially in the tenement house districts of large cities. It was Mr. Rockefeller's wish that a special study be made of this, as the founding of the institution was suggested by the death of a favorite grandchild. Now the second annual report has been issued and admits that experiments and observation in the use of the serum have been disappointing. Nearly half of the patients to whom it was administered did not recover and only about a dozen showed an improvement. This result must be discouraging, not only to the medical staff, but to the founder as well, for every opportunity was afforded for the experiments, both by hospitals and practitioners.

Cannot Escape Our Obligations.

The Democratic claim that the Filipinos are victims of tyranny and are entitled to their independence is a serious business for those who are responsible for the maintenance of order in that country. Such an agitation is full of incitement to revolt and the injury done is felt not only by the civil administration, but also by all the churches laboring in that field. In the last number of the Churchman the Rt. Rev. C. H. Brent, Protestant Episcopal bishop of the Philippines, dwells upon the necessity of sustaining the present policy for the sake of justice and liberty to the Filipinos themselves. Commenting upon his article, the Churchman remarks that it is a plain matter of moral obligation for us to maintain order in the Philippines:

> We can no more give them to themselves than we could deport the colored race. The declaration of an intention to give them independence at some definite period would be simply a notification to some other nation to assume responsibility for them. All discussion, therefore, of setting them free or giving them independence is purely academic. We dare not do it if we could, and we could not do it if we would, without bringing dishonor upon ourselves.

Every religious organization engaged in work in the Philippines would regard with horror any serious attempt of our government to withdraw from its responsibilities there. Those who are in the field and who know the situation from their own observation and experience are unanimous in regarding the maintenance of our authority as essential to the advancement of the Filipinos. Having ousted Spain from her jurisdiction, we have made ourselves responsible for the welfare of the Filipinos, and no matter what we do or say, we cannot escape from our moral obligations. No matter what pretext might be invented to excuse our conduct in abandoning the Philippines, we should remain morally responsible for all the consequences, and those consequences would inevitably be pernicious.

Canada's Political Campaign.

Canada too is engaged in a political campaign which will determine the party character of her next administration. Canadian political machinery, however, works more rapidly than ours. The campaign has begun much later and will end a little sooner than our own. On last Thursday the Dominion parliament was dissolved and new elections were ordered to take place November 3, five days before our elections take place. The whole campaign in Canada begins and ends in a little over a month.

The secret of this expedition is that there is no general ticket and the election is confined to the choice of members of parliament in the various districts. It is as if in our elections there were only candidates for congress to be chosen and whichever party got the majority of the congressmen took charge of the administration. Not only is the public choice exerted more rapidly in Canada, but it also takes effect quicker. The new parliament will meet soon after it is elected while the congress elected in this fall will not convene until December of next year, and meanwhile the expiring congress will hold another session.

Both parties in Canada are now committed to the protective policy so that it does not figure as an issue in the campaign. The Liberal party now in power has passed protective tariff laws and the Conservative party cordially accepts the principle. Mr. Borden, the Conservative party leader, in the opening speech of his canvass, argued that the development of Canadian resources would tend to increase the home market for agriculturist as well as manufacturer and in reply to the manifesto of a free trade association, he bluntly declared: "If they mean that I am to introduce a tariff that will close up the factories in the vain hope that we are to get better prices than we are getting at present, then if you want any man who will put into force any such tariff as that, you had better select some other man than the man who is now addressing you." This is as if Judge Parker should say that he believes in protection just as much as President Roosevelt and that the man who wants a free trade tariff revision should find some body else for whom to vote.

Public sentiment throughout Canada is so unanimously in favor of doing everything possible to stimulate the development of Canadian industry that the only place where party differences can find room to exist is as regards the application of a policy upon whose general character all are agreed. The main subject of public interest is a proposal to build a new trans-continental road to provide the grain fields of the Canadian northwest with outlets wholly upon Canadian soil and in no respect dependent upon connections with the railway system of the United States. Both parties favor the construction of the road, but they differ upon some questions of detail. Whichever way the election goes it will put in power an administration intent upon promoting Canadian industrial development and commercial independence by every possible means.

Our Influence for Peace.

There was no uncertainty in the greeting Secretary Hay conveyed for the administration in his address before the international peace congress which opened its session in Boston yesterday. He represented President Roosevelt as sympathizing with every movement for the advancement of peace between the nations. The president has not only consented to call another session of The Hague tribunal to consider matters which were discussed at the first meeting and left unsettled, but Secretary Hay announced that he was ready to make arbitration treaties with such nations as were willing to enter into such arrangement with us.

Secretary Hay explained that the president was reluctant to propose any peace negotiations during the past summer, when the two nations at war might take offense at the idea of interfering with them. That this self-restraint was not due to any lack of courage is evident by the fact that just on the eve of an election the president has announced his intention of reassembling The Hague convention when party critics would be sure to make it appear a political measure. But the opportunity for the announcement came with the petition of the interparliamentary union which recently assembled in St. Louis, and he was forced to grant or else refuse the request, knowing that he would be criticised for either position.

There is ground for the hope that the influence of the United States will accomplish substantial results in behalf of better understandings between the nations and the final triumps of arbitration in the settlement of disputes. Each international tangle that Secretary Hay has had a hand in unraveling and every decision he has promulgated for this country that has been accepted as a precedent strengthens our international position and adds to the moral effect of our counsels. At no time has our national prestige been so great as now and it has been steadily employed in the cause of peace.

Taxing Public Corporations.

On the same day that the Allegheny county courts declared the linear license tax bill void the appeal tax court of Baltimore declared, in the case of the Consolidated Gas Company of that city, that it must pay taxes upon its securities as actual property. There is consternation among the public service corporations of Baltimore as a result. The decision in this case is based on the fact that because the gas company has issued stock to represent its franchises it concedes actual value and is, therefore, liable to taxation at the same rate as real property. This ruling is the equivalent of that of the New York courts in the corporation tax cases, though differing in form. It is a recognition of the decision of the United States courts in the Monongahela Navigation Company condemnation proceedings that a franchise once granted becomes actual property, of which it cannot be deprived without due compensation. The contention in that case, as is well remembered here, was that because the franchise was obtained from the public it could not be estimated as a part of the amount to be paid when the government was about to take over the property for the use of the public. That contention of the United States was not allowed. The value of the franchise was computed and included in the purchase price.

By the same reasoning the courts of the state of New York and now the tax appeal court of Baltimore hold that franchises are taxable property. The reasoning is logical. It is entirely equitable. And this points the rational way to secure from such corporations the share of public revenue due from them for the privileges they enjoy. Those privileges include the occupation of public property and the protection of the machinery of government in the conduct of their business. There is no good reason why they should not pay for these at the same rate that others pay. It may be that many of the public utility corporations have paid privately for their grants, but such payment being illegal, does not excuse from the payment of legal rates. There is in the Baltimore ruling a suggestion to Pittsburgh of the way to obtain the compensation to which it is entitled for the many public grants which have been given away by the politicians. State legislation will doubtless be necessary to bring such property within the basis of assessment, but the people of Pennsylvania should be as well able to obtain such legislation as the people of other commonwealths.

Women and other non-combatants have finally been ordered from Port Arthur. But how much better it would have been had they been sent out when Gen. Noga suggested it a month ago.

The Censorship Responsibilites.

The censorship is mainly responsible for the unreliability of the war news from the east. There are many newspaper correspondents ready to go to the front and take all the risks in getting at the truth; but the facts are studiously withheld from them. They must make the best they can from the imperfect means at their command. The newspapers and the newspaper readers of the present day are different from those of "our grandfathers' days." In other times the public was used to waiting for important news. Events that are now flashed to them in a night were formerly weeks and months on the way.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A trip through the subway, from City Hall park to Harlem, is today a novelty; a month hence, perhaps, it will be but a bit on one's daily routine. An hour and a half underground was the pleasure trip given a number of newspaper men this afternoon by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, and it proved an exceedingly interesting afternoon. The train left City Hall station at 2:37 and 17 minutes later emerged from the tunnel at One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street; then continued on to One Hundred and Forty-first street; then returned to Ninety-sixth street and took the eastern leg of the tunnel to One Hundred and Forty-fifth street and Lexington avenue. The up-trip was made on a speed schedule, but the return was more leisurely, stops being made at all stations. These brief stops permitted the newspaper men to see there is yet much work to be done before the subway will be open to the public. However, the officials declare that the trains will be run regularly on the 27th, as heretofore announced. Meanwhile trains are being run daily to teach the motormen and conductors. Many of them were passed as we rushed along.

The train upon which the newspaper men were given their first trip today was made up of five coaches. The first and last coaches were of steel, and the other three wood with copper sheathing up to the window ledges. It is claimed this copper sheathing is sufficient to prevent the coaches catching fire from the third rail in case of accident. It is also claimed the bedding of all the coaches is stronger than that of Pullman cars, which are claimed to be nontelescopic. However this may be, it is evident the company has made every possible provision for the safety of passengers. Undoubtedly the subway will prove to have many advantages over the elevated. The speed will be greater, the noise very much less, and the solidity of the roadbed, which is sometimes 125 feet below the street level and cut through solid rock, makes the trains run much more smoothly. Then there is the absence of dust, and the temperature will also be more even. Just now there is a musty smell about the tunnel, but there is no apparent dampness, and the mustiness will soon be overcome when the road is finished. Then will a trip through the subway become one of the events of a visit to the metropolis.

Objection to the Big Race.

The people of Nassau county will hold an indignation meeting tomorrow to protest against the Vanderbilt cup automobile race which is announced for Saturday. The Nassau people not only fear a machine will get away and puncture some of their houses, or kill a few people, but the oiling of the road is objected to, because it sticks to the feet of the pedestrians and spoils their carpets. This latter objection is probably the main one, for it chiefly concerns the careful housewives along the route, and causes them to urge their phlegmatic husbands to action. No woman will stand for having her carpets ruined to give the "four hundred" a holiday if she can help it. But the board of supervisors of the county have granted a permit for the race, and it remains to be seen whether the women or the automobile people will come out victorious.

Hospitals Need More Money.

While Columbia has been having a prosperous year, the city hospitals are crying for aid. There is talk among the physicians of trying the Pennsylvania plan of having the hospitals all over the state partially cared for by appropriations from the state treasury. As it is now, the institutions in this city are badly crippled financially, and in the Roosevelt hospital one ward had to be closed for want of funds. The difficulty of raising sufficient money by private subscription has almost brought the boards to the end of their resources, and some sort of regular income must be provided for.

Good Year for Columbia.

The people of New York have gone down into their pockets handsomely this year for Columbia university, and the total donations reached the comfortable sum of $1,783,188, which is $750,000 more than was received in 1902 and $80,000 more than was ever before received in any one year, which was 1903. This is not only a good indication of the generosity of the people of New York, but also an indication that money is a little easier, for it is in good times that people are willing to help educational institutions. Still, with all the money received, Columbia will find good use for it and as much more as comes in.

Birds Are Soaring Higher This Year.

"The large cold bottle and the small hot bird" are as popular as ever. The prices are not. The stringency of the game laws and the scarcity of the birds in the woods is a combination even a resourceful restaurateur cannot beat. Consequently the prices for the real article in the way of game are going almost as high as the birds did before they became food. But there are plenty of imitations, and when a good chef gets through with the imitation only an expert can be sure he is being imposed upon. The others needn't mind, on the old principle that what we don't know won't hurt us.

Nips of New York News.

Judge Parker is now said to be very anxious to have as many orators out drumming up votes as possible. He is evidently one of those leaders who send men to do the work which they object to themselves.

The supreme court began work today on a docket of more than 11,000 cases. "No man knows when the end shall come."

The lid was not down tight enuogh to hide that fatal prize fight. It was not the only prize fight "pulled off" in the city recently, either.

Now that New York has the National league pennant, one would think that the American pennant would not worry the fans, but they are just as blue over the fact that the Highlanders are back in second place.

One of the features of the Twenty-second regiment's carnival the latter part of the month will be a giant's attempt to wrestle a bull, if someone does not interfere.

No Desire for Change.

But the Fifteenth congressional district is not willing to assist in hampering the Republican administration by sending a Democrat to congress. They don't want for a long time to come any monkeying with the tariff, the financial question, nor our foreign policy, and they will "stand pat," you may be sure, and roll up the usual presidential year vote for Mr. Deemer.—Wellsboro Agitator.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Would you like to know who put the war of the rebellion down and out?

If so all you need do is to go up to Johnstown today or tomorrow and mingle with the old boys of the fighting Fifty-fourth regiment. There you will hear the answer to the great question ringing through the air.

Now, as if to clinch it and make it a regular cinch, the boys have invited a number of Johnnies to come up out of the south country and join in the campfire dances, and tell a few gray yarns by way of contrast to the blue; also to give testimony concerning the fatal blow, when, where and by whom delivered.

The Fifty-fourth was a fighting regiment, but it is modest enough and generous enough not to claim all the honors, for there were others, the Seventy-eighth, for instance, with a few outside of the state.

But there was only one Fifty-fourth, and it is going to get together again and storm Johnstown, just by way of keeping up its traditions.

And Johnstown is ready and waiting for the assault, and proposes to welcome the assailants with open hands to hospitable homes.

And by way of conclusively proving that the war is over its hospitality will be extended to a number of the boys in gray who have accepted Old Glory as their flag and are proud to march beneath its folds.

\+ + + +

Some there are among us—some who were in the Union army, and others who were not—who look upon these reunions with the boys in gray as a sort of clap-trap, if not a tacit confession that they were right and we were wrong.

This is a wrong view, for the truly brave are always generous and forgiving.

But the objectors say the Johnnies don't ask to be forgiven, which may be true, and yet not warrant ostracism on the part of Union veterans.

There is no doubt but the great majority of those who fought for the lost cause were as honest in their convictions as were those who fought against this.

Our beliefs are according to our teachings. This is everywhere proven by the existence of various religious denominations, political parties and opposing forces in the social world.

The southern people had been taught that the institution of slavery was divinely sanctioned if not divinely ordained. This doctrine was taught from the pulpit as well as from the platform and in schools.

The doctrine of state rights was also fundamental and held to be the more sacred of all political doctrines.

Having been schooled in these doctrines for three generations or more, it would have been practically impossible for the average southern man to have believed otherwise.

The southern people knew, as well as did those of the north, that the government divided as it was on these fundamental questions could not stand. Great efforts had been persistently made to settle this in congress and in the supreme court, but without avail, so that there was but one court of appeal, the court of war.

To this court the case was referred, and after three years of argument, fierce, bloody argument, the case was decided against slavery and state rights. From this decision there could be no appeal, for there was no higher court this side of heaven.

The wiser and more thoughtful men of the south accepted the verdict as final and graciously acquiesced in the abolition of slavery and the abrogation of the doctrine of state rights.

With the abolition of these it was possible to establish a union of all the states, a union into one body—the United States of America, E Pluribus Unum.

Instead of independent states we now have the independence of the United States, which is acknowledged the world over, and accepted as one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of all political powers on the face of the earth, which never would have been possible while the doctrine of the sovereignty of independent states existed.

The union is no longer merely tacit, but actual, positive, efficient.

Every fair and reasonable man of the south concedes all this, for there is nothing else left that is logical, or even sane.

That the men of the south do accept the new order of things is shown not only in their acknowledgement of the sovereign government, but by their willingness to defend its flag against all comers, and to follow wherever it leads as a representation of the sentiment of the people.

Besides, it is evident, and is becoming more and more so, that the thoughtful, reasoning and reasonable men of the south now see and understand that the result of the arbitration of arms was best for the nation, its very salvation, in fact.

No longer is it written "the United States are," but "the United States is" a nation. It is a unit of power, a political force far greater in power than the states could ever have been without the close and indissoluable union that now exists.

John Bright, the great English political economist and statesman who, during our war sympathized with the south and hoped and believed it would win, said at the close of hostilities that if a union of states was effected successfully it would not be 40 years before there could be no great international war, nor change in the political map of the world, without the consent of the United States.

For once John Bright's prediction came true.

The reason why the southern soldier fought so well, endured hardships so bravely, and stuck to his course so nobly, was because he was an American soldier, than whom no better can be found on the face of the earth.

The American soldier is neither a fool nor a knave, nor is he a soldier of fortune, but a soldier who fights for something worth while, and fights intelligently as well as bravely. His intelligence and his wonderful cleverness in campaigning led to the remark made by Gen. Sherman: "These are all generals," indicating the moving mass of men by a broad sweep of his hand.

The trial of that famous case by the code of war cost many, many millions in treasure, and untold values in human life, but the verdict was worth it all.

Not only have the states in the Union more than regained the treasure expended, but the nation is more powerful in men and in intelligence. It is now in the forefront and setting the pace for the procession of the nations of the world.

It is a proud thing to be of this nation, but something to be still prouder of that we are of it a part and helped to establish it by assisting in eliminating and effectually destroying the elemental doctrines which rendered it weak and unstable.

The Palladium of Liberty.

A great man once declared that the entire machinery of the British government existed to get 12 average men into a jury box. The saying was a paradox, and yet it conveyed an abiding truth. When the litigant faces a jury he puts himself to the judgment of his country. Free men can never be content with a smaller judge. Find fault with the jury as they may, men who have known the real freedom it secures will never consent to abolish it. With all its inconveniences, the jury is indeed "the palladium of liberty."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

New York's Fight Against Smoke.

In New York they not only make war on their own smoke producers, but they get after outside offenders. The West End association, for instance, has employed three attorneys and will proceed against individuals and corporations located in New Jersey. For years, it appears, smoke and blasting and chemical fumes have been wafted across the North river from the Jersey shore opposite One Hundred and Fourth street, to the great annoyance of people living on Riverside drive.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Mr. Davis' Letter

New York Tribune (Rep.): In his letter of acceptance the Hon. Henry G. Davis deals very gingerly and cautiously with national issues. As in his speech at the White Sulphur Springs, he shies at genuine political discussion. He presents a few scattering criticisms of Republican policy, but has no intelligible or positive program of his own to offer. It might have been expected that the venerable candidate for vice president would discard in this formal letter some of the misstatements and evasions which marred his earlier campaign utterances. We regret to say that, though modified, these distortions of fact have not been squarely and honestly abandoned.

Philadelphia Ledger (Ind.): We do not think that Mr. Davis' letter of acceptance will add a new stimulus to the campaign, but it should engage the attention of the electorate, whether of one party or another, as it is a clear presentment of the issues of the Democratic party. It is proper and desirable that voters should vote not only in good conscience, but intelligently.

New York World (Dem.): The letter of Mr. Davis accepting the Democratic nomination for the vice presidency, a business-like discussion of business issues by a business man, is a welcome foil to the claptrap of the "spellbinders."

Cleveland Leader (Rep.): Yet the letter is not a discreditable one of its kind, for it has the virtue of clearness, and there is little straining after effect. The general tone is simple and straightforward, though some of the statements made are ill-founded expressions of opinion, and others are based on mistaken premises.

New York Herald (Ind.): Mr. Davis' letter accepting the Democratic nomination for the vice presidency is written in the style of a business document. He is the only candidate selected at either the Chicago or the St. Louis convention from the class most deeply connected with the commercial interests of the country, and this fact, together with his wide political experience as a United States senator, will lend peculiar weight to his utterances.

Philadelphia Inquirer (Rep.): From beginning to end, with the exception of the tariff, which he handles very gingerly, there is not a single suggestion indicating how changes for the betterment of governmental affairs should be made. As for the tariff, he is at loggerheads with the platform of his own party. The platform declares protection to be a robbery of the many for the benefit of the few. With this he does not agree. In revising the tariff it is his desire to "legislate with a due regard for the labor and capital involved in industrial enterprises."

That is Republican doctrine.

Philadelphia Record (Ind.): The views Mr. Davis expresses upon the tariff are those of the great mass of Democrats, and it is silly of the Republicans to pretend that he is not in entire accord with his party. The tariff is very much too high, and this fosters monopolies and burdens consumers. That is the opinion of the Democratic party and of its candidate for vice president.

Higher Life for Indian.

The government and mission schools for the Indians have an attendance of 30,000 Indians. Industrial training for the boys and domestic science for the girls are the chief branches inculcated, and by thus going to the root of the matter and teaching the youth of the race the fundamental laws of civilization, the lot of the Indian will be improved by the quickest and surest methods. The industrial triumphs of these Indian boys will remove the traditional idea of their race that it is a disgrace for men to work, and the domestic training of the girls will show their people the worth of homes and stimulate them in their desire to earn and keep them. And when the home instinct is strongly implanted, the higher national life will follow as a logical result.—Baltimore American.

Mr. Bryan Without a Tongue.

Bryan has a cold. His talker is out of order. Therefore Mr. Bryan does not exist; for a Bryan without a tongue were like a Neptune without a trident, a Samson shorn of his hair, a Scanderbeg bereft of his arm, or an Argus of his eyes, a Gyges of his ring or a Perseus of his Pegasus and Gorgon's head. He were in fact a Milo without strength, an Absalom without beauty, an Orpheus without melody, a Croesus without wealth, a Jupiter without dignity or a Solomon without wisdom and glory.—Kansas City Star.

Mistake of the Founders.

The London Express refers to "Springfield, U. S." Evidently the Express doesn't know that there are 27 Springfields in this country, not to mention 15 Springvilles, a long list of Springfield Centers, junctions and stations and so many Springvales, Springtowns and Springdales that busy people can hardly be expected to count them. A great mistake was made by the founders of this republic when they neglected to employ somebody for the sole purpose of thinking up names for the towns and cities that were to be built.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Militia and Mobs.

Not only with respect to lynching of negroes in the south, but with respect to "labor troubles" in the north, the police force that can alone be trusted is a force which does not partake of local prejudices or local sympathies, a force which knows nothing but its orders, and of which the orders aim only at the supremacy of law and the suppression of disorder, no matter on what plea the disorder is raised. There is only one such force in this country, and that is the United States army.—New York Times.

Senator Hoar as a Brahmin.

The man whose death has brought deep mourning to Massachusetts and sincere sorrow throughout the nation belonged to what Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes was wont to call the "Brahmin" class of New England. He came of intelligent, educated and cultivated stock, and was himself one of the best exponents of that New England culture that, ridicule it as we may, has made a profound impression upon the history of our own times.—Cleveland Leader.

Devery Was a Disciplinarian.

Devery and Deveryism were all that was said against them and more than could in decent print be said. And yet Devery was a policeman. He did have a rude, strong hand for discipline. His men did "pound the pavement." "Graft" did flourish in his time, but petty criminals did not work unchecked and hoodlums did not rule the town.—New York World.

SCHWAB SCHOOL IS OPEN TO ALL

Homestead Directors Recede from Their Position on Learning It Is Illegal.

VERY BITTER FIGHT ENDS

After quarreling for nearly two years over the matter, the faction holding the majority vote in the Homestead borough school board has decided to allow children from the parochial schools to enter the Charles M. Schwab Manual Training school in Homestead as pupils. The decision was arrived at last night at a meeting of the borough school board, when an opinion prepared by Charles Ashley, attorney for the board, was read.

When the manual training school opened and the question of admitting pupils was brought up, the majority of the board decided by a vote that children from the parochial schools would not be admitted as pupils. The decision caused considerable hard feeling in the Monongahela valley, especially in Homestead.

The board refused to reconsider its decision and then the matter was brought to the notice of the courts and preparations were made for a determined legal fight by both sides. The parents of Catholic children and the minority members of the board appealed to Mr. Schwab, doner of the school, to use his influence with the board, but he refused to interfere in the matter.

The subject of the admission of parochial school pupils has been agitated constantly since and finally the attorney of the school board was asked to give an opinion. There was considerable surprise expressed when the opinion was heard last night. Attorney Ashley notified the board that it cannot bar any child of proper age and morality, so long as the child succeeds in passing an examination proscribed by the board.

The rule laid down by the manual training school committee of the Homestead school board, at the opening of the Schwab school, was that all candidates for admission to the school must have reached the sixth grade as pupils in the Homestead public schools to be eligible to the manual training school.

The manual training school committee was instructed last night to have prepared rules governing the admission of Homestead children not pupils of the borough public schools. Several members of the school board favor making a rule that only children who have reached the high school grade will be eligible to become pupils of the Schwab school.

MORE SIGN SUITS.

Ordinance Officer Keeps After Those Whose Bright Beacons Violate an Ancient Law.

Three suits, brought by Ordinance Officer Murray Livingstone against as many defendants for maintaining swinging signs, were heard yesterday before Alderman John Groetzinger. One of the suits was the second brought against S. Hamilton, the Wood street music dealer. A representative of that firm made the statement that Mr. Hamilton had given orders to readjust the sign so that it would not conflict with any city law, and that it would be placed against the building and not extend over the sidewalk. The suit was then withdrawn but Mr. Hamilton paid the costs.

Another suit was against the Hotel Newell, where a sign is bowed over the doorway. No defense was made in the matter and judgment was given against the proprietors.

Boyd, Boyd and Boyd, trunk dealers, put up a defense and when the alderman decided against them, gave notice they would take the matter to court.

HOSE TRUCK OVERTURNED INJURING TWO FIREMEN

Answering an Alarm for Fire at Fifth and Wood Street When Accident Occurred.

Two firemen were severely and three others slightly injured by the overturning of a hose truck at Liberty and Sixth avenues, yesterday afternoon, while answering an alarm for a fire at Fifth avenue and Wood street. The carriage turned completely over, pinioning Capt. Francis Murphy under it. David Ryan, a hoseman, was seated on top of the hose reel when the accident occurred. He was thrown 20 feet, alighting on his head on the pavement.

The men were attached to No. 18 engine company, whose quarters are in Eighth street. When the alarm came in Capt. Murphy took the reins, the regular driver being off duty. Other occupants of the truck, besides Ryan, were George McKenzie, Allen Hickey and James Moran. Just before the truck reached Sixth avenue the chemical engine from No. 32 turned into that thoroughfare. Murphy was urging the horses to their topmost speed. Turning into the avenue the wheels caught in a frog and the truck overturned.

Murphy was strapped in his seat and was helpless. The horses, however, stopped dead. The carriage was righted and the injured man, with Ryan, was carried into a nearby restaurant. Murphy's left ankle was crushed and he is thought to be suffering from internal injuries. Ryan's head was cut and his right leg injured. Hickey, McKenzie and Moran all escaped with but slight injuries and were able to resume their duty. The truck was only slightly damaged. A Babcock extinguisher was hurled to the sidewalk and began to play on passing pedestrians. The fire, which was among some waste in the cellar of the First National bank, did no damage.

Rockwood Hoar Nominated.

MAKE INSPECTION TOUR OF THE PENNSYLVANIA

President Cassatt and Directors Are on Their Annual Trip Over the System.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—President Cassatt and the directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company left here this morning on their annual inspection trip of the company's systems. The party inspected the terminals at Jersey City, Greenville, New York city and Long Island city, and the improvements now going on at these points; also the track elevation on the New York division. The large improvements on the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington railroad, including work in and about Washington, will receive attention tomorrow.

The directors will go west over the Northern Central railway, inspecting the large classification yards at Fairview and other points in and around Harrisburg, Altoona and Hollidaysburg. After examining the improvements in the Pittsburgh district, they will return over the new Brilliant branch and the main line, arriving in Philadelphia Friday night.

When the kidneys are sick there is always a warning to tell you of it, and when the kidneys call for help there is no time to lose. Kidney diseases are common and fatal—cause more deaths every year than any other human ills. But in nine cases out of ten this is due to neglect. Kidney disorders are easily contracted, but just as easily cured when treated properly and in time.

Common causes of kidney troubles are colds, fevers, exposure, strains on the back, blood-poisoning diseases and indulgence in stimulants.

The kidneys are the blood filters, and when they become sick the blood is soon laden with impurities, which the kidneys have failed to remove. This causes backache, stiff, lame and sore muscles, aching joints, spells of dizziness, headaches, rheumatic pains, sleeplessness, nervousness and languor, weak heart and many other bodily aches and ills.

Meanwhile the kidneys are fast breaking down, and from this cause the urine becomes discolored and full of sandy sediment; passages are too frequent and often painful.

Uric acid crystallizes and causes gravel and kidney stones. The bladder cannot perform its natural duties. Water which should pass off in the urine collects in different parts of the body, causing dropsical bloating.

The final outcome is either dreaded diabetes or fatal Bright's Disease. Nothing can cure the sufferer at any stage except a medicine that cures the kidneys.

There is one remedy which never fails to cure sick kidneys—Doan's Kidney Pills. This specific helps the kidneys to take out all the kidney poisons. Its effects are lasting. Hundreds of cures have been made by Doan's Kidney Pills in this city, and many grateful people testify. Here's one home case.

PITTSBURGH PROOF.

Mrs. William Armour of 22 Fulton street, says: "My troubles began with pain across the small of my back. It grew worse gradually until I was unable to go about my work. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I did so and the first few doses helped me. This was about six years ago, and since then when I have had the opportunity to speak well of Doan's Kidney Pills to anybody I do so. I always keep this remedy in the house and occasionally take a few doses to guard against a return of the trouble I once had. I am right here in Pittsburgh, where anyone can call and see me and I shall always be glad to tell any sufferer of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills."

OUT EARLY TO SEE FAIRBANKS

Citizens of California Shower Fruit and Flowers Upon the Senator.

TOURING THE GOLDEN WEST

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MARYSVILLE, CAL., Oct. 3.—Charles W. Fairbanks and Senator Fulton of Oregon began a campaign of California at Redding before breakfast today. The train drew into Redding during the night and the senators awoke to the music of a brass band. A stand had been erected near the station, and when the vice presidential candidate and his associate were escorted to it they found a crowd awaiting them.

Senator Fairbanks said that he had last been in Redding when President McKinley was a candidate for president. When McKinley's name was cheered, he told his hearers that while they did well to applaud that name, they should bear in mind that they have in President Roosevelt a candidate who is inspired by the same lofty purposes as his predecessor.

Senator Fairbanks was made the recipient of numerous presents of flowers and fruits. One man at Redding presented to him some fine specimens of mountain trout, which were cooked for the senator's breakfast.

The Fairbanks train was welcomed at Red Bluff by the screeching of locomotive whistles and the beating of drums and a great crowd. Senator Fairbanks appealed for a continuance of Republican policies, saying that we are so constituted that we must all go upward together under Republican policies or downward together under Democratic policies. He said that the record of the Republican party for the last 44 years was such as to inspire confidence.

Chico furnished one of the largest crowds of the day. The speeches at Chico were made from the rear platform, and both Senators Fairbanks and Fulton were warmly greeted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Charles W. Fairbanks and Senator Fulton tonight addressed an immense audience at Mechanics pavilion. Senator Fairbanks devoted much of his time to the Panama canal and to the extension of American trade in the orient. He also made a general contention for the continuance of the Republican policy of protection and for the maintenance of the gold standard, and defended the course of the Republican party in the Philippines.

HOKE SMITH RAISES THE NEGRO BUGABOO

Says the Attitude of Republican Party Threatens the Tranquility of the South.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 3.—The Hon. Hoke Smith of Georgia, secretary of the interior in President Cleveland's second cabinet, spoke on the issues of the campaign here tonight. Mr. Smith was introduced by United States Senator Overman. He spoke in part as follows:

"The attitude of the Republican party and its candidate for president threatens the peace and tranquility of the south. This section was already confronted with a serious problem—the presence of 8,000,000 negroes, the large majority of whom need direction in their daily walks of life from their white neighbors. This daily aid is required on account of the superior qualities of the white race. Any effort to force equality will necessarily injure the negroes as well as disorganize the relations under which the agricultural and commercial growth of the south must take place.

"Under the wise administrations of Cleveland, Harrison and McKinley each day brought new evidence that the problem of two different races living side by side was handled wisely and justly by the stronger race, freed from outside interference.

"The harm already accomplished by Roosevelt and the Republicans is serious. The south is contributing a full part of the commercial growth of the country. A blow against our section injures all sections."

Italians Form Republican Club.

MONONGAHELA, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—An enthusiastic Roosevelt and Fairbanks campaign club was organized here by the Italians of this community. At a meeting in Lazzari hall Lewis Lazzari was elected president and A. Adabbato secretary. A committee was appointed to draft by-laws and a constitution. About 300 Italians will join the club, which will have a band.

Gray is Elected to Councils.

Braddock borough council last night elected G. E. Frank Gray to fill the seat of the late Councilman Robert Holland. The election was unanimous. Council also made a new contract with the Allegheny County Light Company for 120 arc lights for five years at $75 each a year.

Dalzell Speaks at Bellaire.

BELLAIRE, O., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The Republicans opened the campaign here tonight with a rousing meeting. The new city hall was packed to hear the Hon. John Dalzell of Pittsburgh.

APPOINTMENTS COME TO LOCAL INSURANCE MEN

C. M. Logue and Harry A. Logue Become General Managers for the Pittsburgh Territory of the German Insurance Co., Freeport, Ill., and the Western Association of Chicago.

C. M. Logue and H. A. Logue, of the firm of C. M. Logue & Bro., have been appointed eastern managers of the German Insurance Company of Freeport, Ill., and for the Western Underwriters' Association of Chicago, Ill. The event is regarded as an important one in insurance circles, because of the long experience and high standing in the community of the new managers and the splendid character and national prominence of the companies whose interests in this territory have been entrusted to them.

C. M. Logue and H. A. Logue began business in 1886 at 71 Federal street, Allegheny. They were successful from the start and soon removed to larger quarters in Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, where they now occupy the entire third floor of the Safe Deposit & Trust Company building at 245 and 247 Fourth avenue. Their offices are among the most perfectly equipped and elegantly furnished in the country. Fair dealing with their customers is the solid basis of the firm's substantial growth.

The local agency will be continued as heretofore under the style of C. M. Logue & Bro., and the general agency business will be conducted under the name of Logue Bros. & Co. throughout the entire Pittsburgh territory. The motto of C. M. Logue & Bro. has always been: "Settle all losses, adjust and pay them promptly," and this motto will be faithfully adhered to in their management of the German Insurance Company and the Western Underwriters' Association.

The German Insurance Company of Freeport, Ill., is one of the strongest and most favorably known insurance companies in the country. The last financial statement of the company, showing its condition on July 1, 1904, gave total assets of over $5,000,000; reserve for reinsurance of over $3,000,000 and a net surplus of over $1,500,000. The company occupies its own building in Chicago, New Orleans and San Francisco and contemplates the erection of a fine office building in Pittsburgh.

Harry A. Logue is a director in the Cosmopolitan National bank and C. M. Logue is a director in the Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., the Guarantee Title & Trust Company and Homewood Peoples bank. He is also president of the American Stogie Company.

SWALLOW JOKES JUDGE PARKER

Suggests Joint Tour and Subjects Each Might Emphasize and Evade.

POINTS OF COMMUNICATION

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Dr. Silas C. Swallow, Prohibition candidate for president, has addressed a letter to Judge Parker, the Democratic candidate, suggesting a joint tour, to save expenses to both parties. Said he, in part:

You would doubtless maintain, as in your letter, that "a great wrong to a weaker nation had been done by President Roosevelt in the method employed in acquiring the Panama canal route," but, nevertheless, we should forgive ourselves for the sin thus committed, and demonstrate to the world our self-indulgence, by "proceeding with due diligence in the work of constructing the canal, a duty that should be promptly performed." The ethics of this seeming paradox could be illustrated by the venerable adage: "One might as well be hung for a sheep as for a lamb."

Silence on Gold Issue.

When it comes my turn to speak, I need not refer to your silence on the gold issue 'till sure of your nomination; nor of your having twice voted for the Bryan silver plank; nor to Mr. Bryan's declared purpose to do all in his power to elect you and your gold standard with the further purpose of reorganizing his party after election, on the silver basis, having, from his standpoint, done that issue all harm possible by electioneering for you. However, loyalty to my principles would compel me, though the process might be painful to you, to suggest an answer to one inquiry in your letter, viz.: "Shall economy of administration be demanded or shall extravagance be encouraged?" My answer would be yes to the first question and no to the second. I could then proceed to demonstrate how, if elected, you or I could "demand economy" and discourage "extravagance" by putting in the first message to congress a recommendation, to submit to a popular vote, the adoption of an abendment to the Constitution.

1st. Dissolving the profit-sharing partnership existing between the government and the liquor traffic; and

2d. Forever prohibiting the manufacture and sale as a beverage of all intoxicating liquors.

Such a law executed by officials, friendly to it would have saved last year fourteen hundred millions of dollars direct cost, and an equal amount for caring for criminals and paupers, the product of the traffic.

Neither Need Take Offense.

By mutual agreement, if you should happen to refer to "Cranks, long-haired men and short-haired women," I must not take offense by thinking it a reference to the Prohibition party. And on the other hand, if I, following my preacher proclivities quote the text, "The wicked shall be turned into hell with all the nations that forget God," you must not take offense by interpreting it as referring to the Democratic party.

And again, in the interest of harmony, which in this case will promote your cherished "economy," you must not refer to some of the bishops of my Methodist Episcopal church, as ignoring their book of discipline which says "no political party ought to receive the support of Christian men so long as it fails to put itself on record in an attitude of open hostility to the liquor traffic;" and I for my part will be silent concerning the desecrating consecration of the Subway saloon of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Potter of your Protestant Episcopalian church. I must respectfully draw the line on your national chairman, Saloon Promoter Taggart, accompanying our economic aggregation.

To Open Campaign in Mercer.

SHARON, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The Republican campaign in Mercer county will open with a meeting in Sharon, October 24, when Congressman Sibley and James Francis Burke of Pittsburgh will give addresses. Meetings are also being arranged for Sharpsville, Sheakleyville, Greenville, Grove City, Sandy Lake and Millbrook.

Spread Terror With Hatchet.

Frank Morknow, a Slav, had absolute control of Potterville, the Slavish settlement near the Homestead steel works, for several hours yesterday, and only after three members of the Munhall police force fought with him for half an hour was he subdued and placed in the lockup. Morknow was drunk and terrorized the community with a hatchet, striking several women with the flat side.

Changes at Braddock Bank.

C. A. Stokes, a real estate broker of Braddock, was yesterday elected president of the State Bank of Braddock to succeed the late Robert H. Holland. Mr. Holland was the founder of the bank. Former Burgess Henry C. Shallenberger was chosen first vice president to succeed Mr. Stokes and Harry Shallenberger was elected to succeed his father as cashier.

THE DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Adalede Bell Ramsey.

Mrs. Adalede Bell Ramsey, aged 73, the last member of the older generation of the Bell family of Carnegie, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Pratt, 612 Idlewood avenue, East Carnegie, of old age. She was born in the Bell homestead, which was built by her grandfather, John Bell, who settled in the territory now included in East Carnegie in 1768. Mrs. Ramsey was the daughter of Samuel and Mrs. Mary Bell and was married to E. R. Ramsey of Mt. Lebanon in 1851. She lived in Carnegie all her life, with the exception of a few years spent in Pittsburgh, and the place where she died is within a short distance of the home of her birth and that of her father's. Mrs. Ramsey was a charter member of the United Presbyterian church, Carnegie, and is survived by two sons and one daughter, Samuel B. of West Park, McKees Rocks; William R. of Hazelwood, and Mrs. Thomas Pratt; also by two grandchildren. Funeral services will be held tomorrow evening at her late home and interment will be made Thursday morning at the Chartiers cemetery.

Funeral of James L. Dunne.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon over the remains of James L. Dunne at his late home, 309 Emerson place, Allegheny. The services will be in charge of the uniformed branch of the Patriarch Militant. Mr. Dunne's death occurred Sunday evening and was caused by pneumonia. He was a member of Allegheny canton No. 32, P. M.; of Independent Order of Odd Fellows R. A. Lamberton encampment No. 126, Twin City lodge No. 241, Independent Order of Odd Fellows; Deborah lodge No. 27, D. of R., and Triumph circle No. 103, R. H. C.

William H. Imler.

William H. Imler, aged 54, died at his home, Sixth avenue and Ann street, Homestead, yesterday after a short illness of stomach trouble. He was born in Loysburg, Bedford county, Pa. He married Miss Leah Miller in 1876 and with his family moved to Glenwood about 15 years ago. Two years ago he moved to Homestead. He is survived by his widow and five children—L. F. Imler of Turtle Creek, Irwin Imler of Homestead, Mrs. Emma J. DeFord of Wilkinsburg, Mrs. Susan Lowrey of Glenwood and Mrs. Christie Graham of Homestead.

Funeral of Thompson Kyle.

The remains of Thompson Kyle were buried from his late home in Harrisville, where he was well known, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Thompson, who was aged 86, died at his home on Saturday of general debility. He was born in County Donegal, Ireland. He is survived by a brother, William Kyle; a son, David Kyle, a real estate agent; a nephew, Abe Pew, member of the firm of Pew & Glass, printers, and a niece, Mrs. S. Fowler, all residents of Pittsburgh.

Daniel McCraley.

Daniel McCraley, aged 45, a well-known resident of Carnegie, died yesterday morning at his home in Main street. Mr. McCraley was an oil driller and his death was due to burns received in a gas explosion in West Virginia three weeks ago. He lived in Carnegie for 15 years. He is survived by his widow, four sons and a daughter. He was a member of St. Luke's Roman Catholic church, where funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. J. C. Titzel.

Mrs. J. C. Titzel, aged 40, died at her home in Glenshaw yesterday after a long illness. Mrs. Titzel was born in Allegheny and had lived in Glenshaw for 15 years. She was an active member of the Glenshaw Presbyterian church, and is survived by her husband and two daughters, Miss Clara and Miss Retta Titzel.

Mrs. William Seligman.

Mrs. William Seligman, wife of the banker of that name, died in Paris yesterday.

Obituary Notes.

J. Clyde Young, aged 38, a former wholesale tobacco dealer of this city, is dead of consumption at his late home in Strattonville, Pa. His widow, father and two brothers survive.

Mrs. Martha Price, aged 43, wife of William N. Price, died at the family home, 1706 Seventeenth avenue, Homestead, yesterday morning from a complication of diseases. She is survived by her husband and five children.

SCHLEY'S ONLY VOTE WAS FOR REPUBLICAN TICKET

Democratic National Committee Making Vain Effort to Have the Admiral Take the Stump.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, Oct. 3.—It can be stated on reliable authority that the Democratic national committee is endeavoring to induce Admiral Schley to join with Gen. Nelson A. Miles in a tour of the country as spellbinders in the interest of the Democratic ticket. Gen. Miles has already volunteered his services in this direction, and it is claimed that a number of prominent Marylanders have been requested by the national committeemen to use their good offices in inducing Admiral Schley to enter the scheme.

While the Democrats realize the fact that such a project would be a vote-getter, it is not thought that the admiral will consent to such an arrangement.

When Schley's name was prominently mentioned for the presidency four years ago, he did not take kindly to the idea, and remarked that should such a nomination come his way he would decline the honor.

In addition, it is said that Schley only voted once in his life, and that was to accommodate a friend in New York, who was a candidate on a local ticket. It is also claimed that this particular ticket was of a Republican composition.

HAPPIEST MAN IN UNCLE SAM'S NAVY.

"I am the happiest man in Uncle Sam's navy. I must have got the piles from always sitting on the guns, for I have to get on them to clean them, as I am first-class gunner's mate in the after turret.

"I could not do my work when I had the piles, my shipmates did it for me. I certainly was in a bad condition; today there is no man aboard the ship in better condition than I am, and I can certainly thank Pyramid Pile Cure for the world of good it has done me. I used so many different medicines and spent lots of money until I used this remedy; it is the only one of the whole lot that did me any good.

"The first box nearly cured me, and I don't think I ever felt happier in my life, that I thought I got the real stuff at last. To make sure of a cure I used a number of boxes, also two boxes of Pyramid Pills and one and one-half boxes of Pyramid Ointment, and I still have four boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure left, that I keep in case I meet anyone that is a sufferer of piles. I thank Pyramid Pile Cure a million times.'" Julius A. Koester, U. S. Flagship Kearsarge.

The wonderful cures effected by this remedy are subject for remark among members of the medical profession everywhere. A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and we advise every sufferer to write for it. It is a singular fact that one out of every four suffers from this distressing complaint, and another peculiar feature is that it is no respecter of persons, attacking both those of high and of low degree, the laborer and the millionaire, the scrubwoman and the lady of fashion. We have pleasure in recommending Pyramid Pile Cure to all such, as it possesses merit, and since it is sold by all druggists generally for the low price of fifty cents a package a prompt and speedy cure is easily within the reach of everyone.

Beautiful Women

realize that luxuriant hair of rich, youthful color always adds to their charms. The hair may be golden, black or brown, but when it becomes gray or faded there is an appearance of age, though she may feel as young as ever. Under these circumstances gray hair is a drawback to men and women.

Hay's HAIRHEALTH Keeps You Looking Young.

Always brings back the color and beauty of youth to gray or faded hair. Positively removes dandruff, kills the germ and stops hair falling. Does not soil skin or linen. SALE LASTS ONLY TEN DAYS

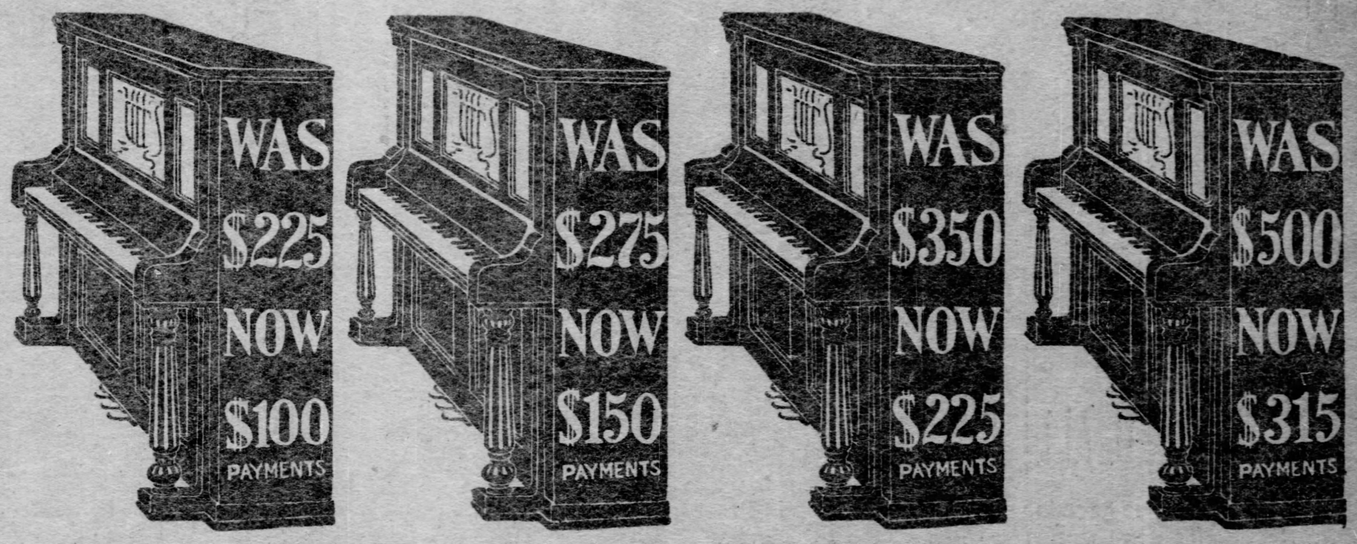
Best Piano Opportunity Ever Offered Pittsburghers

WE WILL SEND PIANOS ANYWHERE ON THE EASY PAYMENT PLAN



SALE BEGINS AT 8:30 SHARP THIS MORNING

Extensive alterations in our store building are quite necessary to accommodate our large and constantly increasing business. These alterations will necessitate the cutting away of division walls, changing elevator and stairway, laying new floors and ceilings throughout and installing more music parlors. Owing to the present over-crowded condition of our warerooms, and in order that the work may be done wisely and without interruption, we are compelled to CLOSE OUT A LARGE NUMBER OF PIANOS BY OCTOBER 15th.

No need to tell you that the gritty dust arising from brick and mortar is injurious to the highly-polished surfaces of pianos. No need to tell you that the piano cases would be damaged by moving them about or by the rubbish incident to the work, or that the workmen must have room. These things, while they make this sale necessary, scarcely need to be told.

Our stock comprises the highest class and best standard grade pianos, and we offer purchasers at this time probably the greatest variety of good pianos ever assembled under one roof in Pittsburgh, as follows:

Kimball Pianos	Chickering Bros. Pianos	Hallet & Davis Pianos
Steinway Pianos	Davenport & Tracy Pianos	Kranich & Bach Pianos
Capen Pianos	Whitney Pianos	Foster & Co. Pianos
Lighte & Co.	Hinze Pianos	Hardman Pianos

Practically all are brand new. Some, of course, are little used or store-worn and will be priced accordingly.

CRUSADERS TO KEEP UP FIGHT

Withdrawal of Support by Baptists Will Not Affect Sabbath Observance Association.

COMMITTEE COULD NOT MEET

"I suppose it will shut off our water supply and leave us in the same straits as Port Arthur," remarked the Rev. Dr. J. T. McCrory yesterday afternoon when asked an opinion on the action of nine ministers of the Baptist Ministerial association in presenting a resolution signed by them before their meeting demanding the association to no longer affiliate with the Sunday observance crusade.

"We'll go on just the same," announced Dr. McCrory, "and we will be stronger next year than today." Dr. McCrory, the Rev. Drs. Thomas J. Leak and E. L. Eaton and the Rev. E. C. Lane were the only members of the executive committee of 15 who were present yesterday at a meeting of the committee in the Central Y. M. C. A. parlors. They constituted but half a quorum and no business could be transacted. Agent P. T. Gamble was present and announced that he was without detectives Sunday. "They were suddenly called to West Virginia, I know not why," declared Mr. Gamble.

Dr. McCrory on Paid Choirs.

The committee has concluded arrangements whereby the Pennsylvania state convention of the Sabbath association will be held here on November 14 and 15. On the 14th a meeting will be held in some available church in the East End, and on the 15th a meeting will be held in Carnegie hall, Allegheny.

Dr. McCrory discussed the question as to whether the employment of paid singers in church choirs on Sunday was a violation of the purposes of his association. Dr. McCrory held they were a "necessity" to "carry along the voices of the congregation." The Rev. E. C. Lane, secretary of the association, rushed to Dr. McCrory's rescue and exclaimed: "That theory is all wrong. There are no paid choirs on Sunday. I never allow that announcement to be made in my presence. The choirs are paid for their work during the week." Mr. Lane was asked if he considered the services of singers on Sunday thrown in gratis as an appreciation of payment for singing during week day prayer meetings and he said he did.

The Rev. Mr. Weidley Resigns.

The Rev. John Weidley tendered his resignation yesterday as member of the executive committee of the Allegheny County Sabbath association. The Rev. S. H. Carpenter of the Brushton Avenue Lutheran church was appointed to fill the vacancy.

"My motive for resigning was the fact I could not give the association the time it required of me. There were many methods employed by the association objectionable to me and I so repeatedly expressed myself at the executive committee meetings," was the statement made by Dr. Weidley last night.

The Ministerial union, comprising delegates from the various local ministerial associations, will meet in the Central Y. M. C. A. building next Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock, when Dr. McCrory is to make a half-hour address on the work and purpose of the Sunday observance movement.

During the Baptist Ministerial association meeting yesterday morning the Rev. Dr. W. A. Stanton offered a resolution asking the ministerial body to sever all connection with the Allegheny County Sabbath association, scoring the association for their methods in conducting their Sunday observance crusade. The resolution offered was signed by Dr. Stanton, the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge, the Rev. Dr. B. F. Woodburn, the Rev. Dr. H. C. Gleiss and the Revs. W. E. Pritchard, George T. Street, A. J. Bonsall, H. W. Vincent and J. M. Patterson.

Text of the Resolution.

The presentation of the resolution resulted in a two-hour discussion. The resolution follows:

Whereas, we as an organization of ministers of the Baptist churches in Pittsburgh and vicinity have been invited to co-operate with an organization having for its object the enforcement of civil Sunday laws and the prosecution of violators of the same and have been duly asked to appoint a committee from our organization to represent us in said effort, make the following reply:

We deplore the violation of law under all circumstances; we deplore the violation of law that seeks to make Sunday a day of rest and that gives to those who so desire it an opportunity to worship God in the way that their consciences dictate on said day; we believe it to be the duty of civil officers to enforce such laws without fear or favor and the duty of all citizens as such, to encourage and insist upon such enforcement.

But we are asked in our official organization as ministers to aid in the enforcement of civil law and the prosecution of offenders of the same. For the church or its officers as such to arrogate or assume the functions of the state would be to destroy the distinction so dear to all Americans of absolute separation between church and state and would make it easy in time for the state to enter the field of religious legislation and authority claimed by the church as her own and upon which claim all religious liberty is based. However good the end sought may be it will not justify the means when said means open the door for a reunion of church and state in the slightest degree.

We hold that Christianity should propagate itself by its own spiritual forces and not by civil government. As an organization of those set apart for the service and government of the church, we decline to assume the prerogatives of offices of the civil law in enforcing its statutes or punishing its offenders.

Dr. Woodburn Declared Himself.

Many of the ministers spoke in favor of the resolution, taking exceptions to being classed as "spies, detectives or officers of the civil law." Dr. Woodburn censured the methods of the movement in strong terms. The Revs. W. J. Coulston, T. M. Hay and John Davis, spoke against the resolution.

The Rev. Harry M. Chalfant addressed the Methodist Episcopal Ministerial association on "The Woes of the Misfit." The United Presbyterian ministers were addressed by the Rev. George E. Harris on "The Importance of a Campaign of Education on Sabbath Keeping." The Rev. I. A. Barnes spoke to the Methodist Protestant clergymen on his observations at the world's fair. The Rev. Peter Bergstresser read a paper before the Lutheran ministerial meeting and the Rev. H. C. Eardman reported on the establishment of the Church of the Atonement in Anderson street, Sunday night.

COMMEND SUNDAY CRUSADE.

Presbyterian Sunday School Institute Favors Support of Movement.

"We commend the work of the Pittsburgh Sabbath Observance association to the loyalty of all our teachers and officers" was the resolution passed yesterday afternoon during the Sunday school institute of the schools in the Pittsburgh presbytery of the Presbyterian church, held in the Mt. Washington Presbyterian church. Sessions were held afternoon and evening, and both were well attended.

President Harry E. Carmack presided. During the afternoon addresses were made by the Rev. John M. Gaston on "The Sabbath School and the Christian Citizen," by the Rev. Dr. S. A. Hunter, president of the Allegheny County Sabbath association, on "The Sabbath School and Sabbath Observance," and by Prof. Charles Scanlon on "The Sabbath School and Temperance."

At the night session the Rev. Dr. S. B. McCormick, chancellor of Western University of Pennsylvania, spoke on the importance of Sunday school work. Following the adoption of the resolution commending the work of the Sabbath Observance association, a resolution was passed recommending that each member of the Sunday School association contribute at least 1 cent to the general assembly's permanent committee on temperance.

ROOSEVELT IS ASSURED OF DELAWARE ELECTORS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Among visitors at the White House today was Senator Ball of Delaware. He stated that Delaware was safe for the Republican national ticket. He then went further and said that there was every indication of a settlement of the factional differences within the Republican party of the state, and expressed the opinion that it would come in time to enable the Republicans to elect their candidate for governor and representatives in congress.

Note.—The following article has been widely published and is one of the most remarkable illustrations of the value of careful marshaling and analysis of facts in presenting a subject to the public.

LEVELERS

The Mission of Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee.

The Creator made all things, we believe. If so, He must have made these.

We know what He made food and water for, and air and sunshine, but why Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee?

They are here sure enough and each performing its work.

There must be some great plan behind it all; the thoughtful man seeks to understand something of that plan and thereby to judge these articles for their true worth.

Let us not say "bad" or "good" without taking testimony.

There are times and conditions when it certainly seems to the casual observer that these stimulant narcotics are real blessings.

Right there is the ambush that conceals a "killing" enemy.

One can slip into the habit of either whiskey, tobacco or coffee easy enough, but to "untangle" is often a fearful struggle.

It seems plain that there are circumstances when the narcotic effect of these poisons is for the moment beneficial but the fearful argument against them is that seldom ever does one find a steady user of either whiskey, coffee or tobacco free from disease of some kind.

Certainly powerful elements in their effect on the human race.

It is a matter of daily history, testified to by literally millions of people, that Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee are smiling, promising, beguiling friends on the start, but always false as hell itself in the end. Once they get firm hold enough to show their strength, they insist upon governing and drive the victim steadily towards ill health in some form; if permitted to continue to rule, they will not let up until physical and mental ruin sets in.

A man under that spell (and "under the spell" is correct), of any one of these drugs, frequently assures himself and his friends, "Why I can leave off any time I want to. I did quit for a week just to show I could." It is a sure mark of the slave when one gets to that stage. He wiggled through a week fighting every day to break the spell, was finally whipped, and began his slavery all over again.

The slave (Coffee slave as well as Tobacco and Whiskey) daily reviews his condition, sees perfectly plain the steady encroachments of disease, how the nerves get weaker day by day and demand the drug that seems to smile and offer relief for a few minutes and then leave the diseased condition plainer to view than ever and growing worse. Many times the Coffee slave realizes that he is between two fires. He feels bad if he leaves off and a little worse if he drinks and allows the effect to wear off.

So it goes on from day to day. Every night the struggling victim promises himself that he will break the habit and next day when he feels a little bad (as he is quite sure to) breaks, not the habit, but his own resolution. It is nearly always a tough fight, with disaster ahead sure if the habit wins.

There have been hundreds of thousands of people driven to their graves through disease brought on by coffee drinking alone, and it is quite certain that more human misery is caused by coffee and tobacco than by whiskey, for the two first are more widely used, and more hidden and insidious in the effect on nerves, heart and other vital organs, and are thus unsuspected until much of the dangerous work is done.

Now, Reader, what is your opinion as to the real use the Creator has for these things? Take a look at the question from this point of view.

There is a law of Nature and of Nature's God that things slowly evolve from lower planes to higher, a sturdy, steady and dignified advance toward more perfect things in both the Physical and Spiritual world. The ponderous tread of evolutionary development is fixed by the Infinite and will not be quickened out of natural law by any of man's methods.

Therefore we see many illustrations showing how nature checks too rapid advance. Illinois raises phenomenal crops of corn for two or three years. If she continued to do so every year her farmers would advance in wealth far beyond those of other sections or countries. So Nature interposes a bar every three or four years and brings on a "bad year."

Here we see the leveling influence at work.

A man is prosperous in his business for a number of years and grows rich. Then Nature sets the "leveling influence" at work on him. Some of his investments lose, he becomes luxurious and lazy. Perhaps it is whiskey, tobacco, coffee, women, gambling, or some other form. The intent and purpose is to level him. Keep him from evolving too far ahead of the masses.

A nation becomes prosperous and great like ancient Rome. If no leveling influence set in she would dominate the world perhaps for all time. But Dame Nature sets her army of "levelers" at work. Luxury, over-eating and drinking, licentiousness, waste and extravagance, indulgences of all kinds, then comes the wreck. Sure, Sure, Sure.

The law of the unit is the law of the mass. Man goes through the same process. Weakness (in childhood), gradual growth of strength, energy, thrift, probity, prosperity, wealth, comfort, ease, relaxation, self-indulgence, luxury, idleness, waste, debauchery, disease, and the wreck follows. The "levelers" are in the bushes along the pathway of every successful man and woman and they bag the majority.

Only now and then can a man stand out against these "levelers" and hold his fortune, fame and health to the end.

So the Creator has use for Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee to level down the successful ones and those who show signs of being successful, and keep them back in the race, so that the great "field" (the masses) may not be left too far behind.

And yet we must admit that same all-wise Creator has placed it in the power of man to stand upright, clothed in the armor of a clean-cut, steady mind and say unto himself, "I decline to exchange my birthright for a mess of potage."

"I will not deaden my senses, weaken my grip on affairs and keep myself cheap, common and behind in fortune and fame by drugging with whiskey, tobacco or coffee, life is too short. It is hard enough to win the good things, without any sort of handicap, so a man is certainly a "fool trader" when he trades strength, health, money, and the good things that come with power, for the half-asleep condition of the "drugger" with the certainty of sickness and disease ahead."

It is a matter each individual must decide for himself. He can be a leader and semi-god if he will, or he can go along through life a drugged clown, a cheap "hewer of wood or carrier of water."

Certain it is that while the Great Father of us all does not seem to "mind" if some of His children are foolish and stupid, He seems to select others (perhaps those he intends for some special work) and allows them to be threshed and castigated most fearfully by these "levelers."

If a man tries flirting with these levelers awhile, and gets a few slaps as a hint, he had better take the hint or a good solid blow will follow.

When a man tries to live upright, clean, thrifty, sober, and undrugged, manifesting as near as he knows what the Creator intends he should, happiness, health and peace seem to come to him. Does it pay?

This article was written to set people thinking, to rouse the "God within" for every highly organized man and woman has times when they feel a something calling from within for them to press to the front and "be about the Father's business," don't mistake it; the spark of the Infinite is there and it pays in every way, health, happiness, peace and even worldly prosperity, to break off the habits and strip clean for the work cut out for us.

It has been the business of the writer to provide a practical and easy way for people to break away from the coffee habit, and be assured of a return to health and all the good things that brings, provided the abuse has not gone too far, and even then the cases where the body has been rebuilt on a basis of strength and health run into the thousands.

It is an easy and comfortable step to stop coffee instantly by having well-made Postum Food Coffee served rich and hot with good cream, for the color and flavor is there, but none of the caffeine or other nerve destroying elements of ordinary coffee.

On the contrary the most powerful rebuilding elements furnished by Nature are in Postum and they quickly set about repairing the damage. Seldom is it more than two days after the change is made before the old stomach or bowel troubles or complaints of kidneys, heart, head or nerves show unmistakable evidence of getting better and ten days' time changes things wonderfully.

Literally millions of brain-working Americans today use Postum, having found the value and common sense in the change. C. W. POST.

WILL HOLD NINE BIG MEETINGS

Republicans Make Plans for the Oratorical End of the Campaign in Allegheny.

HONOR FOR A. C. GUMBERT

There will be nine meetings held in Allegheny by the Republicans this fall. The North Side campaign will open October 15, with a rally in Carnegie Music hall. The other eight gatherings will be held after that date.

There was a meeting of the Allegheny Republican executive committee last night, at which arrangements were made for the meetings to be held during the campaign. B. F. Jones, Jr., will probably preside at the rally in Carnegie Music hall. The speeches will be made by Congressman E. B. Vreeland of Salamanca, N. Y.; Maj. Alexander McDowell of Sharon, chief clerk of the national house of representatives; ex-Congressman W. H. Graham and one other Alleghenian.

It was decided last night that the following meetings would be held: Third and Fourth wards in Fourth ward school house, Second ward in lower school house, Fifth and Sixth wards in the Sixth ward school house, Ninth and Eleventh wards in Schwerd's hall, Tenth ward in the club rooms of the Republican Progressive association, Thirteenth ward in the Troy Hill Turner hall and the Fourteenth ward in Hausen's hall. Dates for these meetings will be arranged later, but none of the gatherings will be held until after October 15.

Henry Leech, a member of the Allegheny Republican city committee from the Fifth ward, is liable to be expelled. His case was considered by the executive committee last night. Leech is charged with accepting a position under the city administration, which is a violation of the party rules. Leech claims that he is not new in the employ of the city. The committee has not reached a decision.

The Republican campaign committee for Pittsburgh was organized yesterday by the election of A. C. Gumbert as chairman. It was decided that, beginning next week, at least five meetings would be held each night.

Mayor Hays said yesterday that, while the Citizens would go into the Republican city and county primaries next spring, they would put up a full slate of candidates from among their number and try to nominate it.

Director E. J. McIlvain of the Allegheny department of public works last night organized in the First ward what he calls a Roosevelt and Fairbanks Republican club. It is officered by Citizens. The promoters say that the club will participate in all Republican parades.

TWO HURT IN WRECK.

B. & O. Freight Train Parted in Middle Near the Tunnel at Undercliff.

In a freight wreck near Etna last night two men were injured, eight cars and a caboose were wrecked and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks were torn up for about 75 yards. The injured are:

JOHN DONOHOE, a baseball player of Butler street, Etna; right shoulder sprained and badly bruised.

JOHN SLATER, a baseball player, cut about the face and body.

The accident occurred just as the train was about to enter the tunnel at Undercliff, and was caused by the train parting in the middle. The latter half of the train jumped the tracks and ran backward for some distance before it stopped.

Donohoe and Slater, who with four other men were riding on top of a box car, jumped to save themselves and were hurt. The others, as well as the train crew, escaped injury. The line was tied up for several hours.

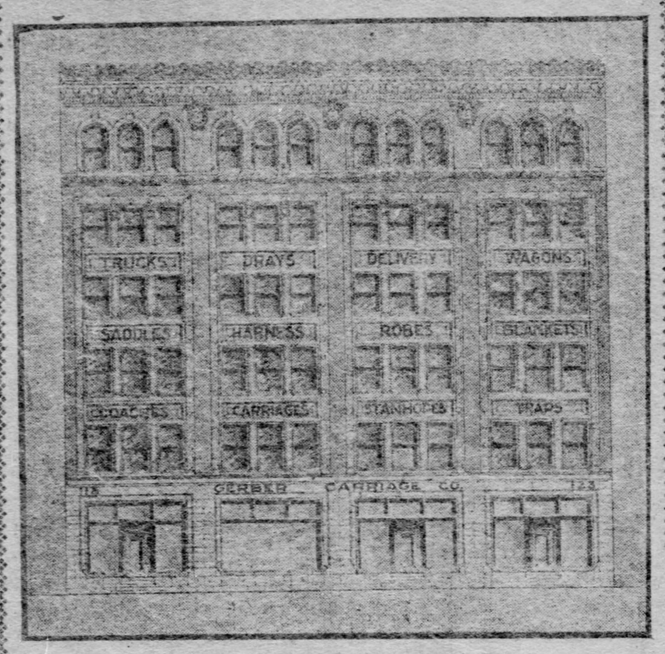
MOSTI HELD FOR MURDER.

Believed to Have Fired Shot Which Killed a Typhoid Fever Patient.

Deputy Coroner Louis C. Huchel yesterday preferred a charge of murder against Manuel Mosti, alias Parry Mosti, for the murder of Louis Mosti, in Castle Shannon on the night of September 16. He was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury. N. Lugui was also held as a witness in the case. Manuel Mosti and the murdered man were relatives.

Louis Mosti was lying in bed with typhoid fever at the home of his brother-in-law, James Bernardini. A shot was fired through the window which struck the sick man in the arm. He died from blood poisoning. It is supposed that the shot was fired at Bernardini, who had had trouble with some of the Italians about the place.

New Building Will Have Horse Shoeing Department in Basement



Front of the New Building.

The foundations of the handsome repository which the Gerber Carriage Company will build in Seventh street, have now been started. The building, a cut of which is shown herewith, is 100 feet square, extending through to Maddocks alley. It will be six stories high and will have a 13 foot basement, which the company will use as a smith shop and horse shoeing department.

According to the plans prefared by Architects Rutan & Russell the most of the first floor will be fitted up for a harness room. A display room for fancy vehicles and the general offices of the company will also be on this floor. The second floor will be used entirely for displaying pleasure vehicles and the third floor for showing delivery wagons. The fourth floor will be used for harness manufacturing. The fifth and sixth floor will be for vehicle manufacturing. The equipment of the plant will be complete in every respect, all the machinery to be of the latest pattern and operated by separate motors. The building will be fireproof and finished in antique oak.

NO EXCUSE FOR SLEEPY TRAINMEN

If They Cannot Stay Awake They Should Leave Their Employment.

SO DECIDES COUNTY COURT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Judge Swartz at Norristown today refused to affirm a point in law submitted by an attorney, that when a railroad employe falls asleep from physical weakness, from illness or from weariness from long hours of steady employment, and an accident happens, the employe should be acquitted.

The case was that of John F. Fleischutt of Pottsville, an engineer on a Pennsylvania railroad freight train. The freight train and a passenger train collided near Pottstown last April. Two persons were killed and a dozen injured. The crew of the freight train was held by the coroner for criminal negligence.

Fleischutt was the first to be tried. It was testified by the firemen that the freight train had been ordered to wait on a siding until four trains had passed. He said the crew had been on duty 22 hours, and while waiting for the trains to pass had fallen asleep. Before the fourth train had passed the men awoke and, thinking that the fourth had gone by, the freight train was taken from a siding.

Before the case went to the jury Fleischutt's attorneys made the point above stated. In refusing to affirm it, Judge Swartz held that no man had a right to work on a railroad unless in fine physical condition, and if he fell asleep, no matter from what cause, he should discontinue work, even though he should lose his position, rather than jeopardize human life by continuing on duty.

Fleischutt was convicted. The trial of the conductor will begin tomorrow.

Discrimination Is Alleged.

WHEELING, W. VA., Oct. 3.—Today in the circuit court the trial of the breach of contract case of the Wheeling Can Company against the E. W. Bliss Company, of New York, was begun. The plaintiff contracted for machinery which the defendants failed to deliver. One of the allegations is that of discrimination against the independent can makers. The can company asks for $100,000 damages.

Art needlework and supplies

THERE'S to be quite a revival of embroidery work—the conventional styles in vogue for several seasons have been superseded—the new Hardanger English Eyelet and Mount Mellick work taking their places.

Our art needlework section has been considerably enlarged and remodeled—we couldn't be in a better position to supply the many needs of dainty sewers and needleworkers. Competent saleslades are in charge—art needleworkers themselves who are thoroughly conversant with all the different phases of the work, and who will be only too glad to give their ideas or make suggestions.

Hardanger scrim—made especially for this kind of work, square woven, every thread being the same size, which greatly facilitates drawing—

The superb quality hardanger cloth, bleached white, 75c yard.

36-in. coarse thread hardanger cloth, natural color, 39c yard.

40-in. fine thread hardanger cloth, natural color, 25c yard.

(Sample finished pieces on hand for your inspection.)

"Peri" lustre—stout embroidery, a splendid thread for hardanger, English eyelet and all other kinds of embroidery, all colors and sizes—per skein, 2½c.

Stamped pillow tops—with back to match, in the new designs, such as "Buster Brown and His Resolutions," "wheelbarrow of daisies, violets or roses," "the lucky dog," Dutch subjects and numerous other attractive styles—25c and 48c.

Pillow cords with long tassels—silk and mercerized, enough to bind any size pillow and leave draped ends, 25c and 48c.

Pillow Slips—many new designs of finished pillow slips, some tinted, others braided and appliqued; all in clever color effects—the "Japanese kids" and "Sunflower" patterns are especially attractive—complete slips ready for use, 48c.

16-in. size at 12c.
20-in. size at 29c.

COMMITTEE TO APPROVE SALE TO THE WABASH

Railroad Fixes Price for City Lots Which Councilmen Seem Willing to Accept.

Business of importance to the fire bureau is to be transacted this afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the finance committee of councils. An ordinance for the sale to the Wabash railroad of three lots in Fourth and Liberty avenues, belonging to the city and used for engine houses, is to be considered. It is proposed to sell the property at the price stipulated by the railroad, $54,000.

There will probably be some objections in councils, as the property has not been advertised and competitive bids have not been received. There are also in the committee resolutions transferring money from the appropriation of the fire bureau—one of $8,000 to the health bureau and $4,400 to the general office of the department of public safety.

The public works and surveys committees are also scheduled to meet this afternoon, but they are not expected to furnish anything of exceptional interest. The public safety committee is called to meet tomorrow night.

There is no indication that any of the other standing committees of councils will meet this week. Director Bigelow denied yesterday that there would be a meeting of the corporations committee. The director always knows when this committee is to meet, as it meets only at the call of the chairman and Chairman John Costello says that the administration has not asked him to call a meeting. Director Bigelow said yesterday that there was nothing in the committee that required a session at this time. He was reminded that the Hall traction and electric light measures were in the committee and he smiled in reply.

SENATOR BURTON WANTS CASE BROUGHT TO END

Appeal Will Go to the United States Supreme Court Before Congress Convenes.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The appeal of Senator Burton of Kansas from the sentence of the United States district court at St. Louis last spring will come before the United States supreme court October 11, when a motion will be made by W. H. Rossington of Topeka, Kas., one of Burton's attorneys, to advance it on the docket.

The purpose of this motion will be to bring the case before the court for argument on the appeal early in the fall term, so that a decision may be rendered before congress convenes in December. The case ordinarily would not be reached during the coming term, which opens next Monday.

It is understood that the motion to advance will not be opposed by the government. Senator Burton is now in Washington and will remain here until the motion has been made. He was convicted under the statute providing that members of congress shall not practice before the government departments for compensation and was fined and given a jail sentence. In the event that the supreme court sustains the verdict of the lower court the seat he now holds in the senate will be declared vacant.

Two Killed by Powder Explosion.

SCRANTON, Oct. 3.—The corning mill of the Dupont Powder Company, near Peckville, blew up today and instantly killed Richard Halsey and Walter Allworth, two employes.

PROTECTING BATTLESHIP AGAINST VICIOUS INJURY

Official Report Is Made to Navy Department on Attempt to Destroy the Connecticut.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—After delaying some time in the hope that by working in secret detectives might be able to discover the persons who have been making various attempts to damage the battleship Connecticut in the New York navy yard, the navy department today concluded to publish the latest report in the case from William J. Baxter, the constructor, in charge at New York, feeling that publicity now will make toward the protection of the vessel in the future from a repetition of such attempts. The report is as follows:

There were discovered on March 31, in compartment B-81 two rivets in frame 58½, connecting the forward frame angle to the keel plate, whose heads had been chipped off holes drilled completely through them and the rivets forced down into the keel block beneath by heavy pressure.

On September 14 there was found a bolt about 1¼ inches in diameter, which was located about mid-width of the starboard under-water way and about half way between the inter-section of the ways with low water and the end. This bolt was driven into the ways and projected up about six inches, making an obstruction which would have caused serious injury during the launch and might have entirely prevented it.

After the launch on the 28th, it was found that compartment B-88 (the port after boiler room reserve feed tank) was leaking. It was decided to close all air pipes and drain valves, and let the compartment remain full during the night of the 29th. This was accordingly done and the compartment was inspected after it was full, and the inner bottom and sounding frames and longitudinals were seen to be absolutely tight, and no damage resulted to the ship.

PERSONALS

"I predict that New Jersey will give at least 20,000 majority for Roosevelt and Fairbanks. This is a conservative estimate." Thus spoke ex-Gov. F. McG. Vorhees of Elizabeth, N. J., who passed through Pittsburgh last night on the Southwest Limited over the Pennsylvania. "The Democrats are working hard, especially in the doubtful states, and are spending money freely. Despite this fact I think the Republican ticket will enjoy a landslide greater than ever before witnessed in a presidential election. We feel confident our state will send seven representatives to congress out of the nine members to be elected. There is a hard battle being fought in New York and Indiana. New Jersey being a sister state to New York, and being in touch with the campaign work of both parties, I feel justified in saying that New York will roll up a Republican majority that will surprise even the Republican adherents."

A boom was started yesterday among some of the Presbyterian preachers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny to make the Rev. Dr. J. Vincent Bell, for 15 years pastor of the Presbyterian church of Dubois, moderator of the Pennsylvania synod, which is called to meet in Oxford on October 20. Dr. Bell is the son-in-law of John F. Slagle of Allegheny, and has a host of friends in all Western Pennsylvania. The highest office of the synod took effect in Western Pennsylvania this year as year before last the Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Beeber of Philadelphia was moderator, and last year the Rev. Dr. George S. Chambers of Harrisburg filled the chair.

H. Har Wane of Sunderland and T. G. Middleton and son, Edgar, of London, Eng., land, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday on their way to attend the International Engineering congress, which begins its session at St. Louis today. They are delegates from the London Engineering club. Mr. Wane said: "The advancement made in engineering feats during the past few years has been wonderful. A draughtsman's duties and those of the engineer are very closely allied, and most men study both. I expect to learn a great deal at the session of the international congress. Business in England is not as good as it could be, although we have bright prospects."

Dr. C. C. Wiley, major and surgeon of the Eighteenth regiment, and Dr. S. C. Milligan, brigade surgeon, have been appointed by the surgeon general of Pennsylvania to represent the Second brigade, N. G. P., at the international congress of military surgeons, to be held in the hall of congresses, world's fair, St. Louis, October 10-15. Numerous foreign governments have manifested much interest in the congress, which will be of high advantage in the consideration of the progress of medico-military affairs.

The Rt. Rev. J. M. Francis, Episcopal bishop for the state of Indiana, was in the city yesterday en route to Boston to attend the triennial convention of the church. When asked regarding the political aspect of his state, he declared: "Roosevelt will surely carry it." Referring to the Subway tavern dedication, the bishop stated he believed Bishop Potter's move was in the right direction, and lauded the New York churchman as a man of much foresight and good judgment.

SISTER CORROBORATES JOHNSON'S CONFESSION

She Furnishes Further Details of Alleged Killing of Woman and Niece—Bones Declared Human.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WILKESBARRE, Oct. 3.—The last link in the chain of evidence against the seven members of the Johnson family of Macedonia, Bradford county, charged with the murder of Mrs. Bigler Johnson and her 10-year-old niece, was completed today. The bones of the victims were exhumed and identified as human bones, while the detectives obtained from Nancy Johnson, the 13-year-old girl who is said to have kept watch outside the house, while, it is alleged, her mother and brother Charles butchered the two, a statement corroborating the confession of Bigler Johnson, who has told the alleged details of the plot and of the killing.

Bigler Johnson, the husband of the murdered woman, who is alleged to have paid his mother and brother $3 each for committing the murder, remains unconcerned, and, since he has made his detailed confession, talks freely about the crime. His statement, implicating five of the seven members of the family and intimating that the two others were accessories after the fact, was today corroborated by some details which Nancy Johnson furnished and others given by Charles Johnson, and there is but little now needed to complete the case.

The formal charges of murder will be made instead of that of arson, on which they have been held, and the case will come up for trial at the November term of court.

PITTSBURGH LIKELY TO GET NEXT FIREMEN'S CONVENTION

Laddies Arriving in Erie to Take Part in the Silver Anniversary.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ERIE, Oct. 3.—Many fire laddies are here tonight from all parts of the state, who have come here to take part in the silver anniversary convention of the Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania, which will open tomorrow forenoon at 10 o'clock, in the Park opera house. Several large delegations are already here, including Philadelphia, which is headed by Fire Chief James C. Baxter and District Engineer George Wollinger. The Pittsburgh delegation, 75 strong, is not expected until Wednesday. The big day of the convention, which will continue until Friday afternoon, will be Thursday, the day of the grand parade. The drills and prize contests will be held on Friday.

York and Pittsburgh are after the next convention, with the chances at present very much in favor of the latter. Among the candidates for the next president of the association, the greatest hustler seems to be A. J. Henry of Scranton.

KILLED HIMSELF WHEN POSSE BROKE IN DOOR

William Foster, Who Is Charged With Killing Blaine Whiting, Thus Evades Arrest.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHAMBERSBURG, Oct. 3.—William Foster, charged with killing Blaine Whiting at Greencastle last week, committed suicide in his mother's home at Greencastle this afternoon by blowing out his brains.

This afternoon Joseph Conrad, who had been a member of the coroner's jury which charged Foster with the killing of Whiting, directed a field glass toward the attic window of Foster's home and saw him come to the window and look out. Conrad at once gave the alarm and a posse went to the house and broke open the door. As John Statler, a member of the posse, stepped inside a shot rang out. Statler ascended the stairway to the attic, where he found Foster dead, with a 32-caliber revolver at his side. A reward of $400 had been offered for him dead or alive. The authorities believe that Foster's infatuation for a woman, whose name the police have, caused him to remain at home. It is known that he ventured out at night, returning to his hiding place before dawn. He was seen in Waynesboro on Friday night by Mrs. Nettie Codorus, who talked to him, and at the canning factory on the outskirts of the town on Saturday night. Foster was 38 years old and had spent most of his life since he was 17 years old in the Huntingdon reformatory, Eastern penitentiary and Franklin county prison.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—The Phillies again broke even with Pittsburgh in today's double-header. The first game—a pitchers' battle between Leever and Dugleby—was won by Philadelphia, 2 to 1, but in the second, with the score 16 to 4 in favor of Pittsburgh, in the fifth inning Umpire Zimmer called the game.

McGee's home run won the first game for the Philadelphias and it would have been a shutout but for a rank decision by Zimmer in the last inning. The weather was most too cold for good ball playing and there were no special features. The work of the fielders in the first game was very fair, but by the time the second was started the men were feeling the effects of the cold and errors due to cold hands were frequent in the second contest. "Kid" Gleason was out of the game with a sore leg and Donohue covered second for the Phillies.

Both sides went out in order in the first inning and though the Phillies had a man on second and third in the second, Leever got them out without scoring. In the third, with two out, Sammy was not so fortunate. Donohue beat out an infield hit and McGee followed with a drive over the right field wall for a two-bagger. Titus made a nice two-bagger in the fourth after Beaumont had been relieved. "Ritch" reached third on McCormick's out, but Duggleby held Leach's hot liner and retired the side.

Pittsburgh lost a run through poor base running in the sixth. Gilbert drew a pass and was doubled up on Beaumont's fly to Titus, though he had plenty of time to get back to first. Ritchey and McCormick followed with hits, which would have scored Gilbert. Leach ended the inning by striking out.

Pittsburgh prevented a shutout in the ninth inning through an error of Umpire Zimmer, which he admitted after the game. Leach was safe on a fumble by Donohue, Bransfield went out on a fly to Hulswitt and Kruger's drive to right, which was foul by several feet, was declared safe and went for a two-bagger. Phelps followed with a single, on which Leach came home. Kruger also tried to come home, but was out on Titus' good throw to Dooin. Phelps took second on the play, but Leever ended the game with a hard drive to McGee.

There was nothing to it in the second game. Pittsburgh pounding Suthoff all over the field. Every player on the team except McCormick got at least one hit and Gilbert who was credited with three times at bat scored four runs. The Philadelphia infielders made a number of nice stops, but could not get the ball to first in time to put out the runners. The scores.

Matty Has Strikeout Record.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Mathewson struck out 16 men in today's game between New York and St. Louis, making a new season's record. His opponent, Nichols, also pitched a fine game, and but for Shea's error the visitors might have won. Dan Brouthers, who played first base for the locals, was the recipient of many reminders of his popularity with New York baseball enthusiasts. The score:

LEWIS DENIES YARN.

Says He Never Quit Baltimore Team. Joins Homestead.

Phil. Lewis, the Baltimore shortstop, on his arrival home denied the story that he deserted the Baltimore team a few weeks ago because the management wanted him to occupy an upper berth in a train going to Buffalo. "I had no trouble whatever with the management; the fact is I just stayed over in Baltimore one day after the team had left and some one started the rumor that I had deserted and without inquiring into the facts the story gained currency that I had quit."

Lewis may return to Cornell this winter. He will play shortstop for Homestead tomorrow against the Pittsburgh Nationals. Jimmy Miller will play second and Lilly Campbell left for Homestead. Manager Risher looks for a large crowd at the game.

Alex. Pearson Beats Johnstown.

ALTOONA, PA., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Altoona bunched its hits and had no trouble in defeating Johnstown today. The weather was bitter cold and a fierce gale was blowing, hindering the pitchers and making good fielding almost impossible. Three of the runs made by Johnstown were made possible solely on wild pitches by Pearson. Score:

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Today's game was a pitchers' battle, in which Gibson bested Altrock. Two bases on balls, an error and a fielders' choice gave Boston a run in the third, and two singles, a sacrifice and two doubles scored three more for them in the seventh. The locals could get but one hit off Gibson until the ninth. A base on balls, a single and a double resulted in sending a man across the plate in that inning. Attendance, 5,400. Score:

HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY MAKES ATHLETIC RULING

Standard of Sports Put on Level of Eastern Schools—Football Practices.

The Pittsburgh High school faculty has taken a step toward placing school athletics on a purer basis, and, at the same time, raise the standard of its athletics to that governing the High school sports in the large cities of the east. The faculty has made a ruling that a student who fell behind in his work of the previous year shall not be eligible to play on any of the High school athletic teams for one-half school year, and then not be restored again until he has made up all conditions and brought a written permission from his parents consenting to his restoration. The faculty must also be satisfied that he is able to carry his school work and participate in athletics.

Heretofore any student failing below 65 per cent in his studies was dropped from athletics, but restored to good standing immediately upon his making up his work. The new ruling not only affects athletics, but students who serve on the High School Journal.

Principal Rayneron, discussing the change yesterday, said: "The High school faculty and myself are in favor of athletics, but we first consider the students' class duties; we strive to turn out scholars and not athletes. However, we wish to have the High school athletics

SOCIETY CLUBS

TWO matrons of honor, two maids, with several ushers and the best man, will form the bridal procession at the wedding of Miss Eleanor Turnbull Gibson, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Joseph T. Gibson and Mrs. Gibson, and William McIlvaine Robinson, on Wednesday, October 12. Mrs. Charles Moore of Arnold, whose sister-in-law, Miss Edna Moore, is to be married on October 11 to George Pinner Kline of Greensburg, and Mrs. A. B. Hine, a sister of Miss Gibson, will be the matrons of honor and Miss Helen Walter and Miss Catherine Chambers the maids. Robert Foster Robinson, a brother of the bridegroom, is to act as best man, the ushers chosen being David Aiken Reed, Robert Dodds, Marshall Thompson and William Thompson of this city. The Rev. Dr. Gibson will perform the ceremony.

Mrs. Moore, one of the matrons, who is a daughter of Mrs. Henry Y. Curll of Center avenue, gave a linen shower and tea at her mother's home yesterday afternoon, the guest of honor being Miss Gibson. The affair was very informal, with about 25 girls and women in attendance. Mrs. Raymond Evans of Black street will entertain the members of the Chafing Dish club at luncheon on Friday of this week, and Mrs. A. P. Burchfield of Baum street and Negley avenue will be hostess at a luncheon tomorrow. Mrs. Kline entertaining in the same manner on the day following. The rehearsal will take place on Monday.

The marriage of Miss Gibson and Mr. Robinson will be conducted at the home of the bride's parents, Forbes and Wightman streets. The prospective bridegroom is a Princeton graduate, a member of the law firm of Dodds & Robinson and a son of Mrs. John Robinson of this city.

Bridal Party Announced.

Among the interesting weddings of the month will be that of Miss Mary Frances Bracken of this city and Walter King Cooley of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., which will take place at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stoney, Jr., on Wednesday, October 12, at 7 o'clock. The Rev. C. W. Weaver, D. D., of Homestead, a brother-in-law of the bride, will perform the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., pastor of the Christ Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Bracken will have two attendants, Miss Laura A. Graff of Blairsville as maid of honor, and Miss Grace E. Cooley, a sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid. The party will be completed by the best man, Edward M. West of Mt. Vernon. Only the immediate relatives of the bridal couple will witness the ceremony, but at 8 o'clock a large reception will be held. Mr. Cooley and his bride leaving afterward for a wedding trip. They will make their home in Mt. Vernon, where the bridegroom is prominent in social and business circles. His fiancee is a daughter of the late Rev. J. S. Bracken, D. D., a former pastor of the Emory Methodist Episcopal church of this city and of the Union Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny. She is a graduate of the Pittsburgh Female college and at one time was instructor in mathematics there. Mrs. Emma L. Cooley, mother of the prospective bridegroom, and his sister, Miss Grace Cooley, are expected in the city on the day before the wedding.

Plans for Paul-Tiers Wedding.

Not for a long time has there been an event in Oakmont more anticipated than the wedding of Miss Alice Knox Paul and Clarence Van Dyke Tiers, set for Wednesday, October 19. In addition to her sister, Miss Mary Lee Paul, who will be maid of honor, Miss Paul will have two bridesmaids, her sister, Miss Susan Paul, and Miss Susan Tiers, a sister of the bridegroom. Herbert W. Tiers will be his brother's best man, and the ushers will be C. Tabor Johnston, William M. Alexander, William Hepburn Tinsman and Robert W. Bauersmith. Capt. and Mrs. Harry Rowand will give a dinner this evening at the Oakmont Boat club in honor of the bridal couple. Capt. and Mrs. Rowand were married just after the close of the Spanish war, in which the former served with distinction, and the wedding had military appointments throughout. Miss Paul was one of the bridesmaids. Mrs. Laureas McLure, whose husband will officiate at the coming wedding, will give a fancy work party for Miss Paul on Friday afternoon, and Mrs. Paul Collier of Edgeworth will follow it with a euchre on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Clarence F. Tiers will give a dinner in the new Oakmont Country club house on Monday evening.

Mr. Messler Will Be Best Man.

J. Bissell Speer has asked Eugene L. Messler to serve as best man at his marriage to Miss Helen Stockton Cook on Tuesday, October 18. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents in Evanston, Ill., at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The bride will have as her only attendant her cousin, Miss Susan Shields Williams, of Shields station. Both Miss Cook and Mr. Speer have large family connections in Pittsburgh and vicinity, many members of which will go on to Evanston for the wedding. The bride-elect is a niece of Mrs. L. Halsey Williams of Shields, and through her father, who is a brother of Mrs. Williams, is related to the Lees and the Shields, both old and prominent families here.

Miss Gladden's Wedding Plans.

The engagement of Miss Iva C. Gladden, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gladden of McDonald, and Samuel Holland Ridall of this city, announced during the summer, will terminate in a home wedding tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. W. D. Irons, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of McDonald, will be the officiant. Miss Gladden will be given away by her father and her attendants will include the matron of honor, Mrs. William T. Rafferty, a sister of the bridegroom, and the maid of honor, Miss Anne Gladden, a sister. Walter C. Phelan of Canada will be Mr. Ridall's best man, and the ushers will be Frank R. Gladden and Vernon R. Campbell. After a wedding trip Mr. Ridall and his bride will be at home in Euclid avenue, East End.

Farewell Reception to Popular Pastor.

A farewell reception and dinner was given last night for the Rev. R. Edwin Paxton, who has resigned his pastorate of the Chartiers United Presbyterian church, Third street, Esplen. Mr. Paxton will go to Hopewell, O. Farewell addresses were made by the Rev. O. N. Verner of the United Presbyterian church, McKees Rocks; the Rev. J. N. Brewster of the Christian church, McKees Rocks; the Rev. R. E. Orbin of the Methodist Episcopal church, McKees Rocks; E. J. Dunlap, general secretary of the Railroad Young Men's Christian association, McKees Rocks, and by the Rev. John Fluelling of the Methodist church, Esplen. Mr. Paxton had served this congregation, his first one, for 10 years.

Dinners for Bridal Attendants.

Charles Gibbs, whose wedding to Miss Adah Graham Scott will take place tomorrow evening, was host at a bachelor dinner of 12 covers at the Union club last evening. Miss Scott will entertain the members of the bridal party at a dinner of 16 covers this evening, following the rehearsal for the wedding. The wedding is scheduled to take place at the home of the bride in Stanton avenue at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Miss Scott is a daughter of the late John Scott, who was a prominent business man of this city.

Returning from the Bermudas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver Fulton are expected in New York today on their return from the Bermudas, where they went a few days after their wedding in this city on September 21. They will go to Pleasure island for another week before coming to Pittsburgh, where they will make their home. At the island they will be the guests of Capt. John Cree, whose daughter, Miss Lillian Cree, was a guest at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Fulton. Miss Cree is now visiting friends in Parnassus, but in a few weeks will return to Pittsburgh to be with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bard, the parents of Mrs. Fulton, in Craig street, possibly until Christmas.

In Honor of Miss Gleffer.

The round of little social affairs preceding the wedding of Miss Anna Converse Gleffer and Samuel Beech Kelley will be concluded with the rehearsal dinner tonight, at the Hotel Schenley, given by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gleffer, an uncle and aunt of the bride-elect. Miss Henriette Black entertained in Miss Gleffer's honor yesterday afternoon, the affair being a euchre and linen shower. Seven tables were in play, with four-handed euchre as the game. The prizes were won by Mrs. Herbert Gast of Lancaster and Miss Edith Fowse.

Lovejoys Remain in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. F. Lovejoy have taken a cottage in Cascade avenue, Colorado Springs, Col., where they expect to spend the winter. Mr. Lovejoy is much improved after his serious illness and is on the road to complete recovery. Mrs. Lovejoy, Clarence J. Fleming of Bayard street, Shadyside, who arrived in the city last Friday, was with his sister and her husband in Glenwood and Colorado Springs, Col., for nine weeks.

Entertained for Miss Crawford.

Miss Bessie M. Conley gave a linen shower last Saturday afternoon at her home in Lehigh avenue, East End, in honor of Miss Florence Crawford, whose marriage to Elgin Hill will be solemnized on October 10. The prize-winners at cards during the afternoon were Miss Mabel Hamm, Miss Willard, Miss Theresa Moller and Miss Carrie Kurtz.

Celebrate Silver Wedding.

GREENSBURG, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Pool of Mt. Pleasant today celebrated their silver wedding. One hundred and fifty guests attended. The children present were Mrs. Charles Pool and Mrs. J. A. Meiser of the East End, Pittsburgh; Edward Pool of Denver, Col., and Miss Harriett Pool and John Pool of Greensburg.

This is the latest portrait of the Duchess of Marlborough, who has fully recovered from a recent accident while driving.

Greetings by the President.

The Woman's club of Pittsburgh will hold the first meeting of the season this afternoon in the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association. It will be president's day and the principal feature of the program will be the address by the president, Mrs. Robert D. Coard. Mrs. Annie E. Smith and Mrs. G. L. W. Price will tell of the work of the members of the Woman's club in the summer playgrounds, the Grant Street school in Pittsburgh and the Twelfth ward in Allegheny. Different members of the club will speak of interesting features of their summer travels. Tea will be served.

Minister Engaged to Wed.

SHARON, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The engagement of Miss Nellie Bell and the Rev. John S. Duncan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Mercer, has been announced. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents in Mercer, Wednesday, October 19.

Invitations Out Today.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Martin of North Highland avenue will issue invitations today for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Gertrude Martin, and Frederick Findley Rhorer on Tuesday, October 18. The wedding will be a home event. The engagement of Miss Martin and Mr. Rhorer was announced in July.

Terry Killed the Wrong Man.

WHEELING, W. VA., Oct. 3.—Coroner D. T. Phillips returned a verdict at Bellaire, O., today, that Jack Terry, without provocation, killed Carl Getchell, although intending to kill another. A woman from Sistersville, named Hitchcock, declares Terry intended to kill Clarence Getchell, a brother of Carl.

Conductor Fatally Hurt.

ALTOONA, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Joseph Clark, a conductor on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, living in Altoona, was jolted off his train at Gallitzin tonight and received injuries which physicians say will be fatal.

SAY BOYS BOMBARDED ART WINDOWS IN CHURCH

Four Lads Arrested in Allegheny After Rock Lands on Pulpit During Services.

Following a campaign of vandalism, which culminated in a rock being thrown through a stained glass art window of the Sandusky street Baptist church and landing on the pulpit last Sunday evening as the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Woodburn, was delivering his sermon, the Allegheny police yesterday arrested four boys and charged them with malicious mischief.

For several weeks past the artistic windows of the church have been pressed into service as targets for the stone throwers, with the result that 28 holes, representing a damage of $150, now deface the windows.

After a continued watch the police arrested Michael McManus, aged 14, of 827 Eagle alley; John Teuscher, aged 18, of 842 Long alley; John Doyle, aged 18, of 827 Long alley, and Thomas Curry, aged 13, of 828 Green street. The boys were arrested at St. Peter's parochial school, North and West Diamond streets.

NURSES GUILD MEETS.

Episcopal Society of St. Barnabas is Addressed by Bishop Brent of the Philippines.

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—The annual council of the Guild of St. Barnabas, a national organization affiliated with the Episcopal church, met at the Church of the Advent tonight. The membership is made up of about 1,700 nurses residing in 25 cities. The services was conducted by Bishop Cortland Whitehead of Pittsburgh, chaplain-general of the guild.

The sermon was preached by Rt. Rev. Dr. Charles H. Brent, bishop of the Philippine islands. At the close of the service a reception was tendered Bishops Whitehead and Brent.

Art League Has Opened Its Studio.

The Art Students' League yesterday opened its studio, the former Thomas S. Clarke studio, in Emily street. Every morning from 9 until 1, except on Saturday, a life class will be conducted with criticism by Henry Keller, of Cleveland on Fridays. Classes for portraiture will be held each afternoon except Friday and Saturday with criticisms on Thursday; life classes for men on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 o'clock until 10, with criticisms on Thursday, and composition and sketch classes on Friday afternoon at open, free of charge, to any student obtaining permission from a member of the league.

A new feature this year will be the open house on Saturday, when the studio will be open to the friends of the members of the league who may wish to visit it. Several courses of evening lectures are being arranged for and individual lectures by eminent artists are among the prospects for the year.

The officers of the league include Mrs. Oscar A. Rodgers, president; Mrs. Harry Palmer Pears, vice president; and Miss Anna B. Craig.

Miss MacKnight's Visit to Germany.

The annual rally of the Business Women's club was held last evening in the clubrooms in the Bible house, Arch street, Allegheny. There was a very large attendance of members and classes for work for the fall term were organized. Miss Kate C. MacKnight, president of the club, who has just returned from Europe, made an address, in which she spoke particularly of her visit to Germany. She was much impressed with the model government in the city of Hamburg and was especially interested in the sand filtration plant in that city, to which she made a special visit in order to study the method of purifying the water.

The classes which were organized include the millinery, cooking, plain sewing, the English branches, the gymnasium classes, painting and miniature painting. A new class formed last evening will be taught swimming. The new natatorium or swimming pool in the Industrial home in Woods Run has been secured for this new class, which promises to be very popular, so many having already joined.

Too Small to Send Delegates.

The Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, is so small, and in consequence its treasury so limited, it will not send a delegate to the national convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which will open today in St. Louis. The Pittsburgh chapter has but 11 members, including Mrs. William McC. Gratton, president; Mrs. Darwin S. Wolcott, vice president; Mrs. Frank Paulson, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas H. Henry, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Severn P. Ker, treasurer, and Mrs. Henry D. Atwood, Mrs. Robert Palmer Kelly, Mrs. Hesher Kee, Mrs. Edward Gilmore, Miss Mena Wolcott and Miss Eleanor Patton Chew.

The convention will continue with daily sessions until Saturday evening. Social affairs and the business of the convention will be combined. The board of lady managers of the exposition will give a reception Friday afternoon in the Woman's building, and in the evening the Confederate Veterans and Sons of Veterans will entertain the daughters at a reception at Beauvoir, the Mississippi building.

Recess from Business.

The Women's Press Club was entertained in a delightful manner yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Harris Buchanan in her home in Howe street, East End. There was but little business transacted, the greater portion of the afternoon being spent in a social manner. Several plans were discussed for adding interest to the monthly meetings of the club, which this year will be conducted at the homes of the members. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Anthony W. Smith, Jr., in Ellwood street, East End, when Mrs. Charles I. Wade will give some of her reminiscences of early newspaper work and workers in Pittsburgh and Mrs. Andrew Easton will describe a trip to California, speaking particularly of her visit to the home of Ramona, the heroine of Helen Hunt Jackson famous book, with personal glimpses of the life of the author.

Annual Supper in November.

At the monthly meeting of the board of managers of the East End Young Women's Christian association, held yesterday, it was decided to hold the annual supper on Friday afternoon and evening, November 18. Braun's auditorium in South Highland avenue, East End, has been secured for that day. The managers will hold an all-day sewing tomorrow in the association building in Collins avenue, near Penn, in order to prepare for the bazar which will be conducted in connection with the annual supper.

The classes in the association will commence their work this week. Next Saturday morning the cooking class for young women will open, the class for girls meeting in the afternoon. Miss Edna McDermott will have charge. On the following Monday the classes in physical culture will meet for organization.

Hospital Auxiliary Chose Officers.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hospital Saturday and Sunday association met yesterday and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Theodore Stonerod; first vice president, Mrs. Elizs Moore; second vice president Mrs. Lizzie Draher; secretary Mrs. Agnes Caskey; treasurer, Mrs. R. M. Cargo. The auxiliary will hold an all-day ingathering on October 20, for the benefit of St. John's General and the Presbyterian hospitals, of Allegheny.

Notes About the Clubs.

The West Penn Nurses' Alumnae association will hold a monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the West Penn hospital. Important business will be transacted.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of managers of the Protestant Home for Boys will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home, Anderson and Robinson streets, Allegheny.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the South Side hospital will hold its annual fall donation day reception this afternoon and evening at the hospital in Twentieth street, South Side. The hours will be from 2 o'clock until 5, and from 7:30 o'clock until 10.

Several Fair Oil Wells Reported In Lower Southwest and Ohio Fields

The week opened in the lower southwest and southeastern Ohio with several good wells. On Richwood run in Wetzel county, the Kanawha Oil Company drilled its No. 105 on the big Mills tract into the Gordon and the well is flowing at the rate of 10 barrels an hour. In the same district, the Philadelphia company's No. 4 on the J. Kendall farm got through the Big Injun and found that formation barren. In the Smithfield district, same county, the South Penn Oil Company drilled its No. 14 on the B. W. Peterson farm into the fourth sand and the hole filled up 1,000 feet with fluid.

On the east side of the Folsom district the same company has drilled No. 5 on the Jesse Ashcraft farm into the stray sand 45 feet and developed a strong gas pressure. It is still drilling.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn company drilled its No. 6 on the W. H. Dobbs farm through the Gordon and the hole filled up 400 feet with fluid.

Near Salem, Harrison county, the South Penn company drilled its test on the Homer Bartlett farm through the Gordon and has a light show of oil. The same company has drilled a test on the T. & J. Williams farm through the stray and has no oil or gas. No. 2 on the same farm is through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 1,500 feet with fluid.

The Invincible Oil Company has completed and shot its test on the Isaac N. Wilcox farm and will not have better than a 15-barrel pumper. In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 7 on the P. B. Amos farm is producing 125 barrels a day.

In the Mannington district, same county, the Philadelphia Company has completed its test on the W. R. Martin farm and has a light gasser in the fifth sand. Near Weston, Lewis county, the Reserve Gas Company has drilled its test on the W. H. Maggy farm through the fifth sand and has a fair gasser.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, D. A. Upham & Co. have drilled their No. 4 on the Samuel Ayers farm through the Berea grit and will not have better than a 10 or 15-barrel pumper. Murphy Bros. & Co. have drilled their No. 3 on the Robert Smith farm through the same formation and have given it a shot. It will make a 60-barrel producer. In the same district the West Virginia Carbon Company has completed and shot its test on the A. H. Jackson lot and has a show for a 50-barrel producer in the Maxon sand. The Eastern Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the S. L. Kilpatrick farm through the Berea grit and has a 50-barrel producer.

In the Calcutta district, Pleasants county, Browne, Proper & Campbell have drilled their test on the Casey-Grim farm through the salt sand and have a duster. In the same district the Dual State Oil & Gas Company has drilled its No. 7 on the Amos Hendershot farm through the Cow Run sand and has a duster. No. 8 on the same farm has been completed and will make a 15-barrel pumper in the Cow Run sand. G. F. Gale & Co. have drilled their No. 8 on the S. W. Pratt farm into the Cow Run and the well is producing 40 barrels a day from that level.

On Turkey Creek, Curry district, Putnam county, the Holley Oil and Gas Company has drilled in a second test on the McCallister heirs' farm and has another gasser in the salt sand.

In the Milton district, Cabell county, the Tide Oil Company has completed the rig for a test on the M. Beckett farm. The production of the Milton pool has declined to 130 barrels a day, as shown by the last gauge. Very little new work is starting in the district and none in advance of developments.

On the Ohio side, in the new development near Woodsfield, Monroe county, the Southern Oil Company and the Mura Drilling Company have completed their No. 7 on the J. T. Denbow farm, and have a show for a 100-barrel producer; the Keener No. 1. In the same district, the Unity Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the George Givens farm into the same formation and has a show for a 100-barrel producer. Both wells are located on the west side of the development.

North of Marietta, Washington county, Harper, Riddle & Co. have drilled their No. 4 on the Drain heirs' farm from the Keppert to the stray above the salt sand, and have developed a good gas pressure. In the same district, Henry C. Lord & Co. have drilled their No. 54 on the Joseph Fisher farm through all sands and have a duster.

In the Rays Run district, same county, the Associated Producers Company has drilled its test on the K. Heckathorn farm through the Berea grit and has a duster in that and all of the upper sands. The same company is drilling a second test on the H. Pricer farm. On Wolf creek, Morgan county, the Hastings Oil Company and the South Petroleum Company's No. 16 on the G. B. Morris farm is holding up at 75 barrels a day.

Near Greggs Station, Allegheny county, Sam F. Showalter has completed his test on the Mary Ewing farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper.

At New Galilee, Beaver county, the Ellwood Oil Company has drilled its test on the Young farm through the Berea grit and has a duster.

Pittsburg Women as Models for Dress

They Have Good Figures and Know How to Wear Their Clothes.

Pittsburgh women, generally speaking, have good figures. And they know how to wear their gowns in the most becoming style. But that is not all. Although strangers have much complaint to offer against Pittsburgh's grime, the women of this city have found a way to wear clothing of delicate colors despite the grime.

Of course an evening gown becomes soiled after it has been worn a short time. The women here think nothing of it. They send such clothing immediately to Linnekin's, and no matter how delicate the fabric, it is cleaned perfectly and quickly.

Linnekin's do an immense business cleaning and dyeing both men's and women's clothing. Prices are about 20 per cent lower than other establishments. And no cleaning process is as good as that of Linnekin's.

The letter of Miss Merkley, whose picture is printed above, proves beyond question that thousands of cases of inflammation of the ovaries and womb are annually cured by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gradual loss of strength and nerve force told me something was radically wrong with me. I had severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said that I had ovarian trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation. I strongly objected to this and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found that my judgment was correct, and that all the good things said about this medicine were true, and day by day I felt less pain and increased appetite. The ulceration soon healed, and the other complications disappeared, and in eleven weeks I was once more strong and vigorous and perfectly well.

"My heartiest thanks are sent to you for the great good you have done me."—Sincerely yours, MISS MARGARET MERKLEY, 375 Third St., Milwaukee, Wis.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The Vital Question

Most Names by Which Diseases Are Known Are Merely Technical Terms to Distinguish Slight Differences.

Chronic maladies are due to two conditions: First, to poor blood and disordered circulation; second, to a lack of nervous force and unequal distribution of it. In other words, we may look to the blood and nerves for most of the lingering ills that weaken, plague or wreck human kind. This explains why Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food cures so many diseases that bear distinctive names. It puts the blood and nerves right, and through them the whole system comes right. This concentrated Food is a blood builder, which so improves the vital fluid that it thoroughly nourishes every part of the body. It is also a powerful vitalizer, that gives an abundant store of energy to the nerve centers, which is distributed to every part, according to its needs. Price 50 cents, five boxes, enough to give it a fair trial, $2.00. Weigh yourself before taking it. Book free.

LAST RITES PAID TO SENATOR HOAR

Edward Everett Hale Delivers a Eulogy on the Dead Statesman.

WILL BE BURIED IN CONCORD

WORCESTER, MASS., Oct. 3.—Funeral services for United States Senator George Frisbie Hoar were held here today. In the presence of many persons, representing societies and associations, the city of Worcester, the commonwealth of Massachusetts and the congress of the United States, the favorite hymns of the dead statesmen were sung, the Ninetieth psalm was read and two clergymen spoke words in eulogy of the man who had been their friend for many years.

Public and private business in the city was suspended. Buildings were draped and pictures of Senator Hoar were generally displayed with symbols of mourning in the windows. Members of the militia, who assisted in doing police duty, provided the only touch of formal display.

The services, which were held in the little Church of the Unity, which Senator Hoar attended, in accordance with the wishes of the senator, were of a most unceremonious nature. The Rev. Dr. Rush R. Shippen of Brocton, formerly pastor of the Church of the Unity, spoke briefly of his personal acquaintance with Senator Hoar. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, the venerable chaplain of the United States senate—schoolmate and lifelong friend of the senator—spoke at greater length, after having read a psalm and offered a brief prayer. He said, in part:

Dr. Hale's Eulogy.

There never was a person so simple, so natural; never a person who relied so entirely upon the realities—truth, righteousness and peace. He could be vehement in expression, when need was, but in common life, in common talk, he relied absolutely upon the sincerity of his expression; and I think that faith in the American people which expressed itself so magnificently once and again in his public utterance, may be traced directly to his faith in man, to his certainty that they were the children of God, that they inherit a divine nature, and to his certainty in the being and presence of God, which would express itself so simply, so unexpectedly, sometimes, but which was something, of course, in his life and in his talk.

His life was always full of something large, unselfish, thoroughly generous; something which would make the world a better world. We are not here to analyze so great a character. God grant that that the memories of such a man may make us unselfish, upright, courageous and truer. We are here to thank the good God that such a man has lived; to ask Him to keep fresh the memory of such a life, and to teach us its lessons.

Interment at Concord.

Less than an hour was taken up with the simple exercises at the church, and after those present had taken a final look at the face of the senator, the body was removed to city hall, to lie in state, where the thousands whom the church could not accommodate might have opportunity to take final leave.

During the evening the body was removed to an undertaker's establishment, where a death-mask was made. Tomorrow it will be taken to Concord for interment.

The active pallbearers were all present or past secretaries of the senator. The honorary pallbearers were Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, T. Jefferson Coolidge, Charles Francis Adams, Attorney General William H. Moody, former Governor W. Murray Crane, Gen. William F. Draper, Judge Francis C. Lowell of Boston; Col. George R. AKRON, O., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Sheriff Jared Baker and Detective Eckerman returned this afternoon from San Francisco with Charles Semler, charged with defrauding the Second National bank of this city of $10,000 two years ago. It is said that Semler's friends will make an attempt to settle the case.

Epworth Union to Meet.

The semi-annual convention of the Allegheny County Epworth union will be held this evening in the Third United Presbyterian church. Among matters to come before the session will be the installation of officers and a proposition to vote in support of the work of the Sabbath Observance association.

Seen Beyond the Footlights Last Night

Avenue—"The Cavalier."

There is a great deal of theatricism about the dramatization of Cable's war story, "The Cavalier." It was so obviously carved out for "stage effect" that Julia Marlowe's friends were not a little shocked when that fair exponent of the classics frolicked and wept through its crass emotionalism. But for all that "The Cavalier" is a war play of interest. Now that it is in the hands of stock players, and in such good hands as those of our own local stock company, the play has a good, clean, old-fashioned melodramatic thrill to it that is intensely pleasing. We have got over our bad war passions, but we haven't recovered from the sentiments that still cling to the tragic disruption of the union. "The Cavalier" is fine proof of how completely we northerners have recovered from our bitterness. It is out-and-out a southern play. The villain, while southern born, is a spy in the service of the northern army. All the other prominent characters are "fire eaters." Twenty years ago, or less, it would have been a daring manager who would have sprung a "southern sympathy" play north of Mason and Dixon's line.

"The Cavalier" was well received by the laymen when Julia Marlowe presented it. The critics were the people who fell afoul of it. Presented by the Davis stock company at the Avenue it is bound to please, for it is presented so well.

Miss Jane Kennark gets her innings this week. Her Charlotte Durand is a delightfully tender and sympathetic piece of work. It doesn't suffer the least bit by comparison with the Marlowe impersonation, for Miss Kennark is much more at home in the part than was our ex-Rosalind.

There are moments of intense dramatic feeling in the play, and it is then that Miss Kennark gives us a hint of what a really clever actress she is. Her voice has fine emotional vibrancy and she invests the most downright theatricism with a delicacy of touch and expression that is exceedingly charming and artistically satisfying. Not all the other players at the Avenue succeed quite so well. Mr. Courtenay is a small shiner in this direction and declaims his lines sometimes. Mr. Wyngate is manly and capable as Capt. Oliver, but he should break his habit of rolling his words off in prolonged fashion. The play is quite melodramatic enough without that.

Two distinct bits of the piece are made by Mr. Paulding and Miss Dills in subordinate roles. Mr. Paulding gives a delicious touch of atmosphere by his admirable southern brogue. Miss Dills does a bit of hysterics with great naturalness.

Mr. McVay, in a Jeb Stuart sort of make-up, is excellent. And "The Cavalier" ought to please the stock clientele because it is both well played and well put forward.

Duquesne—"Down the Pike."

Johnny and Emma Ray have an indifferent vehicle for their merry-making in "Down the Pike," a two-act skit which they presented at the Duquesne last night. "Down the Pike" is presumed to be a very broad farce, founded on the doings at the St. Louis fair, but in the tangle of nonsense which forms the plot all reference to the pike is forgotten. But, fortunately for the Rays, it matters little what the playwright prepares for them. Johnny's laugh is prefixed with that same little squeak which is so effectual upon the risibilities of the audience, and Emma's physical bearing has lost none of its suggestion of elephantine poise. Johnny doesn't work as hard as he used to, and he lets his sub-comedians go after the laughs. Johnny, in fact, seems independent almost to the point of indifference and there is considerably less of him on the stage. One feature of their performance which used to throw their audiences into a pandemonium of applause is no longer given. Emma no longer seizes the rather diminutive Johnny for a punching-bag exercise around the room. Altogether the slapstick has almost been eliminated. The audience was the biggest the Duquesne has had this season. The capacity of the house was taxed and it would have been impossible to crowd 50 more people into the auditorium. It was a characteristic Ray crowd—immensely well pleased, noisily demonstrative and boisterous. It took some five minutes to wake up to the meaning of Johnny's puns, and when they did wake up they did not enjoy the humor in silence. They laughed at old jokes just as heartily as the new ones, probably because the ancient gags were very much in the majority. The specialties are few and mediocre. There is a large chorus, but it stands in need of more training. No doubt this defect will be explained by the fact that the show has just started on its tour. A. A. Mudge, Phil Peters, Harry First, Harry Duncan and Tom Leo are clever comedians. Sophie Burnham is the only woman in the company beside Emma Ray who has risen to the appreciation of an important part. Her singing is a delightful feature.

Nixon—"The Sultan of Sulu."

To "The Sultan of Sulu" we may appropriately exclaim, "Since we first met you" the musical comedy skies have grown a trifle cloudy. There has been a change in sentiment, as well as a change in sultans, since this monarch first appeared on the horizon, and neither one has been good for the Ade skit. At the Nixon last night, where the Henry W. Savage company made its second Pittsburgh appearance, there was some things to comfort those of us who had seen the original, and for those who had never seen it, its catchy music and somewhat mechanical fun made a hit, not a big one or a spontaneously noisy one, it is true, but sufficient to prove that there were quite a number of people who had not seen it before.

The loss of Moulan is a distinctly distressing one. Young Mr. Whiffen, as Ki-Ram does the best he can, but he is not a musical comedy comedian. Perhaps that is a high compliment in this day of the musical comedy's "sere and yellow." But Mr. Whiffen works hard. He makes the best Ki-Ram he can make, but he wasn't born to that sort of "foolin'," and therefore lacks the unction. As a comfort we had Fred Frear, in his old role of Hadji. Frear is a delightfully funny comedian. He plays the role of Hadji with a mournful humor that is irresistible. If "The Sultan of Sulu" is bound to live on the first class orbit, why not give us Frear in the title role?

In chorus the comedy has been strengthened and the stage settings made new and bright. Then we have Walter Lawrence, an ex-Pittsburgh choir singer, with his really fine voice to atone for this second infliction—and the music is catchy. That "Since I First Met You" ditty scored heavily last night, and there are a few others.

Otherwise, the Sultan is desirable at the price. Miss Maud Williams is statuesque and sings fairly well. Miss Nellie Nichols is an ex-vaudevillian, evidently, and shows it, both in voice and manner. Our old friend, George O'Donnell, is quite as handsome and sings as well. Posa Flo Irwin is quite lurlied in the role of Pamela Jackson, and one could not resist the desire that the management, along with the other vaudeville, might give Miss Irwin a chance. She is a veteran. John Fogarty and John O'Day are still the nimble-footed attendants on his royal highness.

Bijou—More to Be Pitied Than Scorned.

The attraction at the Bijou this week is "More to Be Pitied Than Scorned." It is a melodrama that attempts to show some of the animosities between the church and the stage. The story is told in the usual language of the ordinary melodrama. There is much parleying and a whole lot of shooting. The principal characters are the same as those the patrons of the Bijou saw in "When London Sleeps" and dramas of its kind. The piece, however, is good in its way, and the company acts intelligently. Characters in melodrama are steretyped just as they are in burlesque and musical comedy, but to the audience it makes all the difference in the world whether revolvers are flourished on the dark banks of the Thames, in a New York tenement, at Port Arthur or on the stage of a mimic theater. There is novelty in "More to Be Pitied Than Scorned," and it is the novelty of climax rather than the novelty of dialogue or situation that pleases the patrons of melodrama. There are some love-making scenes that are a little too sentimental and truly realistic for the Bijou crowds, but sweet cadences were soon forgotten when the villain was duly and promptly foiled. The novelty was shown in the second act when the stage of the theater was used for a rehearsal of a play and the heroine did her acting from one of the boxes. To see a woman flourishing a revolver in a crowded house added all the zest needed to make a spirited scene, both before and behind the curtain. There are 50 people in the company and there are unmistakable evidences of prosperity in the management.

Empire—The Flaming Arrow.

The Empire is fortunate again this week in having a production interesting in its plot and thrilling in its action without verging on the inane or the vulgar in the least. Lincoln J. Carter's western drama, "The Flaming Arrow," is instructive, for it presents a vivid double picture of Indian and army life. It is not new to Pittsburghers, but the well staged story of love and adventure is one that has a fresh charm every time it appears. The characters are excellent types and the cast is especially strong. Indian chiefs, a treacherous Mexican, the proverbial camp negro, light-hearted and droll, portray phases of life on the western frontier that are seldom seen nowadays on the stage. Many novel and stirring situations are introduced in the attempt of the Mexican to seize the daughter of the colonel of the regiment and carry her off and her subsequent rescue by an Indian lover. Chief Ga Ne Gue as Black Eagle is a fine actor in his role. So also is Clarence Bellair, the White Eagle of the play, who might easily be taken for a real Indian. Wilbur Collins lets pass no chance to bring out all the contemptible sides of the treacherous Mexican character, and his work as a villain was heartily appreciated by his hearers. The major part of the fun was contributed by Ed. S. Allen, or Snow Ball, who was at once the laughing stock and the general useful man of the regiment. Helen Vaugh as the colonel's daughter did not play here last year, but is well fitted for her role. The stage effects seen at the Empire last night are considerably above the average and a brass band helped to add to the novelty of the stage entertainment.

Grand—Vaudeville.

The week's bill at the Grand as presented last night is greatly divesified and of real excellence in a few of the numbers. Miss Annie Irish who is well known for her work in leading roles, appears in a little sketch called "An Actress' Christmas." It is devoid of any interesting situation or problem, and the characters, aside from the servant, are imaginary, so the sketch is really a monologue with opportunity only for clever elocution on the part of Miss Irish. Another sketch by Claude Gillingwater and Company pleased the audience so that Mr. Gillingwater was accorded two curtain calls. A musical act by Signor Del Oro which consisted of concertina solos with an organ accompaniment, seemed to be the favorite with the audience. Press Eldridge is there with his black face specialty and Bailey and Madison, one of the best of the knockabout teams, kept the audience going while they were on. Others on the bill were Gillett's musical dogs, Vera King, Wood and Ray, Charles and Minnie Sa-Van, Lydell and Butterworth, May Evans, Amons the juggler and the Basque quartet.

Academy—The Rentz-Santley Company.

The Rentz-Santley burlesquers can always be depended upon to give their patrons an ensemble of beauty, novelty and good music. This season they have broken their record which was established on the variety circuit 20 years ago. The company which opened at the Academy yesterday revealed some new faces and all the old familiar ones that the people were waiting to greet with a royal welcome. There is not 10 minutes on the program when the burlesque does not have a share of the stage. The specialties are short and juicy and are run off the stage to make room for a song or a dance by the chorus. And it's a handsome chorus, too. The show starts with a burletta, "Looping the World," which affords a trace of humor and song through the entire piece, with brief interruption by the olio. The opening scene takes place in a New York restaurant. The characters turn up next at a Donnybrook fair in Ireland, shift over the Irish sea to London and across the channel to the Folles Bergere in Paris. A street in Cairo, a rajah's palace in India and the quiet Pacific next are visited. Finally they all return to New York and participate in a stirring finale.

The stars in the olio are the Bijou Comedy Four, Cliff Farrell, Hawthorne and Burt, the Racketts, Charles W. Douglas and Claus and Montez.

The Sothern-Marlowe Company.

The season of standard drama will have a splendid inaugural in this city Monday evening, October 10, at the Nixon theater, when E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe, supported by a company of unusual strength, will appear in a grand revival of the great love play of the ages, "Romeo and Juliet." E. H. Sothern has won his Shakespearean spurs in "Hamlet," and his initial interpretation here of Romeo will be awaited with interest. Julia Marlowe has long been regarded as the ideal prototype of Juliet. The venerable and admirable Mrs. Sol Smith will appear as the nurse to Juliet; Mrs. Woodward, as Lady Capulet; G. Harrison Hunter as the dashing Mercutio; Norman Hackett, a fine young actor, will be Ben Volio; Malcolm Bradley and that sterling actor, William Harris, popular actors both, will appear respectively as Montague and Capulet.

"Lord and Lady Algy."

"Lord and Lady Algy," the greatest success ever given by the Empire theater stock company in New York, and which has subsequently been revived at two other New York theaters, the Criterion and Knickerbocker, will be produced at the Avenue theater next week by the Harry Davis stock company. "Lord and Lady Algy" has been described as a comedy of the smart society set of London, in which their manners and customs are exploited, and the easy modes of life adopted by some young and wealthy couples over there are illustrated.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

DEDICATE FINE BUILDING DEVOTED TO ADVERTISING

Agency Which Handles the Business for the Postum Cereal Company, Limited, Enters Its New Offices Under Pleasant Auspices.

Out at Battle Creek, Mich., among the trees, flowers and green lawns is a most unique building, devoted entirely to advertising. It is occupied by the Grandin Advertising Agency, Ltd., which handles among other accounts the advertising of the Postum Cereal Company, Ltd., aggregating in round figures $1,000,000 a year, perhaps the largest appropriation of any one concern in the world.

Prominent newspaper and magazine publishers and their special representatives in large number from New York, Chicago, and various parts of the country, attended the formal opening of this building and a banquet last evening at the Post Tavern as guests of C. W. Post.

The publishers inspected the 15 or 15 factory buildings of this father of the prepared food industry with especial interest, for it has grown to its present colossal proportions in a trifle less than nine years, a marked example of the power of good and continuous advertising of articles of pronounced merit.

In his address to publishers at the banquet, Mr. Post likened the growth of a modern commercial enterprise to the growth of an apple tree. Good seed, plenty of work and water are needed, but the tree will not bear apples without sunshine. The sunshine to the commercial plant is publicity secured by advertising. It is impossible, even with the heaviest advertising, to make a success unless the article has merit of a high order. Merit is the good tree and sunshine makes the apples grow. A good salesman who knows how to talk with his pen can present the logic, argument and salesman ability to thousands of customers at one time through the columns of the newspaper, a strong contrast to the old-fashioned way of talking to one customer at a time.

He spoke of the esteem of the advertiser, for a publisher that takes especial interest in making the advertising announcements attractive. Advertisements should contain truthful information of interest and value to readers. The Postum methods have made Battle Creek famous all over the world and about doubled the population.

BANDA ROSSA SCORES HIT IN ITS OPENING CONCERTS

After Three Years' Absence Sig. Sorrentino's Organization Is Heard at the Pittsburgh Exposition.

The Banda Rossa, which had not been heard here for three years, showed at the exposition last evening great improvement made since its last Pittsburgh engagement. In the second concert the audience gave Sig. Sorrentino and his boys in red such a reception as will never be forgotten.

As a leader Sig. Sorrentino is not dramatic, but exceedingly graceful and forceful. His band works with the precision of a great, well-oiled machine, not an error marking its work from the beginning to the close of the concerts.

Tonight the Banda Rossa will produce in Pittsburgh for the first time Father Perosi's masterpiece, the "Resurrection of Christ." The exposition management has secured an immense church bell, which will be placed on the bandstand this afternoon, ready for this masterly production. It will be the third number in the 9:30 concert. Sig. Sorrentino has played the "Resurrection of Christ" at St. Louis and in Kansas City. This work takes up from 20 to 25 minutes in production.

The Third Pennsylvania regiment of United Boys' brigade, will attend the exposition tonight in a body, in full uniform, without guns, and will give a fancy drill in the main hall. The Banda Rossa programs for this afternoon follow:

2:00 P. M.

"Thomas Jefferson" March.....Santelman
Overture, "The Italian in Algiers".....Rossini
Harp solo.....Selected
Sig. Fanelli.
Grand Selection from "Barber of Seville".....Rossini

4:00 P. M.

Accused Boy Caught in Pittsburgh.

CONNELLSVILLE, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Clinton Moyer, 15 years old, who is charged with stealing a pocketbook containing $51.50 from Miss Bertha Stevens, was caught in Pittsburgh and returned to Connellsville today.

Cured of Asthma

After 35 years of Suffering.

It will be gratifying to Asthmatic readers to learn that an absolute cure has at last been discovered by Dr. Schiffmann. That the remedy is an effectual one cannot be doubted after perusal of such testimony as that of C. W. Van Antwerp, Fulton, N. Y., who says: "Your remedy (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure) is the best I ever used. I bought a package of our druggist and tried it and one box entirely cured me of Asthma, and I have not had it since. I can now go to bed and sleep all night with perfect comfort, which I have not done before for 35 years and I thank you for the health that I now enjoy. I hope that you will publish this letter, that others may learn of its wonderful virtues."

Mr. W. Sererus, Cavalier, N. D., says: "I was troubled with Asthma for 20 years, about 8 years ago I started to use your Asthma Cure, and have not had an attack for six years.

Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. R. Schiffmann, Box 801, St. Paul, Minn., for a free sample package.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

Local Christian Churches to Send Large Delegation to St. Louis Gathering.

Members of the Christian church congregations of Western Pennsylvania are arranging to send a large delegation to the national convention of Christian churches to be held in St. Louis, beginning October 13. Over 25,000 delegates are expected to be present, representing the membership of 1,250,000 the denomination has in America.

Special trains will be run over the Pennsylvania lines, leaving at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, October 13. The Rev. W. J. Russell of the East End church has been appointed to address the convention on "Philanthropy." Mrs. C. L. Thurgood, wife of the Rev. C. L. Thurgood, pastor of the Central Christian church, has been delegated to prepare a motto for the Christian Women's Beneficial union, which comprises 40,000 members.

(No. 299.)

AN ORDINANCE—Amending section 6 of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance authorizing and directing the proper officers in the name and on behalf of the city of Allegheny, to make, execute and deliver leases of the wharf and fixing the terms and conditions thereof," approved the 21st day of March, A. D. 1904; by fixing the rate of wharfage on unimproved portion of the wharf.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That section 6 of an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance authorizing and directing the proper officers in the name and on behalf of the city of Allegheny, to make, execute and deliver leases of the wharf and fixing the terms and conditions thereof," approved the 21st day of March, A. D. 1904, which reads as follows:

Sec. 6. The annual rental of said wharf shall be at the rate of $2.50 per foot front, for the improved portion of the wharf, between Chestnut street and Darragh street, on the Allegheny river, between Greenwood street and Locust street on the Ohio river, payable quarterly in advance on the first days of January, April, July and October. The director of the department of public works shall collect said rents and give receipts therefor, and shall have general supervision over the wharf. He shall be held responsible for all rents remaining unpaid for fifteen days after they become due; unless the director shall have in the meantime placed the same in the hands of the controller for collection. All lessees who shall fail to pay their rent within thirty days from the time the same becomes due, shall, at the option of the city, be deemed to have forfeited their leases.

Sec. 2. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law in councils this 30th day of September, A. D. 1904.

DIRECTOR MOORE AIDS MONAHAN

PENN INCLINE TO BE SOLD

The answer of Director Moore, of the department of public safety, in the equity suit of W. H. Monahan against Director Moore and a number of men who are members and officials of the International Association of Machinists, was filed yesterday. Director Moore admits that the allegations made by Monahan are all true, and he places the Machinists' union and its officials in an interesting position. The answer raises the question of the right of a labor union to take action to deprive any man of his work because he is not a member of the union, although Monahan tried to join the Machinists' union and was black-balled.

Director Moore tells of the appointment of Monahan as superintendent of machinery in the bureau of fire and asserts that he is a "skilled, vigilant and efficient employe," whose services the department of public safety desires to retain. Moore then states that he received a call from William A. Mincely and Stewart Simpson, who told him they were business agents of the Machinists' union. They were accompanied by Thomas Blackburn. They demanded the dismissal, Moore states, of Monahan, solely because he was not a member of the union. Moore laid the matter before Monahan and he agreed to join the union. His name was proposed and he was black-balled. Moore could get no information from the union officials as to why Monahan was not admitted. Seeking an explanation he wrote to James O'Connell, the international president, at Washington, O'Connell declined to interfere, leaving the matter with the local union.

After Monahan had been black-balled, the business agents, Moore says, again called upon him and threatened to call out every union machinist in the bureau of fire if he did not dismiss Monahan. Moore asked for time and held a conference with Mayor Hays. He states that as the calling out of the machinists would have crippled the bureau of fire and would have endangered property to a countless value, he decided that Monahan would have to be sacrificed to the demands of the union, and he served notice of dismissal upon him effective October 1. Monahan got a preliminary injunction and he will now hold his position under order of court until it is decided whether or not the union has the legal power to thus deprive a man of his employment.

Moore attached to his answer copies of the correspondence that passed between him and the officials of the union. The letter show that the director was not only threatened with a strike but the political unfriendliness of organized labor as well. Moore protested, in the letter he wrote to the business agents, against the injustice that was being done Monahan, but announced that he could do nothing else but dismiss him under the circumstances. The letter show that no compromise but dismissal would suffice, although Moore did everything he could to retain Monahan.

The cases of Thomas McK. Cook Cathers, and of Charles Donnelly and William Evans, trustees, against the Penn Inclined Plane Company were settled yesterday in opinions handed down by Judge Rodgers. Both suits were based on a $125,000 issue of bonds made in 1882, and secured by mortgage, Donally and Evans being trustees thereof. The first suit was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiffs, and in the other the trustees were directed to sell the property of the company at public sale for the benefit of the bondholders. John Randes holds individually as trustee $81,000 of the bonds. The company has not made money. The building of the traction lines took away its patronage and the capital stock is valueless. The stockholders have not met for several years, the old directors carrying on the business.

In the suit of J. Kretzer and others to prevent Moorhead Bros. & Company from operating a steam hammer at their Sharpsburg mills, Judge Frazer granted an injunction against Judge Frazer granted an injunction against the company. The court says the operation of the hammer in its present location is an annoyance and inconvenience to the plaintiffs, and dangerous to life, and depreciates the value of property.

The sealed verdict returned by the jury in the John G. Lapps will case was opened in common pleas court No. 1. The jury found for the defendant. This verdict means that the writing claimed by Mrs. Emma Morgenroth to be a copy of Lappe's will made by her husband in a note book, was not accepted as the will. It leaves standing as the real will the paper proved to be a copy of such, in the suit brought by Mrs. Anna Gfeller.

In the suit of Matthew R. Crutchfield, for use against Francis J. Torrance and other, incorporators of the American General Hospital Company, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover an amount alleged to be due, for medical attention, the defendants filed an affidavit of defense. They say the contract entered into by Crutchfield did not entitle him to anything but the regular ward service in the Passavant hospital, but that the plaintiff secured a room and special attendance, which was not in compliance with the contract.

William Williams was convicted on a charge of forgery made by D. B. Spencer, of Natrona, and was sent to the workhouse for 10 months.

Edward L. Bailey pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy made by his son and was sent to the workhouse for six months. On a charge of perjury, also made by his son, he pleaded no defense and was sent to the workhouse for six months, both sentences to run concurrent. Bailey was married at Rankin on September 4, and the son made the informations. The son claims his father has a wife living in Birmingham, Eng.

A nolle prosse was allowed in the case of Philip C. Bahr, secretary and treasurer of the local order of the Window Glass Snappers of America, who was charged with embezzling $4000 of the money.

The will of the late Harry W. (Williams) Walker was offered yesterday for probate, the widow being present in the register's office when the instrument was offered. One of the subscribing witnesses was present and made the necessary deposition. It is likely it will be probated today. William J. Brennen has charge of the estate.

The will of John G. Holmes, the banker, who died on the sea, has been probated, but no estimate is given. Mrs. Holmes is left the residence in the Twenty-second ward and the effects about the place. She is also left $10,000 for purposes expressed to her by the decedent. The remainder of the estate is to be divided according to the intestate laws among the widow and children. Attorneys Dalzell, Scott & Gordon represent the estate.

Caroline Sloan entered suit against J. C. McKernan for $500 damages, alleging that in October, 1902, she delivered a ring valued at $150 to the defendant, with the understanding that he would deliver it to her collector. She says she demanded it on August 29, 1904, and he refused to deliver it.

The commissioner's report in the divorce suit of Agnes Smith against Charles Wesley Smith has been filed. They were married in July, 1891, and during their life together until 1899, she testified he beat, neglected and treated her in a cruel manner.

An inventory in the estate of the late Robert M. Holland shows a valuation of $28,695 87, the amount being made up by a list of stocks.

Appeals have been taken to the supreme court by the defendants in the following cases from Allegheny county: Frank Donner against William J. Donner; Dennis O'Leary against the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company and the Pittsburgh Valve Foundry Construction Company against George E. Klingelhofer and others.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed in the United States district court by Otis Shepard & Co., the H. J. Heinz Company and Haworth & Dewhurst against Samuel Brown, a merchant of Walnut and Copeland streets. Claims are presented which amount to $667 48.

A like petition was filed against Fessler & Sanford, merchants of Franklin, Pa. The petitioners are A. L. Bassett & Co. of Cleveland, O.; Wilson Bros. of Chicago and the Ohio Suspender Company of Mansfield, O. The claims filed amount to $502 08, while the liabilities of Ora Gunnison are given as $15,054 54 and assets as $18,722 50.

The Steel Car Forge Company entered suit in the United States circuit court against the Pressed Steel Car Company to recover $50,000. The amount sued for is alleged to be due the plaintiff company on a contract for supplying steel forgings.

The following executions were issued yesterday: John M. Chaplin vs. Grant Miller, $24 50; Homestead Brewing Company vs. John F. Keeling, $1,500; same vs. same, $230; Ohio and Pittsburgh Milk Company vs. Edward Cook, $750 50.

Beckdel to Be Tried.

The charge of conspiracy brought against E. J. Beckdel and others, on informations made by Detective Richard Kelly and Thomas E. Cooper, are on the trial list and will probably be called today. The charges are similar to those brought against Belle R. Ridley, W. G. Hopkins, Warren D. Hopkins and others, whose places were closed by the police for operating a scheme to get homes without paying interest and on an alleged lottery plan. The ball in the Keystone cases was forfeited some time ago.

THE THREE RIVERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—The stage of the river at 6 p. m. today was 3.4 feet and falling. Weather clear and pleasant. Today's departures were: Katie Mac, Portsmouth; Lizzie Bay, Louisville. A slight rise from Parkersburg is headed this way, but the swell in the river here will not be great, as the bulk of it will be held in the pools and along the bank. Commodore F. A. Laidley is back from his annual fishing trip to the Pelee islands in Lake Erie. A party of Pittsburgh pilots are due here about the middle of the week. They are on their annual inspection trip aboard the Little Joe, one of the lightest boats in the Pittsburgh harbor. The trip will extend as far as Louisville. On the way down the party will make a close inspection of the channel, make soundings at shallow places and note the condition of the channel and make a map for the information of the men who bring out the big boats during low water season. The bar at the mouth of the Licking is rising farther out of the water as the river recedes. Three barges of coal were sunk during the last winter and struck the piers of the L. & N. bridge and then were carried down to the bar by the current.

POINT PLEASANT.—River 9 inches and rising. Weather clear and pleasant. Down, Little Joe with Pittsburgh pilots.

STEUBENVILLE.—River 2 feet 8 inches and falling. Weather clear and cool.

GREENSBORO.—River 5 feet 10 inches and stationary. Weather fair and cool. Woodward down Tuesday and Columbia up.

OIL CITY.—River 1 foot 7 inches and falling. Weather cloudy and cool.

WARREN.—River 1 foot 1 inch. Weather cloudy and cool.

GALLIPOLIS.—River 2 feet 2 inches and rising. Weather clear and cool.

PARKERSBURG.—River rising slightly now, being 3 feet 8.10. The Besse Smith is the only packet running.

LOUISVILLE.—River falling, 2 feet 3 inches in canal; 1 inch on falls; 3 feet below locks. Weather clear and pleasant.

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 3.2 feet and the river was falling.

HOPE FOR THE MAYFLOWER.

Hull Said to Be in Good Shape for Rebuilding—Pilots Visit Merriman's.

Until the insurance is adjusted on the steamer Mayflower, which burned early yesterday morning at the Monongahela wharf, Capt. John Klein will be unable to make any announcement as to his future plans. It is certain, however, that he will have another boat in the excursion trade next season.

An unofficial examination by experienced wreckers, yesterday, determined that the hull is comparatively uninjured and can probably be raised and the vessel rebuilt. The machinery was not seriously damaged, but new boilers will be needed. The work of the fire department is praised, as the fire did not even burn through the deck in some places. Until the examiner for the insurance companies arrives no estimate can be made of the exact loss. He will probably be here today.

The Mayflower was built in 1887 for Capt. Lew Clerk. After two years of unprofitable business he sold her to the St. Louis and Tennessee River Navigation Company and she plied between St. Louis and Tennessee river ports for several years. Capt. Klein bought her eight years ago and brought her back to Pittsburgh. Under his management she has been doing an excellent business. The past season was a profitable one and Capt. Klein is congratulating himself that the fire came at the end of the season instead of at the beginning.

The Rose Hite of the Pittsburgh and Morgantown Packet Company has been repaired and is back in the trade. She will be taken to Brownsville, where she will be repainted and will then probably replace one of the company's sidewheel boats for the winter trade.

Several pilots went to Merriman's yesterday and visited the site where it is proposed to build a "fence" to throw the water into the channel at White's riffle towhead. Work is expected to begin there in a few days.

The I. C. Woodward was the Morgantown boat yesterday. Press Ellison, who has been clerking on the Kanawha, has changed to the Woodward. Harry Baumgartner, who clerked on the Woodward, has gone to Fairmont, W. Va., to engage in business.

The water in the harbor yesterday showed a stage of 6.8 feet, a decided improvement on what has been the stage for some time past.

The River Coal Company has appointed no successor as yet to Capt. W. J. Wood, who has resigned as secretary of the company. All officials of the company regret that Capt. Wood decided to sever his relations with them.

Fire Near Castle Shannon.

Two frame houses in the Library road, near Castle Shannon, burned to the ground yesterday morning. One was occupied by the family of Felix Goedert and by Joseph Frank as a bakery, and the other by Mrs. Lena Opferman and her six children. There was no water with which to fight the flames. Much of the furniture was saved by the efforts of the women. Goedert places his loss at $3,500, with $2,000 insurance; Frank's loss was $500 and $30 which had been tied up in a handkerchief; Mrs. Opferman lost about $2,000.

Aged Woman Tells a Tale of Woe.

Mrs. Lucinda Nelson, aged 66, of Elliott, was sent to jail yesterday in default of a $5 fine imposed by Alderman B. C. Barton in a disorderly conduct charge. The information was made by Alexander Blatchford, who is married to Mrs. Nelson's niece. Mrs. Nelson alleges she signed away property in Elliott to her niece without being aware of the nature of the paper, and that when she later went to her old home she was evicted and the disorderly charge made.

Ship Wrecked and 14 Drowned.

FREDRIKSTAD, NORWAY, Oct. 3.—The Norwegian bark, Sir John Lawrence, from London, struck on sunken rocks outside this harbor and broke up during a gale. The crew of 40 was drowned. It is feared there were other disasters.

WHO CAN MAKE THE BEST PIE FROM THE LARGEST PUMPKIN?
WHO HAS THE LARGEST PUMPKIN IN THE STATE?

Pickering, the largest furniture store in the world, corner Tenth and Penn, Pittsburgh, wants every person that grows a pumpkin in this State and thinks it is the largest to cut his name and address on it with penknife, then take it to the Express Office and ship it to Pickering. All will be placed on exhibition in the big store Halloween week. A committee will pick out the heaviest five.

1st Prize, $10.00 Rocking Chair.
2d Prize, $ 5.00 Rocking Chair.
3d Prize, $ 3.00 Rocking Chair.
4th Prize, $ 2.50 Rocking Chair.
5th Prize, $ 2.00 Rocking Chair.

Be sure to cut your name and address on the pumpkin, bring or ship it any time before Halloween. Just as soon as yours arrives we will weigh it, keep an account of it and announce the winners' names next day after Halloween, in our ad. in all Pittsburgh papers.

No pumpkin received after Tuesday, Oct. 25.

Pickering reserves the right to keep and give to the poor all pumpkins sent to him. The first prize pumpkin will be cut into 20 or more pieces and given to as many ladies that call for it on Wednesday, October 26. To the one making the best pie she will receive a $10 Rocker; second best pie, $5 Rocker; third best pie, $3 Rocker. The 20 or more pies will be placed on exhibition Saturday, October 29, and on Halloween night 20 boys, with their hands tied behind them, will eat the pies. The boy that finishes first receives one dollar in gold; second, one dollar in silver.

The seeds of the first prize pumpkin will be done up into 100 or more envelopes; each farmer calling after November 1 can have one package. Then next year the farmer that produces the largest pumpkin from Pickering's prize seed will receive $15 worth of merchandise; second largest, $10 merchandise; third, $5 merchandise.

Now for it; Who has the largest pumpkin? Send it to or bring it to PICKERING'S FURNITURE STORE,
Pittsburgh.

P. S.—Is there anything else we could do with the prize pumpkin?

WANTED—Jersey or Alderney cow, crossed with Holstein; must be fresh or nearly so. Address P. Duff & Sons, Pittsburgh.

(No. 296.)

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and directing the mayor and the director of the department of public works to make a contract with C. F. Knapp for the repair and remodeling of the electric light plant situate on Braddock street, Second ward, for the price of $33,472 00, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof.

Whereas, By an ordinance of the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny entitled "An ordinance authorizing and ordering the repair and remodeling of the electric light plant situate on Braddock street, Second ward, which was damaged by fire Saturday, June 18, 1904; instructing the mayor and the director of the department of public works to advertise for proposals and award the contract therefor, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof," passed finally in councils July 21, 1904, and approved by the mayor July 25, 1904, the repair and remodeling of the electric light plant situate on Braddock street, Second ward, was authorized and ordered, and the mayor and the director of the department of public works were instructed to advertise for proposals and award the contract therefor; and,

Whereas, Pursuant to said ordinance the mayor and said director duly advertised for proposals, and opened same publicly in accordance with said advertisement on the 8th day of August, 1904; and,

Whereas, The lowest bid received amounts to the sum of $33,472 00, which was the bid of C. F. Knapp, and which is $2,222 00 in excess of the amount of the estimate furnished to councils prior to the passage of said ordinance; and,

Whereas, It has been found that there was a mistake in the estimate furnished to councils and that the said estimate was too low, and the director of the department of public works has furnished councils with a proper estimate, which amounts to the sum of $33,472 00; and,

Whereas, The bid of C. F. Knapp for doing said work for the price of $33,472 00 is not in excess of the estimate now furnished by the director of the department of public works, and is the lowest bid received, and is a fair and reasonable price for said work; therefore

Section 1. Be it ordained and enactd by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the mayor and the director of the department of public works are hereby authorized and directed to accept the said bid of C. F. Knapp and award the contract for the repair and remodeling of the electric light plant situate in Braddock street, Second ward, in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor on file in the office of the director of the department of public works, to C. F. Knapp for the price or sum of $33,472 00.

The cost and expense thereof to be paid out of Item No. 6, Appropriation No. 14, bureau of public lighting, department of public works.

Section 2. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law in councils this 30th day of September, A. D. 1904.

BOOM IN STEEL PREFERRED THE DOMINANT FEATURE

The Stock Crossed 76 and Closed Strong—Several New High Marks for Railroad Stocks—Jump in Pittsburgh Coal Preferred.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a big, broad market in New York stocks yesterday, the sales exceeding a million shares. The dominant feature, however, was the strength of United States Steel preferred. The large advance of last week, coming on top of the rise of the preceding two months, had produced a feeling that while there was improvement in the iron market, and while sentiment is optimistic, the market has outpaced the improvement in actual conditions, and traders were rather bearish. The market opened strong, but on the first appearance of profit-taking, which was emphasized by rather liberal selling for London account, professional traders sold short and tried to force a reaction. On this movement Steel preferred declined to 73⅞ and looked like going lower. About the middle of the afternoon, however, the offerings of the stock became scarce, traders attempted to cover shorts, and then there was a repetition of the market that has been witnessed on numerous occasions of late. The price advanced rapidly, and after it crossed 75 the movement to 76¾ was comparatively easy. One house which has been suspected of selling short, while it was issuing bullish opinions, bought a block of 5,000 shares of the common stock at 19, and the price went easily to 19½, establishing a new high market for the year. The bonds also rose to the highest of the year, by selling at 83⅜. All three issues closed strong at about top prices. The street is more than ever convinced that the corporation is exercising its privilege to convert preferred stock into sinking fund bonds, but there is no official information on the point. Republic Iron and Steel preferred, which has no bond-conversion privilege, also became very strong in the late dealings and sold up to 52¾, closing at a net gain of 2 per cent for the day. The common stock advanced to 11, and other iron and steel stocks were firmer.

There was a good deal of irregularity in the course of the remainder of the list. The weakness in Union Pacific and the strength in Northern Securities was reported to be due to a rumor that the pending litigation would terminate in favor of the Hill faction. There was nothing more substantial than rumor in this, and Union Pacific recovered a large part of the loss, closing only a small fraction lower for the day. Atchison was also rather heavy and closed at a decline of ¼ per cent. Rock Island, on the other hand, closed ⅝ higher. St. Paul, which was quoted ex-dividend of 3½ per cent, was the strongest of the grangers and recovered the greater part of its dividend, selling up to 150⅞. One commission house bought 10,000 shares of the stock. Another commission house bought 10,000 shares of Pennsylvania, but the stock closed a small fraction lower for the day. Baltimore & Ohio, on the other hand, advanced to the highest price of the year and closed at a slight gain. Reading sold down to 68⅝ and closed at a net loss of a small fraction.

The Gould stocks were more active than for a long time past, but the same degree of irregularity was noticed here as in the grangers and coal stocks. Missouri Pacific advanced to 96¾, the highest of the year, and closed 1 per cent higher for the day. Wabash common closed a shade lower, while the preferred closed a shade higher. Erie closed 1¼ per cent higher and Norfolk & Western common closed 2 per cent higher after making a new record for this movement. The monthly government report on cotton, while showing a depreciation of 8.3 points as compared with last month, was the best for any corresponding period for years, and was construed as bullish on southern railroad stocks, but the latter did not respond to any considerable extent. The traction stocks were active and higher, and National Lead common made a new high mark by selling up to 26¼, on rumors that some official statement regarding the pending merger would appear this week. The market as a whole closed strong, but it was due almost entirely to the buoyancy in United States Steel securities and St. Paul.

The call loan market was a little firmer, the rate advancing to 2½ per cent, but the decline in cotton foreshadowed a still larger outgo of that staple and the probability of a further decline in sterling exchange, which will put gold imports within reach of New York.

A boom in Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which carried the price up to 65 bid at the close, after 1,200 shares had changed hands at 62½@64¼, was the feature of the local stock market. The rise came late in the afternoon, and followed the boom in the steel stocks. The common stock was also strong and higher, selling at 13¾@14, and closing at 15⅛ bid. The scarcity of offerings of both common and preferred, but particularly of the latter, suggested that the rise was based upon a sudden fright of the shorts. The movement had a stimulating effect upon the remainder of the list, which rose to the highest prices of the day and closed strong. United States Glass made a new high record by selling at 43, and all the natural gas issues were in better demand than for a long time past. Philadelphia Company common sold at 42⅛ and closed at 42⅝ bid. Manufacturers Light and Heat and Ohio Fuel Supply, as well as the unlisted gas stocks, advanced fractionally and closed firm. The Westinghouse stocks were quiet but steady. At the close the tone of the general market was better than for weeks past.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges were $6,908,103, an increase of $511,000.

Boom in Pittsburgh Coal stocks the feature of the local market.

The preferred stock closed at 65 bid, the highest of the year.

The common stock was bid up to 15¼ at the close.

Steel stocks were fairly active and closed at net gains.

Natural Gas stocks were firm and in better demand.

IN WALL STREET.

Boom in United States Steel securities dominated the New York market.

Both issues of stock and the bonds advanced to the highest prices this year.

Gould stocks were higher under the lead of Missouri Pacific.

St. Paul nearly recovered its dividend and was the strongest of the railroads.

Republic Iron preferred and Lead common made big gains.

Trading active, sales footing up 1,001,500 shares stock and $4,505,000 bonds.

NOTES AND COMENT.

The advance in Pittsburgh Coal issues came late in the day and just after United States Steel preferred had crossed 76 on the New York board. There may have been no connection between the two movements, and yet traders have been commenting upon the fact that Steel preferred and Coal preferred, which for months had been quoted at only a few points difference, had recently parted company and the distance between them was widening every day. The rise in the Coal issues went with a rush after it got under way. The highest sale on the common was 14, but the price was bid up to 15⅛ at the close. The highest sale on the preferred was 64¼, while the closing bid was 65. These prices represent a new high level for the year. There was a scarcity of offerings on the advance, which gave color to reports of a large short interest, particularly in the preferred stock. A rumor was current that one local house was short 5,000 shares of the stock.

A private sale of $10,000 West Side Belt 5s was reported at 105 and that price was bid for $10,000 more.

Sales of Pittsburgh Oil & Gas, an unlisted stock, were reported at 69½ and 70. Last week the stock sold at 64. The stockholders will hold a special meeting on October 11 for the purpose of voting upon a proposition to issue $2,000,000 bonds, the proceeds of which will be used to take up short-term bonds when falling due and to liquidate an indebtedness incurred in the acquisition of additional property and the building of new pipe lines. The company has been paying 8 per cent dividends on its $6,000,000 capital.

There were sales of Tonopah Extension yesterday at prices ranging all the way from $1.53 to $1.67 and at the close of the day the market appeared to be cleaned up. The rise was based upon news from the mine to the effect that the ore vein was increasing in richness with depth.

Mr. T. H. Robinson yesterday tendered his resignation as a member of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It is his intention to spend the fall and winter in California with his family for the benefit of his health, which has been much improved by a two months' vacation in the mountains, from which he has just returned.

The purchase yesterday of 10,000 shares each of St. Paul and Pennsylvania by two prominent Wall street commission houses had much to do with checking liquidation in the market.

There were no public sales of local bank stocks yesterday, but the tone of the market was firmer. Metropolitan National advanced to 185 bid.

It used to be said of United States Steel preferred that the volume of stock was so large it would be a difficult matter to rally it once it got into the dumps. It also used to be said that it would be a comparatively safe short sale under most circumstances, because the stock could never be cornered, owing to the number of shares outstanding. And yet the market value of this same Steel preferred has advanced about 50 per cent in less than five months, or from 51¼ on May 13 last to 76¾ yesterday. Within the same period the common stock has more than doubled, notwithstanding the fact that there are more than 5,000,000 shares of it in the hands of the public. The movement has certainly been the greatest surprise of the year.

The First National bank of Wilkinsburg has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 5 per cent.

Offical confirmation of the report that the Steel Corporation is carrying out the conversion plan temporarily deferred a year ago, is still withheld, but specific instances of big purchases would indicate a movement of this sort.

It is estimated that the railroads and industrial companies will pay out in dividends during October approximately $70,000,000, being a decrease of about $1,250,000 as compared with October, 1903.

An officer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company says that while the price of bituminous coal has not stiffened and the demand has not tangibly improved, yet the sentiment is substantially better.

Statistically there was a good deal of news of a bearish character on wheat. Southwestern arrivals exceeded last year's by 183,000 bushels. The visible increase was 400,000 bushels larger than last week and 125,000 larger than last year. The world's shipments exceeded the preliminary estimate, totaling 10,616,000 bushels. Liverpool closed from ½ to 1 penny lower.

The weather continues to favor the late corn and the forecast is for fair and warmer over the important areas with the exception of lower temperatures in the northwest. Prof. Davis of the agricultural department of the University of Nebraska estimates the yield in his state of 211,000,000 bushels, which compares with a production of 172,000,000 a year ago.

The advance in Norfolk & Western to the highest price of the year was accomplished by the rumor of an increase in the dividend rate from 3 to 4 per cent.

The government report on cotton indicates a crop of about 12,000,000 bales, which will bring great wealth to the southern states. This factor cannot be overestimated in connection with the increase of tonnage that will be handled by railroads in that territory.

The usual Monday morning expressions from railroad traffic officials were particularly sanguine of future growth of traffic and reported good actual increase in freight movement as a result of the passing of the corn crop scare. A prominent feature of the reports of railroad business was the revival of improvements and betterments, which had been laid aside owing to the need of retrenchment of extraordinary expenses. The merchandise movement was reported to be expanding.

Time money was quoted a little firmer in New York and the downward course of sterling exchange was checked. Gold was marked up in London and the course of sterling at Paris and the weak return of the Imperial Bank of Germany indicated that New York would find rivals for any demand on London for gold.

Full details, compiled by cities, states and sections of the national bank returns of September 6, make in some ways a remarkable showing. They clearly prove to what extent New York city has been gathering into its own market—this past 12 months—the credits of interior communities. Deposits held by New York national banks for the account of outside state and national banks have increased $85,000,000 since September, 1903. All the rest of the United States shows increases of only $69,000,000. During the year preceding there had been practically no change at all, either in such deposits in the country as a whole or in New York city taken by itself. These figures of the past 12 months, it should be observed, include the trust company and savings bank deposits with national institutions. The immensely prosperous northwest, with 87 new banks and a rapidly growing population, added $5,100,000 to its loan account. The south, the main beneficiary of the last year's happy fortune, increases loans by $29,500,000. But New York, where trade hesitation and dull business were most keenly felt of all large centers, has added $170,000,000 to the outstanding loans and discounts of its national banks.

BUSINESS IN STOCKS INCREASED IN VOLUME

Activity Is Confined to a Few Issues—Close Is Marked by Improvement.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says:

There was a decided increase in the volume of business on the stock exchange yesterday, with the activity confined to comparatively few issues. The movement of the day was irregular, a reactionary tendency in the early dealings giving place to improvement toward the close, which overcame most of the early decline. Little change was noted in the character of the dealings, commission houses generally complaining of the lack of business, while the trading element continued active. Pool and clique operations shifted their operations somewhat and discovered some peculiar merits in certain properties heretofore neglected. These were stimulated into greater activity

EXCHANGE DEAL INVOLVES $75,000

Thirteenth Ward Frontage Is Traded for Several East End Residences.

LATEST BUILDING PROJECTS

An exchange deal involving properties valued at $75,000, was the largest transaction announced yesterday. John M. Petty was the seller of the larger property which brought $40,000. It consists of five eight-room brick houses on a lot 150x110 feet, at the northeast corner of Rippey and St. Clair streets, Nineteenth ward. The houses are modern in construction and rent for $30 a month each. The buyer was Daniel Brady, proprietor of the Park hotel, who gave in part exchange 45x236 feet at Melwood and Atlantic avenues, Thirteenth ward. The property extends through to Neville street and was valued at $35,000, the difference being paid in cash. The vacant frontage has been used for some time as a dump heap and will now be improved, it is said, with a number of good houses.

This is one of several exchange deals made lately where vacant frontage within the city limits has been traded for improved properties with the object of improving the former at once. There are many such plots scattered about in localities where houses could be built and rented to good advantage. Just why they are allowed to remain vacant, thus being a dead weight for their owners to carry, is hards to see as money invested in good houses would make them excellent income producers. Since there has been a marked tendency to lower prices in building, owners and speculators have taken more interest in these vacant lots. If fine weather prevails through the fall, many of them will be made over into good residence districts.

Busy With Estimates.

The following projects are on the boards of local architects for estimates. A three-story brick apartment building in Watson boulevard, Allegheny, for W. F. Holt to cost $15,000, from plans by Architect C. G. Mentel; four brick dwellings for E. W. Smith, on the Merrimac street to cost $16,000, from plans by Miiby & Reed; five-story brick storage plant and warehouse at Blackberry street and Thorn alley, McKeesport, for W. F. Dulaney & Company, from plans by Architect H. J. Lohman; a three-story brick store and apartment building at Sheraden, to cost $9,000, from plans by Architect W. J. Shaw; a brick church at Ambridge, to cost $20,000 for the St. Veronica's Roman Catholic congregation; a church at Huey and Converse street, McKeesport, to cost $10,000, from plans by Architect J. P. Bailey.

The Odd Fellows of Pitcairn have awarded the contract for a temple to cost $30,000 to C. Brendlinger. The building will stand at Third street and Center avenue and will be 45x100 feet. Architect W. H. Metcalf has awarded the contract to E. F. Guthrie for a brick residence for Thomas McNall, in Juniata place, to cost $15,000.

William Waite has the contract from Architect J. Jones for a three-story brick business block at Carson and South Twenty-fifth streets, for P. A. Hellerbach, to cost $10,000.

Lawrenceville Plant Sold.

A galvanizing plant formerly operated by the Pittsburgh Galvanizing Company has been sold by John E. Laughlin to Wallace P. Rache. George Bingham and William B. Moore for $14,000. It is located at the southwest corner of Fifty-seventh and Harrison streets, Eighteenth ward, and the site measures 132x134 feet.

George S. Dippold has sold to Ida R. Wainwright, an improved property, 40x106 feet, on the west side of Stratford avenue near Friendship avenue, Twentieth ward, for $12,500.

Through the Real Estate Trust Company the Rev. J. D. Sands of the United Presbyterian Board of Publication, has sold to Thomas M. Griffith, of the firm of W. J. Friday & Company, 150x150 feet at Second and B streets, Oakmont, for $9,750. The property is near the new boat house of the Oakmont Boat club. The house is a 12-room frame dwelling now occupied by Mrs. R. A. Hunt.

Another deal made by the same company is a little out of the ordinary as showing the slump in values of Allegheny residence property in some sections. For Charles E. Starbird, of Chester, Pa., president of the Tidewater Steel Company, they sold to R. Morgan, of this city, 10-room house on a lot 22x118 feet, on the south side of Windsor street, near Allegheny avenue, Fifth ward, for $4,200. A few years ago the same property sold for $11,000.

Minor Realty Transactions.

Boquet street: Horace A. Watson sold to Gottfried Buser an improved lot, 25x100 feet, on the west side of Boquet street, near Sample street, Fourteenth ward, for $7,000.

Linden avenue: Sarah F. McMasters sold to William H. Robinson an improved lot, 31.8x156.5 feet, at the northwest corner of Linden and Penn avenues, Twenty-first ward, for $6,500.

Farragut street: Sarah J. Seeley sold to Anna M. Williams an improved lot, 36x124 feet, on the east side of Farragut street near Jackson street, Nineteenth ward, for $2,200.

Lawrenceville: William C. Dodds sold to the Duquesne Cigar Company an improved lot, 39x72 feet, at the southwest corner of Twenty-fifth and Smallman streets, Twelfth ward, for $7,600.

Hallock street: Mary Rottger sold to Louis F. Winters an improved lot, 20x100 feet, on the east side of Hallock street near Grandview avenue, Thirty-second ward, for $1,700.

Columbia avenue: F. H. Drew sold to Charlotte Johnston an improved lot, 20x90 feet, on the west side of Columbia avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $1,200.

Bluff street: The Aronson Realty Company sold for Rosen Steinberg to Jacob Tannenbaum, a lot on the south front side known as 1425 Bluff street, Sixth ward, for $7,500.

The Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection issued permits as follows: D. J. Kennedy Co., for a frame stable in Braddock avenue, to cost $5,000; Henry Weinz, brick store and dwelling in Frankstown avenue, $5,500; C. J. Wright, brick veneered dwelling in Race street, $3,500; Dr. George A. Urling, brick automobile shed in North Negley avenue, $1,000.

MONDAY PROVED QUIET IN ALL MARKET LINES

Business Was an Improvement, However, Over Last Week. But Few Changes.

Dull business characterized the local markets yesterday, but this is customary for Mondays. The day, however, was an improvement over the previous Monday and this made the men along the street smile. There were few changes to record. The move in sugar, announced in The Gazette yesterday morning, was not a surprise to those in touch with the market and the raise of 5 points in all grades was what was generally expected.

Flour seems to be holding up at the rate quoted last week and there is no guessing as to what it will do. The trend of opinion is that this week will see a raise, as the wheat reports from the west are now reaching beyond the estimate stage and are getting down to actual measurements. Within a short time the threshing for 1904 will be ended; it has progressed far enough now to warn millers that there is no prospect of any lower flour this year.

The butter market remained steady yesterday and the price is the same as quoted last week. Cheese did not take another move up as expected, and poultry remains the same as last week. There is little demand for poultry and the market is thoroughly supplied with good stock. Cantaloupes are getting scarce. Rocky Fords have gone up to $1 25 and $1 50, and there will be no more dollar Rocky Fords.

Receipts yesterday were: Apples, 15 cars; making 35; bananas, 6 cars, making 27; cantaloupes, 2, making 22; cranberries, 1 car; grapes, 25 cars, making 39; lemons, 2 cars; onions, 10 cars, making 18; oranges, 1 car, making 2; peaches, 11 cars, making 38; pears, 3 cars, making 13; potatoes, 30 cars, making 45; sweet potatoes, 5 cars, making 25; California fruits, 2 cars, making 10; miscellaneous, 12 cars, making 21.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts of hay, grain and feed at the railroad yards yesterday were: Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 5 cars hay, 6 cars oats, 1 car rye, 1 car straw. Baltimore & Ohio, 22 cars hay, 3 cars straw, 3 cars oats. Pennsylvania lines, 55 cars hay, 8 cars corn, 24 cars oats, 5 cars feed, 9 cars straw, 3 cars rye.

The hay and grain market was fairly active yesterday with a good demand. The receipts of hay were a little larger than usual, but it was two day's receipts (Sunday and Monday) and this fact helped swell the figures. There is a hand to mouth business doing in corn, everybody waiting for the new corn to come in. Rye is holding up well with a prospect of going still higher. There is plenty of market for all that is offered. Wheat still holds its figure, although none is offered in the local market.

WHEAT CLOSES FIRM ON FLOUR REPORTS

Corn Is Off a Shade, but Oats and Provisions Have Gone Up.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Reports of an active flour trade offset a number of bearish influences in wheat today and helped to cause a firm tone. At the close December wheat was up ¾@⅞c. Corn is off a shade. Oats show a gain of ⅛@¼c, and provisions 10@27½c.

At the outset the wheat market was decidedly weak. Opening quotations on December were down ¼@⅝c at $1 12⅛@1 12½. May was off ½@⅝c to ¾@⅞c at $1 12¾@1 12⅞. The factors that contributed to the initial weakness were lower cables, liberal world's shipments and heavy receipts in the northwest. For a time commission houses were free sellers, and while only a scattered demand, prices declined still further. December sold off to $1 11⅛ and May to $1 12¼. On the decline a leading commission house became a heavy buyer, and this support started active covering by pit traders who had sold too freely on the opening weakness. As a result the market suddenly turned strong. Rumors that a leader of the bulls was buying heavily through commission houses, while selling openly, caused additional purchases by the pit crowd. The condition of the flour trade was a decided bull factor. Seattle reported having sold 3,000 tons of flour for shipment to Vladivostok, while Portland sent advises of the sale of 10 carloads to New England. Minneapolis also reported an active demand for flour. On the resulting bulge in wheat here December advanced to $1 14 and May to $1 14⅛. During the last hour the market lost much of its newly acquired strength, the principal depressing influence being an unusually heavy primary movement. Realizing sales caused a considerable reaction, but a firm tone prevailed at the close. Final quotations on December were at $1 13⅛@1 13¼. May closed at $1 13⅝@1 13⅞. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 144,000 bushels. The amount on passage decreased 288,000 bushels while the visible supply increased 2,373,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,865,800 bushels compared with 1,410,900 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 1,370 cars against 1,155 cars last week and 1,210 cars a year ago.

Weakness of wheat and favorable weather conditions brought out fair selling of corn early in the session resulting in a decline from Saturday's closing quotations. Later the market became firmer in sympathy with wheat. Small primary receipts also furnished additional encouragement to bull trades. Late in the day the market again eased off under moderate realizing sales. Sentiment at the close was barely steady. December opened ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c lower at 50⅝@50⅞c and sold up to 51⅛c and closed at 51c. Local receipts were 146 cars with four of contract grade.

Liberal receipts and an increase of nearly 2,000,000 bushels in the visible supply were bear factors in the oats market. A fair demand from shorts, however, held prices steady. December opened unchanged to ¼c higher at 30¼c to 31c, advanced to 31⅛c and closed at 31@31⅛c. Local receipts were 201 cars.

A heavy decrease in contract stocks, especially of lard, caused strength in provisions. There was more outside interest manifested in the market than for sometime past, and orders were mostly on the buying side. At the close January pork was up 21½c at $13 60. Lard was up 10c at $7 67½. Ribs closed with a gain of 10@12½c at $7 02½. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 101 cars; corn, 191 cars; oats, 300 cars; hogs, 16,000 head.

BOODLER MAKES HIS CONFESSION

Former Speaker Kelly Tells How St. Louis Has Been Plundered.

HE IS UNDER CONVICTION

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—In a written confession today Charles F. Kelly, speaker of the house of delegates during a period of the life of the boodle gang, relates the story of its operations. He declares a prominent local politician promised himself and others implicated that the next circuit attorney would be "all right;" that if they would remain firm he would secure for them either continuances until the new circuit attorney took office or or pardons afterward, and that the new circuit attorney, for which office nominations are to be made by the Democrats today, would be "his man."

Kelly declares he refused this offer, and he makes this confession to satisfy the pangs of an accusing conscience, to obey the requests of his wife and to do what he can to make atonement to the public and prevent other young men from following the path which, he declared, has led him to ruin.

Kelly details the story of the city lighting deal, for which he says a boodle fund of $47,500 was divided between the 19 members of the combine at Julius Lehmann's birthday party. He continues:

"I know bribery has been going on in the municipal assembly of St. Louis for 25 years. Hardly a bill passed that body in the last quarter of a century unless it was paid for. We did not fear exposure and punishment, for we believed no one would dare do it.

"When Circuit Attorney Folk commenced his war on us, we tried to intimidate him by threats of assassination. When this had no effect we laid all sorts of traps for him, without success. Then some decided the best plan would be to start a newspaper and libel him so fiercely as to draw his fire by taking up his time in libel prosecutions, or if he did not, his influence would be weakened and destroyed. Although we could find nothing after a thorough search to make attack on, libels were deliberately made up. This was participated in not only by members of the house of delegates under indictment for boodling, but by prominent financiers of St. Louis who feared exposure.

"We never thought of passing a bill out of which any money could be obtained, unless we were paid for our votes. We held meetings at stated times and fixed bribe prices. Then we would select one in whose honesty we had confidence to go out and get the money.

Honor Among Thieves.

"These agents would rarely betray us. Among ourselves we had a high code of morals, and it was considered extremely dishonest for a member of the combine to accept bribe money without dividing it among his companions.

"We hardly ever received less than $10,000 for the combined vote. We considered it beneath our dignity to take less. On one or two occasions we got as low as $50 each for our votes. Some of the boys took $5 each, but were ashamed of it.

"Democrats and Republicans belonged to our combine. Democrats and Republicans in St. Louis usually nominate men to go to the house of delegates for the money they can make out of it. I believe this has been tolerated in St. Louis because so many of the large corporations of the city are mixed up in boodling. The heads of these corporations used to think it less trouble to buy what they wanted than to elect honest men.

"This, in brief, is my story and the confession of my infamy. I believe, though, if the people of St. Louis allow this man"—a prominent politician is named—"to go on and control both political parties and put his men in office the public will be just as guilty as me.

"I don't want to preach, but I do want to sound an alarm to the public as one would to a friend whose house is on fire. I shall endeavor for the rest of my life to atone for the wrongs I have done. I shall have more to say later on."

Kelly is under conviction for perjury in connection with the boodle cases, and is held on the charge of bribing in connection with the suburban franchise deal will be called Monday. He is now out on bond.

GANG OF YOUNG ROBBERS IS BROKEN UP BY A WOMAN

Mrs. C. W. Posey Plays Detective and Youthful Malefactors Are Brought to Book.

As the result of clever detective work done by Mrs. C. W. Posey of Seventeenth avenue, Homestead, an organized gang of boy thieves has been discovered and a number of mysterious robberies that have taken place in Homestead recently are explained. The Posey home was entered and robbed of about $100 worth of goods during the absence of the family some time ago and Mrs. Posey at once started a search for the thieves.

Yesterday she rounded up the gang, who are sons of prominent families in Homestead, and the boys admitted having robbed her home and told of entering several stores and stealing goods. The stolen articles were sold in Pittsburgh, they say, and the proceeds used to purchase uniforms for a football team. The families of the accused boys have promised to make good the losses.

BANKS WILL BE ALLIED.

Stockholders of North American Savings Vote in Favor of Deal With Fort Pitt National.

About 16,000 of the 20,000 shares of the capital stock of the North American Savings Company were voted yesterday, at the stockholders' meeting, in favor of the proposed manner of allying the company with the Fort Pitt National bank. There was no opposition whatever to the plan.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Fort Pitt is expected to be held in a few days, probably this week. The board of that bank will meet today and may call a meeting of the stockholders.

The plan proposed is the reduction of the capital stock of the North American Savings Company from $1,000,000 to $200,000, and increasing the capital of the Fort Pitt from $200,000 to $1,000,000. The $700,000 North American retired will be exchanged for a like amount of Fort Pitt stock. The stockholders in North American will thus receive 30 per cent in North American shares and 70 per cent in Fort Pitt shares. The $160,000 capital stock of the Fifth National will be exchanged, share for share, for Fort Pitt stock, and the Fort Pitt will absorb the Fifth National. It will move into the home of the Fifth National in Fourth avenue, which was formerly occupied by the Farmers and is one of the largest banking rooms of the city. The North American will continue at its present location in the savings business.

PSALMODY THE ISSUE.

Committee Meets Today to Arrange Two Conventions for U. P. Church to Discuss Worship.

The first meeting of the psalmody conventions' committee of the United Presbyterian church, which was appointed by the general assembly of 1903, will be held in the Allegheny Theological seminary, Allegheny, beginning at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and continuing all day. The committee was created to arrange for two large conventions to be held simultaneously during the coming year. One has been fixed for Pittsburgh and Allegheny, with alternating sessions, and the other in some as yet unnamed western city. It will be the purpose of these conventions to present arguments along modern lines for the usage of psalmody and divine worship, to include all the doctrinal and practical aspects of the case.

The committee consists of the Rev. Dr. John McNaugher of Allegheny, as chairman; the Rev. Dr. James A. Reed of New York, the Rev. Dr. J. C. Taggart of East Liverpool, the Rev. Dr. Joseph Kyle of Xenia, O., the Rev. Dr. D. R. Miller of Pittsburgh and the Rev. John A. Henderson of Allegheny. The conventions are expected to have an important bearing on future worship of the denomination, and all presbyteries of the church in America will have official representation at both conventions.

CLEVER CROOK GOT INTO CLUTCHES OF THE LAW

Harry Diehm's Ignorance of Pittsburgh Locations Leads to His Early Capture.

The arrest of Harry Diehm by Detectives Elmore and Seifert, yesterday, is said by Superintendent McQuaide and other police officials to be an important capture. Diehm is said to be one of the cleverest sneak thieves in the country, is known to the police of all the large cities, and but a short time ago was implicated in the theft of $3,800 worth of diamonds from a Detroit store. It is not understood here why he is at liberty and it is believed he is wanted by the Detroit police.

Harry Diehm.

Diehm's ignorance of locations in Pittsburgh lead to his arrest a few hours after his arrival here. He was walking up Sixth avenue when Elmore saw and recognized him. A short but pleasant chat ensued, Elmore finally saying, "Step right into this handsome building, Mr. Diehm. Superintendent McQuaide will be pleased to see you." Then he locked his arm in that of Diehm's.

"What place is this?" asked the prisoner.

Then he suddenly realized what was happening. With a lightning movement he freed himself and darted away. Elmore and Siefert followed, Diehm darted down an alley and when Elmore reached its entrance he began to rain bullets down the narrow thoroughfare. Diehm then stopped running and went along quietly.

Superintendent McQuaide and Elmore arrested Diehm on February 20, 1901. He was picked up as a suspicious person and was heavily fined. Then he went to Allegheny. Detective "Ted" Johnston came over yesterday and identified him. In addition to his Detroit job, McQuaide says Diehm was responsible for the murder of a policeman in Cincinnati. He is a companion of such well known crooks as Billy Barrett, "Australian Mac" and "Old Man" Harrison. The Cincinnati and Detroit authorities will be communicated with.

KISS PATIENT GOOD-BYE; CONTRACT HYDROPHOBIA

Braddock Pole Is Victim of Dread Disease and Fears for Family Are Felt.

John Czifrynik, a Slav, aged 35, died early yesterday morning at his home in Dooker's hollow, North Braddock, from hydrophobia, and his wife and six children are thought to have contracted the disease from kissing him. Czifrynik was bitten by a dog two weeks ago and no attention was paid to the wound. Last week he became ill and physicians were called and his illness pronounced hydrophobia.

Saturday last he became delirious and it was necessary to strap him to bed to prevent him committing violence. Czifrynik suffered untold agony and his wife and children, realizing that he would die, kissed him good-bye. The physicians, fearing they have contracted the ailment, are taking every precaution to prevent their conditions becoming serious.

Big Chorus for Sunday School Meet.

Under the direction of Benjamin Franklin Butts the large chorus of between 300 and 400 voices that will lead the singing at the coming convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association, will be given its first rehearsal this evening in the Sixth United Presbyterian church, Highland avenue. Additional rehearsals will be held Friday evening of this week and Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week.

Pale, thin, nervous, depressed, weak, tired out?

Ask your doctor about taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for this bad condition of your blood. If he says, "All right," then take it. If not, then don't take it. We feel perfectly safe, for we know what doctors say about this family medicine.

RUSSIAN MINISTER SHOWS HIS LIBERAL INTENTIONS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 4.—Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, the new minister of the interior, has already begun energetically the work of putting his published utterances into effect. Two assistant ministers of the department, who opposed the zemstvos, have been transferred to the inactivity of the council of the empire, and half a dozen of the late Minister Plehve's other lieutenants have already been displaced. M. Bunakoff and Dr. Mortinoff, two members of the committee on rural industry of the province of Voronetz, who were exiled into Siberia by Minister Plehve for having expressed liberal views, have been allowed to return to their homes.

Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky has also issued an order permitting the Woschol (Sunrise), a Jewish organ here, which Minister Plehve suppressed last spring, to resume publication.

WIDOW STRUCK MOTORMAN IN SUPREME COURT ROOM

Judge Then Discharged the Jury from Further Consideration of the Case and Adjourned Court.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, the widow of John T. Walsh, who was killed by a trolley car at Nutley last March, caused a commotion today in the supreme court at Newark, where her suit for $20,000 damages against the North Jersey Railroad Company was being tried.

Gordon T. McDermott, the motorman of the car that killed Walsh, had just finished his testimony when Mrs. Walsh beckoned him to come to her. When he was near enough she suddenly struck him a stinging blow in the face. Then she became hysterical and had to be led away to an adjoining room.

As soon as the woman had been removed Justice Gummere told the jurors they were discharged from further consideration of the case and adjourned the court.

Organizer Flynn In and Out.

Thomas H. Flynn, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, returned yesterday after spending several weeks touring Indiana in the interest of the organization. He addressed a meeting last night of the boilermakers and helpers, who have just formed a district council. A constitution and bylaws were adopted last night. Flynn will leave today for a trip through Ohio.

Sideache, Backache, Headache,

And many other aches to which women are peculiarly subject are generally the result of a diseased condition of the womanly organism. When this diseased condition is cured, sideache, backache, headache, etc., are cured also.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. When these diseases are cured the aches they cause are also cured.

"I will drop you a few lines to-day to let you know that I am feeling well now," writes Miss Annie Stephens, of Belleville, Wood Co., West Va., "I feel like a new woman. I took several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have no headache now, no backache, and no pain in my side any more. No bearing-down pain any more. I think that there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine. I thank you very much for what you have done for me—your medicine has done me much good."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps for expense of mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

GURNEY GAVE "LIFT" TO MAN WHO ARRESTED HIM

British Secretary Then Shielded Young Chauffeur Who Was His Guest.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LENOX, MASS., Oct. 3.—J. E. Schermerhorn of New York declared today his son, Amos Schermerhorn, was the driver of British Secretary Hugh Gurney's automobile, September 23, when Mr. Gurney was charged with violating the Stockbridge speed ordinance, and Sheriff Noble, who made the arrest, was being given a ride in the machine as an accommodation, when he apprised the automobilists they were exceeding the speed limit.

Mr. Schermerhorn gave out the information today in recognition, as he said, of the gallantry of Secretary Gurney in accepting the entire responsibility in the matter. His two sons, he said, both of whom are familiar with automobiles, were being entertained by Mr. Gurney, who personally does not care for fast driving, but was permitting the boys to test his machine.

As they were rolling along the highway at good speed, and officer stopped them with the information they were breaking the speed statute. He asked who the owner was, and Mr. Gurney replied that he was. The officer said it would be necessary for them to proceed to Stockbridge, and Mr. Gurney invited him to ride along with them.

On the way to town the officer, who was Deputy Sheriff Noble, pulled out his watch and said that they were again going faster than the law allowed. Mr. Gurney expressed regret if the law had been violated, and when informed that the deputy must take the names of those responsible, presented his card.

K. OF L. CASE UP TODAY.

Hays to File Answer to the Application for an Injunction.

John Fernau, district master workman of the Knights of Labor, left yesterday for Washington to attend a meeting of the executive board, preliminary to the injunction proceedings which will be heard in Washington today.

Simon Burns, who was adjudged the master workman of the K. of L., has asked for an injunction restraining Hays from issuing the K. of L. Journal and to restrain Hays from representing himself the master workman of the organization.

RUMORS OF RAISE IN PRICE OF GAS

The Philadelphia Company and Manufacturers Light and Heat Plan Advance.

SUPPLY HAS BEEN INCREASED

Rumors that there will be an increase in the price of natural gas in the Pittsburgh district, supplied by the Philadelphia Company and the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, have been started, and have gained considerable credence. Denial of knowledge of such intention was made by the presidents of the two companies last evening. The rumored new price for domestic gas is 27 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, without the present reduction from that price of 2 cents for prompt payment.

Both companies have made preparations to furnish to Pittsburgh and its environs more natural gas this winter than ever before. The Philadelphia Company has drilled a number of additional wells, both in Armstrong county, Pa., and in Lewis and Wetzel counties, W. Va. It has extended its West Virginia pipe lines also to reach more wells. There has been no need of additional pressure stations.

The Manufacturers Light and Heat completed last week its new pipe line to West Virginia, and on Sunday last made the tests. It worked satisfactorily. The line is partly 16-inch and partly 20-inch. It connects with the main line at Groveton, on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, near Coraopolis, and extends through Hickory, in Washington county, to Doddridge county, W. Va. Its total length is about 100 miles, and its cost exceeded $2,000,000.

With this line in service the company will be in a position to furnish far more gas and accommodate a largely increased number of consumers with an abundant supply. It is expected to be a large earner. The new line gives connection with over 100 wells and more are being drilled constantly. The company has been rushing this work in order to have it completed before the cold season, and the management feels considerable satisfaction in having accomplished it so well.

Four Killed and Fifty Hurt.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Four persons were killed and it is estimated that about 50 were injured, some of them fatally, in a railway accident near Llanelly, 15 miles southeast of Carmarthen, Wales, this afternoon.
